Southeast Asia Today Tomorrow Problems:

Southeast Asia Today--and Tomorrow Richard Butwell,1969 China and the Major Powers in East Asia A. Doak Barnett,2001-09-19 The foreign policy of the People s Republic of China has been dominated in recent decades by the problems of dealing with the other major powers in East Asia Although many ideological political and economic aims have shaped particular Chinese policies Peking s dominant concern has been national security Since the late 1960s its leaders have viewed the Soviet Union as the primary threat to China and have pursued a distinctive Maoist balance of power strategy against it China s post Mao leaders continue to give priority to strategic considerations and the problems of relations with the other major powers It cannot be assumed however that they will simply continue past policies The recent changes both within China and in the broad pattern of international relations in East Asia have created a new situation In this study A Doak Barnett analyzes in detail China s bilateral relations with the Soviet Union Japan and the United States He also examines the changing nature of the four power relationship in East Asia On this basis he discusses possible future trends in Chinese policy and the prospects for achieving a more stable regional equilibrium National Security Seminar Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.),1971 National Security Seminar, Background Readings Joint Chiefs of Staff,1971 National security seminar: background readings U.S. Industrial College of the Armed Forces,1972 The Rise And Demise Of Democratic Kampuchea Craig C Etcheson,2019-07-11 This study traces the rise of Kampuchean communism from its inception in 1930 to the present The author analyzes the socioeconomic and political conditions that brought Cambodia to an explosive stage in 1970 and documents the cataclysmic transformation that followed The protagonist in this ongoing historical drama is the revolutionary movement known as the Khmer Rouge or Red Khmers Their revolution was so ultraradical that even the communists were appalled The Soviets studiously ignored it the Chinese vainly tried to moderate it and the Vietnamese ultimately destroyed it In an attempt to explain the Khmer revolution one of the most violent in modern political history the author focuses on the ideology created by a key group of Khmer Rouge leaders The theoretical and historical significance of the Khmer revolution and the state of Democratic Kampuchea has received little attention from scholars and far too much of what has been written has been motivated by a bewildering array of ideological and geopolitical interests This book is one of the first to apply a systematic analytical framework to the creation growth and destruction of Democratic Kampuchea National Defense Resources Conference Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.),1970 Background Readings ,1970 Area Handbook for Thailand John William Henderson,1971 Defense Issues , Area Handbook for Burma John William Henderson,American University (Washington, D.C.).
