Gayer, John Wellstood Baker, 1975 South Glamorgan's Heritage David Martin Robinson, 1985-01-01 Glamorgan Heritage Coast, 197? Walks on the Heritage Coast and South Glamorgan Alistair Ross, 2015-04-01 A handy guide for 20 lovely varied walks 2 7 miles long on the Wales Coastal Path and inland areas in South Glamorgan Clear maps and interesting information about various locations along the route are included Sustaining Heritage Tony Gilmour, 2007 Sustaining Heritage chronicles a moment in the history of heritage conservation and has a particularly Australian focus Gilmour s thoughtful analysis informative case studies and conclusions provide some valuable insight and relevant messages Wales' 1000 Best Heritage Sites Terry Breverton, 2010-10-15 A uniquely accessible history of Wales through its landscape and built heritage Cultural Heritage in Asia and the Pacific Margaret G. H. Mac Lean, 1993-08-19 This book contains the proceedings of a five day symposium in September 1991 sponsored by the U S Information Agency organized by US ICOMOS and designed in consultation with the Getty Conservation Institute that focused on conservation issues in Asia and the Pacific with particular attention to policies and conditions specific to the region Two keynote papers by international experts explore legal aspects of cultural heritage protection and management of cultural sites Three background papers cover the legislation of the 15 nations represented regional professional training opportunities and tropical environmental conditions that challenge managers of sites and collections The discussion summary includes suggestions for enhancing conservation awareness legislative action and policy implementation Glamorgan Heritage Coast, 1976 Archaeological Dimension of World Heritage Alicia Castillo, 2014-04-08 This volume presents case studies from around the world aiming to serve as a hands on book for management and treatment of archaeological World Heritage properties It comprises not only sites inscribed as World Heritage due to their archaeological character but also World Heritage properties where the analysis of their archaeological dimension provides a deeper and better understanding of the assets and includes the potential for disseminating this knowledge The book has an important practical value since all the works presented here illustrate with practical examples the best and most appropriate ways to manage World Heritage properties The aim of the heritage managers at these World Heritage sites is to improve conservation and increase understanding and communication in such a way that the communities living in those sites or who earn a livelihood from them can be positively affected by these initiatives The book presents exemplary models of heritage management in World Heritage properties an issue not treated in depth up to now and Best Practices in this management Therefore this volume becomes a new original source presenting model strategies to be followed by other initiatives in order to improve the consideration and treatment of the most outstanding valued sites considered by UNESCO Heritage Politics in Adelaide Sharon Mosler, Sharon Ann Mosler, 2011 In the 1970s the Australian Commonwealth Government and three States Victoria 1974 New South Wales 1977 and South Australia 1978 passed legislation to protect the built heritage within their jurisdictions The legislation was primarily a response to two factors a large number of public protests against the demolition of historic buildings in all Australian states by the 1970s and the influence of the UNESCO World Heritage Convention which the Whitlam Government 1972-75 embraced enthusiastically The other states with governments that were more influenced by development interests were slow to follow the federal lead In this study Sharon Mosler examines heritage issues and conflicts in Adelaide from enactment of the first South Australian Heritage Act in 1978 to its successor in 1993 and also analyses issues leading from that period into the twenty first century State legislation introduced by the Labor government of Premier Mike Rann 2002 present has affected the built environment significantly since this book began The Rann government has given the built heritage a low priority in its strategic plan compared to population growth while the Adelaide City Council has become more balanced in the past decade although the council too has focussed on increasing Adelaide's population The result has been more high rise buildings at the expense of heritage conservation and historic precincts

The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2020 Stephen T. Garnett, G Barry Baker, 2021-12-01 The Action Plan for Australian Birds 2020 is the most comprehensive review of the status of Australia's avifauna ever attempted The latest in a series of action plans for Australian birds that have been produced every decade since 1992 it is also the largest The accounts in this plan have been authored by more than 300 of the most knowledgeable bird experts in the country and feature far more detail than any of the earlier plans This volume also includes accounts of over 60 taxa that are no longer considered threatened mainly thanks to sustained conservation action over many decades This extensive book covers key themes that have emerged in the last decade including the increasing impact of climate change as a threatening process most obviously in Queensland's tropical rainforests where many birds are being pushed up the mountains However the effects are also indirect as happened in the catastrophic fires of 2019-20 Many of the newly listed birds are subspecies confined to Kangaroo Island where fire destroyed over half the population But there are good news stories too especially on islands where there have been spectacular successes with predator control Such uplifting results demonstrate that when action plans are followed by action on the ground threatened species can indeed be recovered and threats alleviated

Approaches to the Governance of Historical Heritage Over Time Stefan Fisch, 2008 The five elements governmental authorities public discourse corporate and market interests citizens associations and international agencies may help in figuring out the complex and challenging purpose of the research work presented in this volume which is nothing less than the history of the governance of cultural and natural heritage in eleven countries from its outset to the present Speaking about governance is challenging The term has been vastly used and misused But today when the feverish popularity of the concept is probably in decline we rest with one solid conviction at least that social economic cultural and institutional processes are governed not only through government be it national or local with its legislative administrative and jurisdictional mechanisms but through a larger array of different actors and factors These include schools and universities citizens associations public opinion economic corporations non governmental organizations learned societies unions media international agencies clubs consultants etc In fact the reader is going to meet quite a few of these actors in this publication they are the unavoidable characters involved in the story the authors have set out to tell

Australian National Bibliography: 1992 National Library of Australia, 1988 Australia's Fossil Heritage, The Australian Heritage Council, 2012-07-18 The National Heritage List was created in January 2004 to recognise celebrate and protect places of outstanding heritage value to the nation National heritage encompasses those places that reveal the richness of Australia's extraordinarily diverse natural historic and Indigenous heritage One aspect of natural heritage that has been little explored is Australia's wealth of exceptional fossil sites While a small number of fossil sites have risen to public prominence there are many lesser known sites that have important heritage values The Australian Heritage Council engaged palaeontologists from state museums and the Northern Territory Museum and Art Gallery to compile lists of outstanding fossil sites and to document their characteristics and relative importance against a range of categories with a view to further our understanding about Australia's important fossil heritage Sites that were listed for National or World Heritage values were not included in the places for consideration with the focus being on lesser known but still important sites This book is an account of the palaeontologists findings Some of the sites that were included in the initial lists have since been recognised through listing on the National Heritage List or the World Heritage List Australia's Fossil Heritage provides a useful reference to the outstanding fossil sites it catalogues and gives a clearer understanding of the heritage values of such sites More generally it contributes to a greater appreciation of Australia's geological and fossil diversity and enables readers to learn more about Australia's prehistory

Industrial Heritage and Regional Identities Christian Wicke, Stefan Berger, Jana Golombek, 2018-04-09 Heritage is not what we see in front of us it is what we make of it in our heads Heritage sites have been connected to a range of identity projects both spatial and non spatial One of the most common links with heritage has been national identity This book stresses that heritage has developed powerful links to regional and local identities Contributors deal explicitly with regions of heavy industry in different parts of the world exploring non spatial forms of identity including class religious ethnic racial gender and cultural identities In many heritage sites non spatial forms of identity are interlinked with spatial ones Civil society action has been important in representations of regional identities and industrial heritage campaigns Region branding seems to determine the ultimate success of industrial heritage a process that is closely connected to the marketing of regions to provide a viable economic future and attract tourism to the region Selected case studies on coal and steel producing regions in this book provide the first global survey of how regions of heavy industry deal with their industrial heritage and what it means for regional identity and region branding This book draws a range of powerful conclusions about the path dependency of particular forms for post industrial regional identity in former regions of heavy industry It highlights both commonalities and differences in the strategies employed with regard to the regions industrial heritage This book will appeal to lecturers students and scholars in the fields of heritage management industrial studies and cultural geography The History Highway Dennis A.
