South Shore Phrase Nova Scotia Dictionary:

South Shore Phrase Book Lewis Poteet, 2004-02 Collected from the talk of the people who live along Nova Scotia's South Shore from Halifax to Yarmouth on the Atlantic shore this book is a lively guide to the unusual way they speak It is both very old including words and phrases spoken but not written down since before Chaucer and in a lively way new and elaborate like the original complete version of happy as a clam It provides a guide to the life and character of these resilient fisher and farm folk The work is illustrated with old photographs from the region and it includes scholarly appendices on Elizabethan English on Nova Scotia's South Shore and Rough Measure in Maritime Dialect Research the latter written with Jacqueline Baum The language will bring back vivid memories to those who have visited this scenic Maritime place and attract those who have not to do so As the record of a limited speech community it may help students of English as a Second Language It has been used by novelists playwrights and poets including Robert MacNeil of the MacNeil Lehrer Newshour Canada's prolific dramatist Paul LeDoux and George Elliott Clarke a much honored black Canadian poet to give authentic flavor to their works It will bring joy and insight to all who love language The Second South Shore Phrase Book Lewis J.

Poteet, 1985 Dictionary of Prince Edward Island English Terry Kenneth Pratt, 1996-01-01 Strupac fornentst trappy sciss kippy snool flying axehandles from across these and hundreds of other fascinating and colourful words and phrases give the English language as it has been spoken in Canada's smallest province a flavour all its own With the Dictionary of Prince Edward Island English T K Pratt makes a major scholarly contribution to the growing list of regional dictionaries that enable us to discover the rich heritage of the language as spoken throughout North America at the same time it offers a splendid general introduction to the historical and sociological life of the island There are approximately 1000 entries of non standard or dialect words past and present The notes deal with usage pronunciation alternate forms and spellings and stylistic and regional labels Entries include definitions supportive quotations from P E I sources editorial notes about various subtleties and dictionary notes which provide links to some thirty five other dictionaries Pratt's introduction defines the criteria for inclusion of words explains his research methods and outlines the layout of entries The end matter includes a bibliography and an important sociolinguistic essay The Dictionary in Profile which places the work in the broader context of Prince Edward Island speech Its range and depth of coverage make this an essential work not only for those concerned with P E I and Maritimes studies but for all those interested in the regional usage of English New-Dialect Formation in Canada Stefan Dollinger, 2008-01-15 This book details the development of eleven modal auxiliaries in late 18th and 19th century Canadian English in a framework of new dialect formation The study assesses features of the modal auxiliaries tracing influences to British and American input varieties parallel developments or Canadian innovations The findings are based on the Corpus of Early Ontario English pre Confederation Section the first electronic corpus of early Canadian English The data which are drawn from newspapers diaries and letters include original transcriptions from manuscript sources and texts from semi literate writers While the overall results are generally coherent with new dialect formation theory the Ontarian context suggests a number of adaptations to the current model In addition to its general Late Modern English focus New Dialect Formation in Canada traces changes in epistemic modal functions up to the present day offering answers to the loss of root uses in the central modals By comparing Canadian with British and American data important theoretical insights on the origins of the variety are gained The study offers a sociohistorical perspective on a still understudied variety of North American English by combining language internal features with settlement history in this first monograph length diachronic treatment of Canadian English in real time

Baking as Biography Diane Tye,2010-08-10 A daughter s exploration of her mother s life as revealed through her baking Odysseys Home George Elliott Clarke,2017-06-22 Odysseys Home Mapping African Canadian Literature is a pioneering study of African Canadian literary creativity laying the groundwork for future scholarly work in the field Based on extensive excavations of archives and texts this challenging passage through twelve essays presents a history of the literature and examines its debt to and synthesis with oral cultures George Elliott Clarke identifies African Canadian literature's distinguishing characteristics argues for its relevance to both African Diasporic Black and Canadian Studies and critiques several of its key creators and texts. Scholarly and sophisticated, the survey cites and interprets the works of several major African Canadian writers including Andr  Alexis Dionne Brand, Austin Clarke, Claire Harris, and M. Nourbese Philip. In so doing, Clarke demonstrates that African Canadian writers and critics explore the tensions that exist between notions of universalism and black nationalism, liberalism and conservatism. These tensions are revealed in the literature in what Clarke argues to be paradoxically uniquely Canadian and proudly apart from a mainstream national identity. Clarke has unearthed vital but previously unconsidered authors and charted the relationship between African Canadian literature and that of Africa, African America, and the Caribbean. In addition to the essays, Clarke has assembled a seminal and expansive bibliography of texts, literature, and criticism from both English and French Canada. This important resource will inevitably challenge and change future academic consideration of African Canadian literature and its place in the international literary map of the African Diaspora.
