Southeast Asia Region In Transition:

Southeast Asia (Routledge Revivals) Jonathan Rigg, 2013-09-13 Southeast Asia A Region in Transition first published in 1991 is a contemporary human geography of the market economies of the region usually defined by membership of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Organized thematically the chapters deal with the environment and development plural societies agrarian change and urbanization This thematic approach provides a comprehensive picture of the ASEAN countries and gives a depth of coverage often lacking in other regional geographies With a detailed introduction dealing with the physical environment and history of the region this work will be of great value to students studying the human geography of Southeast Asia as well as those with a more general interest in the issues and developments affecting the ASEAN region

Southeast Asian Development Andrew McGregor, 2008-03-03 Southeast Asia has long fascinated development practitioners and researchers for being one of the few regions of the world that has resisted global trends to become a successful developing region Divided into accessible thematic chapters this book adopts a unique perspective of equitable development to outline the strengths and weaknesses of the transformations taking place in the Southeast Asian region Focusing on four key themes equality and inequality political freedom and opportunity empowerment and participation and environmental sustainability these concepts are used to explore Southeast Asian development and trace the impacts that the growing popularity of market led and grassroots approaches are having upon economic political and social processes Whilst the diversity of the region is emphasized so are some of the homogenizing trends such as the concentration of wealth and services in urban areas and the subsequent migration of rural people into urban factories and squatter settlements The ongoing commercialization and industrialization of rural agriculture as well as the expansion of non farm income earning opportunities in rural spaces and the alarming rates of environmental degradation which threaten health and livelihoods are also exposed In highlighting how Southeast Asian development is unevenly distributing wealth opportunities and risks throughout the region this book emphasizes the need for creative new approaches to ensure that benefits of development are equitably enjoyed by all Including illustrations case studies and further reading this book provides an accessible up to date introductory text for students and researchers interested in Southeast Asian development development studies Asian studies and geography

China's Challenges and International Order Transition Huiyun Feng, Kai He, 2020-01-30 China's Challenges and International Order Transition introduces an integrated conceptual framework of international order categorized by three levels power rules and norms and three issue areas security political and economic Each contributor engages one or more of these analytical dimensions to examine two questions 1 Has China already challenged this dimension of international order 2 How will China challenge this dimension of international order in the future The contested views and perspectives in this volume suggest it is too simple to assume an inevitable conflict between China and the outside world With different strategies to challenge or reform the many dimensions of international order

China's role is not a one way street. It is an interactive process in which the world may change China as much as China may change the world. The aim of the book is to broaden the debate beyond the Thucydides Trap perspective currently popular in the West. Rather than offering a single argument, this volume offers a platform for scholars, especially Chinese scholars vs Western scholars, to exchange and debate their different views and perspectives on China and the potential transition of international order.

Energy and Decarbonization in Southeast Asia, volume 2 Mirza Sadaqat Huda, Sharon Seah, Qiu Jiahui, 2025-05-27. Southeast Asia is poised to play a pivotal role in global energy decarbonization driven by its rapidly expanding economies and growing populations. However, the region remains heavily reliant on fossil fuels to meet its energy demand. Energy and Decarbonization in Southeast Asia delves into the critical research topics shaping the region's path towards sustainable energy transformation. From regional interconnectivity via the ASEAN Power Grid to advancements in solar and wind energy, carbon capture and storage, low carbon hydrogen, and green financing, this book provides a comprehensive exploration of innovative strategies and pressing challenges. Featuring contemporary case studies across three key themes: socio-economic and environmental challenges, technological and political pathways, and strategies to foster regional cooperation, this volume offers actionable insights for Southeast Asian policymakers, researchers, and practitioners. By addressing fundamental questions surrounding the region's evolving climate priorities, the authors present a forward-looking analysis of the energy sector's transition and its implications for the future.

Beni Suryadi, Acting Executive Director, ASEAN Centre for Energy. The volume captures very important political and economic nuances involved in transitioning from a heavy dependence on fossil fuels to renewable energy, resource nationalism, and the challenges involved in driving decisions to carry out cross-border trade between countries and the importance of understanding the role of energy financing in promoting the mitigation of greenhouse gases in Southeast Asia. An indispensable collection of articles for readers to quickly grasp many important energy issues all in one compendium.

Lee Poh Onn, Senior Fellow with the Regional Economic Studies Programme and Malaysia Studies Programme at the ISEAS Yusof Ishak Institute, Singapore. This compendium presents a detailed examination of decarbonization topics relevant to Southeast Asia, offering insights into the region's energy transition.

Thang Nam Do, Fellow in the Zero Carbon Energy for Asia Pacific Grand Challenge Program, the Resources, Environment and Development Program, Crawford School of Public Policy, Australian National University, Canberra.
