Southern African Plant Red Data Lists:

Southern African Plant Red Data Lists Southern African Botanical Diversity Network, 2002 Red Data List of Southern African Plants Craig Hilton-Taylor, 1996 Red List of South African Plants 2009 Domitilla Raimondo, 2009 Southern African Plant Red Data Lists Database, 2003 Database list of rare and endangered plants in southern Africa produced by the Southern African Botanical Diversity Network 1997 IUCN Red List of Threatened Plants World Conservation Monitoring Centre, 1998 This book represents the most comprehensive compilation of data on threatened vascular plants ever published It includes the names of some 33 000 plant species determined to be rare or threatened on a global scale Conservation assessments were provided by the IUCN Species Survival Commission the National Botanical Institute South Africa Environment Australia and CSIRO The Nature Conservancy the Smithsonian Institution and the Royal Botanic Gardens Kew together with hundreds of botanic gardens and botanists throughout the world The Royal Botanic Gardens Edinburgh and the New York Botanical Garden have made major in kind contributions The result of 20 years work by botanists and conservationists around the world it is intended as a conservation tool a provider of baseline information to measure conservation progress and as a primary source of data on plant species Most importantly however it provides the building blocks on which to base a worldwide effort to conserve plant species Medicinal and Aromatic Plants of the World - Africa Volume 3 Mohamed Neffati, Hanen Najjaa, Ákos Máthé, 2017-09-07 This volume in the series is devoted to Africa a continent that possesses a vast treasure of medicinal plants and has produced some exclusive materials for the world market This volume is expected to strengthen the medicinal plant sector in African countries by making comprehensive information on medicinal and aromatic plants available to policy makers and entrepreneurs It can be used to frame effective policies and create an environment conducive to the growth of the plant based medicine industry bringing economic benefit to African nations It will help health organizations to improve the health of their people by using their own resources and a less expensive system of medicine which is accepted by African society It could also lead scientific communities to increase R D activities in the field Underexplored Medicinal Plants from Sub-Saharan Africa Namrita Lall, 2019-11-07 Underexplored Medicinal Plants from Sub Saharan Africa Plants with Therapeutic Potential for Human Health examines a comprehensive selection of rarely explored plants that have been underestimated for their therapeutic value The book contains monographs of medicinal plants outlining their botanical description geographical distribution ethnobotanical usage chemical constituents sample and standard preparations and methods and pharmacological properties With expert contributors from South Africa Mauritius Seychelles Cameroon and Nigeria and the compilation of ethnobotanical taxonomic and pharmacologic information for each species this book is a valuable resource for researchers academics in pharmacology ethnopharmacology medicinal plant sciences and more Explores the therapeutic potential of a comprehensive selection of underexplored and underutilized medicinal plants in sub Sahara Africa Provides a summary table of structures of any known natural products including details of plant source chapter and observed activity e.g. anticancer, antibacterial. Includes contributions from experts from South Africa, Mauritius, Seychelles, Cameroon, and Nigeria. Plant Resources of Tropical Africa (PROTA) Dominique Louppe, 2008. A Field Guide to Tropical Plant Families Roland Keller, 2023-03-12. This book provides an identification system permitting recognition of plant families in all seasons by means of morphological and macroanatomical features which are easily observable such as bark exudates, stems and leaves characters. Studies of forest vegetation may differ in their underlying objectives but they all require taxonomic knowledge. The process of taxonomy begins with an inventory of the flora which has been based to a large extent on reproduction-related organs such as flowers and fruits. But those are often difficult to observe and may not exist in the field at a given time. Unlike most such guides or keys, this book can be used anywhere in the tropics and provides in a straightforward two or three-step process identification to the level of families which are now circumscribed according to molecular as well as morphological characters in the universally accepted scheme of the Angiosperm Phylogeny Group. Plant architecture is not a prerequisite theme for plant identification; however, we think that an introduction to this subject is not out of place in this book. Architectural traits are taxonomically sound; it is now time for botanists working in the tropics to have an idea on how the whole organism keeps growing. Within the family accounts, there is information concerning important economic plants, with notes on the larger genera and particularly helpful discussion of families readily confused and how to separate them. Descriptions of the families rely on short diagnosis bolstered by many photographic pictures, line drawings, and extracts from the author's field books, all showing features of plants as they are found in the forest. Taxonomy and Ecology of African Plants, Their Conservation and Sustainable Use Shahina A. Ghazanfar, Henk Beentje, 2006. Includes sixty research papers in separate sections on taxonomy, forests and forestry, phytogeography, ecology, and the conservation and sustainable use of African plants. An assessment of progress 2002 : the IUCN programme, 2003. Strategic Opportunism: What Works in Africa Brian John Huntley, 2023-02-28. This open access book provides a synthesis of six projects across ten countries, each of which have been sustained for two or more decades and which illustrate how success can be achieved regardless of systems of governance, of a nation's wealth, or of culture. Detailed narratives are presented on the key personalities that have conceived, conducted, and concluded long-term projects, personal stories of vision, failure, frustration, and persistence ultimately leading to success. The case studies vary widely in their geography and goals. The single-handed commitment to re-discover the last surviving populations of Giant Sable in the miombo woodlands of central Angola through the capture, translocation, and establishment of robust breeding herds of this magnificent antelope contrasts with the massively funded three-decade programme with over one hundred participants that reversed the annual loss to predation by feral cats of 455,000 seabirds from a sub-Antarctic island. Similarly, the foresight of Zimbabwean and Namibian ecologists to place rural communities at the centre of conservation programmes by giving value to wildlife populations and benefits to local people transformed a land degradation problem to a socio-ecological solution Across ten countries building capacity in botanical collection documentation and herbarium management expanded into a global project to place the knowledge base of Africa s flora onto an electronic data system accessible to researchers and conservation planners in even the most remote corners of the continent None of these projects enjoyed immediate results Each required leadership skills that combined vision a generosity of spirit fortuitous timing and the exploitation of unexpected opportunities

Wamukoya, Manene Thwala, 2017-10-18 Swaziland has a long history of conservation dating back to pre colonial and colonial times The government remains committed to wildlife conservation having enacted laws that protect wildlife and their habitat and created institutions to enforce those laws This commitment extends to the regional and international sphere where Swaziland is a party to various regional international instruments that ensure conservation of wildlife as well as facilitating wildlife law enforcement Despite all the government's efforts there are still gaps in the various laws that need to be addressed in order to ensure proper protection of wildlife in the country This analysis found that the wildlife laws are very fragmented leading to a fragmentation in the institutional framework Fragmented laws lead to overlapping legal provisions and lack of coordination and confusion in enforcement of those laws The laws are also very dated and do not address the current challenges facing wildlife The penalties for wildlife offences are quite low and this could be attributed to the fact that the laws were enacted when wildlife crimes had not yet escalated to the levels that we are witnessing today The laws also do not fully implement the international requirements of the instruments to which Swaziland is a party They do not for instance address organised crime and civil forfeiture of proceeds of crime Some or all of these challenges have led to wildlife crimes having a low profile in Swaziland and most often being treated as misdemeanours by the courts This review recommends that to address the challenges and strengthen wildlife legislation in Swaziland the profile of wildlife crimes in the country be raised so that they hold the same weight as other serious crimes the wildlife legislation be updated consolidated and harmonised the institutional framework be harmonised with clear coordination mechanisms the penalties for wildlife offences be enhanced a specific law criminalising organised crime be enacted and anti money laundering laws be updated to address civil forfeiture of illegal assets and proceeds of crime It is also recommended that local communities living next to protected areas be engaged and sensitised on the benefits of conservation and the repercussions of wildlife crimes
