Southern Africa The Lands And Their Peoples:

Southern Africa Stephen Chan, 1988-01-01 Text and photographs introduce the land and people of the ten nations in southern Africa     Land, People, and Forests in Eastern and Southern Africa at the Beginning of the 21st Century Liz Wily, Sue Mbaya, 2001     People and Land Jione Havea, 2019-11-06 Empires rise and expand by taking lands and resources and by enslaving the bodies and minds of people Even in this modern era the territories geographies and peoples of a number of lands continue to be divided occupied harvested and marketed The legacy of slavery and the scapegoating of people persists in many lands and religious institutions have been co opted to own land to gather people to define proper behavior to mete out salvation and to be silent The contributors to People and Land writing from under the shadows of various empires from and in between Africa Asia the Americas the Caribbean and Oceania refuse to be silent They give voice to multiple causes to assess and transform the usual business of theology and hermeneutics to expose and challenge the logics and delusions of coloniality to tally and demand restitution of stolen commodified and capitalized lands to account for the capitalizing touristy and forced movements of people and to scripturalize the undeniable ecological crises and our responsibilities to the whole life system watershed This book is a protest against the claims of political and religious empires over land people earth minds and the future     Philosophical Perspectives on Land Reform in Southern Africa Erasmus Masitera, 2020-11-27 This edited collection explores a variety of philosophical perspectives on land reform in Southern Africa Presenting an innovative focus on the philosophical themes in land reform the contributors reflect on traditional African conceptualisations of the land as well as Western interpretations introducing specifically Southern African approaches to a wide range of debates Rooted in questions of colonization and decolonization the chapters examine what reform ought to do for the people of Africa providing contemporary reflections on the different racial and cultural facets of the land Notably ideas of reconciliation compensation justice development emancipation Ubuntu and empowerment are explored Vigorous and interdisciplinary in their approach the fifteen original chapters tackle a range of questions such as What does land mean in Africa What ethical considerations are relevant Which mechanisms should be used in addressing injustice regarding land reform and redistribution Providing a comprehensive engagement with philosophical and political issues of land reform in Southern Africa this volume is an invaluable resource to scholars not only in Africa but wherever similar questions of land dispossession and justice arise     Land and Water Management in Southern Africa Calvin Nhira, Alfred Mapiki, Sello Patrick Rankhumise, 2008 The Southern African Development Community SADC and its Member States are making renewed efforts to revive agriculture in the region Given that much of it is water stressed appropriate and sustainable land and water management practices are vital to achieving this objective Recognising this SADC's Land and Water Management Applied Research and Training Programme has convened two scientific symposiums Held in Lilongwe Malawi in February 2006 the inaugural symposium brought together practitioners from 10 participating SADC countries to deliberate on land and water management for sustainable agriculture and discuss how the most recent research and development advances in land and water management might be made more relevant to policymakers as well as the region's small scale farmers. The edited contributions to this first symposium appear in this volume. The second symposium was held in Gaborone Botswana in February 2007 and brought together regional experts to discuss opportunities for improving water use and water use efficiency in agriculture in semi arid and arid areas. The edited contributions to the second symposium appear in a companion volume entitled Land and Water Management in Southern Africa Towards Better Water Use in Agriculture in Semi Arid and Arid Areas AISA 2008. It is hoped that these two volumes will help to disseminate regional expertise on land and water management to a wider audience thus helping policy makers and others to strengthen the agricultural sector in the region and in so doing improve its food security and the wellbeing of its people. Land, Liberation and Compromise in Southern Africa C. Alden, W. Anseeuw, 2009-10-29. This book analyzes the origins of the crisis in Zimbabwe and why it has had such a profound impact on both the land issue and democratic politics in the Southern African region. In doing so it contributes to the present debates around Mugabe neo imperialism and the stability in the region.

Land and Nationalism in Fictions from Southern Africa James Graham, 2011-01-13. By employing a range of critical perspectives cultural materialist feminist and ecocritical Graham investigates the relation between land and nationalism in South African and Zimbabwean fiction from the 1960s to the present. This study discusses a wide range of writing including novels by Coetzee Gordimer Head Hove and Vera. The Bantu-Speaking Peoples of Southern Africa W. D. Hammond-Tooke, 2024-02-29. First published in 1974 The Bantu Speaking Peoples of Southern Africa is a revised and rewritten version of I Schapera's ethnographical survey of the Bantu speaking tribes of South Africa. New South African contributors place on record all the known facts of the physical characteristics and traditional cultures of these peoples as well as documenting the important social cultural and economic changes that have occurred since the coming of the white man. This book will be of interest to students of anthropology sociology African studies and history. The Creation of Tribalism in Southern Africa Leroy Vail, 1991-01-07. Despite a quarter century of nation building most African states are still driven by ethnic particularism commonly known as tribalism. The stubborn persistence of tribal ideologies despite the profound changes associated with modernization has puzzled scholars and African leaders alike. The bloody hostilities between the tribally oriented Zulu Inkhata movement and supporters of the African National Congress are but the most recent example of tribalism's tenacity. The studies in this volume offer a new historical model for the growth and endurance of such ideologies in southern Africa. Futures for Southern Africa Steve Kibble, 2004. Indigenous Peoples' Rights in Southern Africa Robert K. Hitchcock, Diana Vinding, 2004. This book is concerned with the first peoples those people who are considered indigenous by themselves and others of southern Africa such as the San the Nama and the Khoi and their rights. Although living in democratic countries like Namibia South Africa Zimbabwe and Botswana and in principle sharing the same rights and responsibilities as the rest of the population practice shows that these peoples more often than not are at the margins of the societies in which they live they often face extreme poverty and they frequently are subjected to discriminatory treatment and exposed to all kinds of human rights abuses Robert K Hitchcock is professor of anthropology and geography at the University of Nebraska Lincoln USA He has done extensive research and development work in southern Africa in general and among San peoples in particular Diana Vinding is an anthropologist working with the International Work Group for Indigenous Affairs IWGIA in Copenhagen Indigenous Peoples' Wisdom and Power Julian Kunnie, Nomalungelo Ivy Goduka, 2006 xts across Africa Asia the Middle East North South America and Oceania

Conservation, Land Conflicts and Sustainable Tourism in Southern Africa Regis Musavengane, Llewellyn Leonard, 2022-05-11 This book examines the nexus between conservation land conflicts and sustainable tourism approaches in Southern Africa with a focus on equity access restitution and redistribution While Southern Africa is home to important biodiversity pristine woodlands and grasslands and is a habitat for important wildlife species it is also a land of contestations over its natural resources with a complex historical legacy and a wide variety of competing and conflicting issues surrounding race cultural and traditional practices and neoliberalism Drawing on insights from conservation environmental and tourism experts this volume presents the nexus between land conflicts and conservation in the region The chapters reveal the hegemony of humans on land and associated resources including wildlife and minerals By using social science approaches the book unites environmental scientific social and political issues as it is imperative we understand the holistic nature of land conflicts in nature based tourism Discussing the management theories and approaches to community based tourism in communities where there are or were land conflicts is critical to understanding the current state and future of tourism in African rural spaces This volume determines the extent to which land reform impacts community based tourism in Africa to develop resilient destination strategies and shares solutions to existing land conflicts to promote conservation and nature based tourism The book will be of great interest to students academics development experts and policymakers in the field of conservation tourism geography sociology development studies land use and environmental management and African studies Indigenous Peoples' Land Rights under International Law Jérémie Gilbert, 2007-03-23 This book addresses the right of indigenous peoples to live own and use their traditional territories A profound relationship with land and territories characterizes indigenous groups but indigenous peoples have been and are repeatedly deprived of their lands This book analyzes whether the international legal regime provides indigenous peoples with the collective right to live on their traditional territories Through its meticulous and wide ranging examination of the interaction between international law and indigenous peoples land rights the work explores several burning issues such as collective rights self determination autonomy property rights and restitution of land In assessing the human rights approach to land rights the book delves into the notion of past violations and the role of human rights law in providing for remedies reparation and restitution It also argues that there is a new phase in the relationship between States and indigenous peoples in the making of territorial agreements Based on its analysis of indigenous peoples land rights under international law this book proposes an original theory as regards the legal status of indigenous peoples It explores how indigenous peoples have been the victims of the rules governing title to territory since the inception of international law and how under the current human rights regime indigenous peoples have now gained the status of actors of international law Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint

Nationalism and National Projects in Southern Africa Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Sabelo J.,Ndhlovu, Finex,2013 Despite the fact that nationalism and its national projects have in recent years been severely criticised by postcolonial theorists for being fundamentalist and essentialist by feminists for being patriarchal and exclusive by global financial institutions for being antagonistic to development and globalisation by Pan Africanists for being anticontinental unity and by those Africans born after decolonisation for being irrelevant Sabelo J Ndlovu Gatsheni and Finex Ndhlovu s book convincingly argues that nationalism has defied its death and displayed remarkable resilience and resonance Since the end of the Cold War what has been poignant has been the enduring contest tensions and contradictions between the growth of various forms of transnationalism on the one hand and a resurgence of territorial as well as other narrow and xenophobic forms of nationalism on the other In this important book Ndlovu Gatsheni and Ndhlovu provide new critical reflections on nationalism and its national projects in southern Africa covering South Africa Zimbabwe and the Democratic Republic of Congo DRC a member of SADC The national question is interrogated from different disciplinary vantage points to reveal how it impinges on contemporary challenges of nation building development devolution of power language questions and citizenship on the one hand and ethnicity nativism and xenophobia on the other

Human Rights and Diversity David P. Forsythe, Patrice C. McMahon, 2003-01-01 The development and study of human rights have increased significantly over time and have seen an intensified interest at the dawn of the twenty first century Much can be learned about the status of universal human rights by approaching the subject from regional perspectives These diverse vantage points shed new light on the importance and complexity of the issues David P Forsythe and Patrice C McMahon have brought together a collection of essays from top scholars in their fields Each essay examines how a region as defined by geography or culture affects the standards and practice of human rights in a particular area The issues discussed include human rights and child labor in South Asia women s rights in Muslim states the prospects and challenges of human rights in the Middle East the role of women and tradition in Africa and accommodating diversity in Europe The collection also includes essays commenting on the parameters and intersections of international human rights in relation to area studies
