The Borderlands of Southeast Asia James Clad, Sean M. McDonald, Bruce Vaughn, 2011 As an academic field in its own right the topic of border studies is experiencing a revival in university geography courses as well as in wider political commentary Until recently border studies in contemporary Southeast Asia appeared as an afterthought at best to the politics of interstate rivalry and national consolidation The maps set out all agreed postcolonial lines Meanwhile the physical demarcation of these boundaries lagged Large slices of territory on land and at sea eluded definition or delineation That comforting ambiguity has disappeared Both evolving technologies and price levels enable rapid resource extraction in places and in volumes once scarcely imaginable The beginning of the 21st century's second decade is witnessing an intensifying diplomacy both state to state and commercial over offshore petroleum In particular the South China Sea has moved from being a rather arcane area of conflict studies to the status of a bellwether issue Along with other contested areas in the western Pacific and south Asia the problem increasingly defines China's regional relationships in Asia and with powers outside the region especially the United States Yet intraregional territorial differences also hobble multilateral diplomacy to counter Chinese claims and daily management of borders remains burdened by a lot of retrospective baggage The contributors to this book emphasize this mix of heritage and history as the primary leitmotif for contemporary border rivalries and dynamics Whether the region's 11 states want it or not their bordered identity is falling into ever sharper definition if only because of pressure from extraregional states This book aims to provide new ways of looking at the reality and illusion of bordered Southeast Asia

Islam and Citizenship in Indonesia Robert W. Hefner,2023-12-19 Islam and Citizenship in Indonesia examines the conditions facilitating democracy women s rights and inclusive citizenship in Indonesia the most populous Muslim majority country and the third largest democracy in the world The book shows that Muslim understandings of Islamic traditions and ethics have coevolved with the understanding and practice of democracy and citizen belonging Following thirty two years of authoritarian rule in 1998 this sprawling Southeast Asian country returned to electoral democracy The achievement brought with it however an upsurge in both the numbers and assertiveness of Islamist militias as well as a sharp increase in violence against religious minorities The resulting mobilizations have pitted the Muslim supporters of an Indonesian variety of inclusive citizenship against populist proponents of Islamist majoritarianism Seen from this historical example the book demonstrates that Muslim actors come to know and practice Islam in a manner not determined in an unchanging way by scriptural commands but in coevolution with broader currents in politics society and citizen belonging By exploring these questions in both an Indonesian and comparative context this book offers important lessons on the challenge

Singapore Michael D. Barr, 2018-12-13 Singapore gained independence in 1965 a city state in a world of nation states Yet its long and complex history reaches much farther back Blending modernity and tradition ideologies and ethnicities a peculiar set of factors make Singapore what it is today In this thematic study of the island nation Michael D Barr proposes a new approach to understand this development From the pre colonial period through to the modern day he traces the idea the politics and the geography of Singapore over five centuries of rich history In doing so he rejects the official narrative of the so called Singapore Story Drawing on in depth archival work and oral histories Singapore A Modern History is a work both for students of the country's history and politics but also for any reader seeking to engage with this enigmatic and vastly successful nation      War and Nationalism in South Asia Marcus Franke, 2009-01-21 This book presents and analyses the oldest sub national war of postcolonial South Asia between the Indian state and the Nagas of Northeast India It offers a serious and thorough political history on the Naga region over three periods pre colonial colonial and post colonial Drawing on a wealth of primary sources and comparative and theoretical literature Marcus Franke demonstrates that agency and identity formation are an on going process that neither started nor ended with colonialism Although the interaction of the local population with colonialism produced a Naga national lite it was the emergence of the Indian political class with access to superior means of nation and state building that was able to undertake the modern Indo Naga war This war firmly made the Nagas into a nation and that set them onto the road to independence War and Nationalism in South Asia fundamentally revises our understanding of the existing histories of the Nagas by exposing them to be influenced by colonial or post colonial narratives of domination Furthermore by placing the region into the longue dur e of state formation with its involved technique of imperial rule the book presents a new approach to the study of nationalism and war in South Asia in general This book will be of interest to students and scholars of politics history anthropology and South Asian studies A Dragon's

Head and a Serpent's Tail Kenneth M. Swope, 2013-04-29 The invasion of Korea by Japanese troops in May of 1592 was no ordinary military expedition it was one of the decisive events in Asian history and the most tragic for the Korean peninsula until the mid twentieth century Japanese overlord Toyotomi Hideyoshi envisioned conquering Korea Ming China and eventually all of Asia but Korea s appeal to China s Emperor Wanli for assistance triggered a six year war involving hundreds of thousands of soldiers and encompassing the whole region For Japan the war was a dragon s head followed by a serpent s tail an impressive beginning with no real ending Kenneth M Swope has undertaken the first full length scholarly study in English of this important conflict Drawing on Korean Japanese and especially Chinese sources he corrects the Japan centered perspective of previous accounts and depicts Wanli not as the self indulgent ruler of received interpretations but rather one actively engaged in military affairs and concerned especially with rescuing China s client state of Korea He puts the Ming in a more vigorous light detailing Chinese siege warfare the development and deployment of innovative military technologies and the naval battles that marked the climax of the war He also explains the war s repercussions outside the military sphere particularly the dynamics of intraregional diplomacy within the shadow of the Chinese tributary system What Swope calls the First Great East Asian War marked both the emergence of Japan s desire to extend its sphere of influence to the Chinese mainland and a military revival of China s commitment to defending its interests in Northeast Asia Swope s account offers new insight not only into the history of warfare in Asia but also into a conflict that reverberates in international relations to this day Art, Trade, and Cultural Mediation in Asia, 1600-1950 Raquel A. G. Reyes, 2018-12-12 This Palgrave Pivot explores the social and cultural impact of global trade at a micro level from around 1600 to 1950 Bringing together the collaborative skills of cultural social economic and art historians it examines how the diffusion of trade goods and objects affected people s everyday lives The authors tell several stories of the role played by a host of intermediaries such as apothecaries artisans and missionaries who facilitated the process of objects such as Japanese export lacquer ware and paintings of how diverse artistic influences came to be expressed in colonial church architecture in the Philippines of revolutionary changes wrought on quotidian tastes and preferences as shown in the interior decoration of private homes in the Dutch East Indies and of transformations in the smoking and drinking habits of Southeast Asians The chapters consider the conditions from which emerged new forms of artistic production and transfer fresh cultural interpretations and expanded markets for goods objects and images Asian Expansions Geoff Wade, 2014-10-17 Asia as we know it today is the product of a wide range of polity expansions over time Recognising the territorial expansions of Asian polities large and small through the last several millennia helps rectify the fallacy long held and deeply entrenched that Asian polities have been interested only in the control of populations not in expanding their command of territory In countering this misapprehension this book suggests that Asian polities have indeed been concerned with territorial control and expansion over time whether for political or strategic advantage trade purposes defence needs agricultural expansion or increased income through taxation The book explores the historical experiences of a set of polity expansions within Asia specifically in East and Southeast Asia and by examining the motivations mechanisms processes validations and limitations of these Asian territorial expansions reveals the diverse avenues by which Asian polities have grown The chapters draw on these historical examples to highlight the connections between Asian polity expansion and centralised political structures and this aids in a broader and more comprehensive understanding of Asian political practice both past and present Through these chapter studies and the integrative introduction the book interrogates key concepts such as imperialism and colonialism and the applicability and relevance of such terminology in Asian contexts both historical and contemporary Comparisons and contrasts with European historical expansions are also suggested This book will be welcomed by students and scholars of Asian history as well as by those with an interest in Asian interactions international relations polity expansion Asia Europe historical comparisons and globalisation Chapter 8 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Asian Population

History Ts'ui-jung Liu, James Lee, David Sven Reher, Osamu Saito, Wang Feng, 2001-05-10 The study of Asian historical demography has lagged behind that of its European and American counterparts for some time This volume serves to narrow the gap by drawing together material from scholars specializing in demography across the spectrum of Asian countries The collection divides into four parts and contains nineteen chapters covering issues on comparative perspective fertility disease and mortality and marriage and family The geographic coverage of the chapters is also wide extending from East Asia to South Asia with specific emphasis on Japan China Taiwan Indonesia India and Sri Lanka Authors focus on a whole range of social groups discussing how demographic issues affect and have affected both urban and rural dwellers from the seventeenth to the twentieth century This volume which is perhaps the first to bring together a number of in depth specialist studies on Asian population history should prove a useful and engaging tool for both students and academics in the fields of
