Chung,2005-11-01 This book investigates and analyses critical issues in education reform and discusses possible pitfalls in the current global drive to promote excellence Instead of documenting the successes and frustrations encountered by education reformers in specific jurisdictions this book aims to offer directions for education reformers and sets out to be prescriptive rather than descriptive While the cases covered here are focused on Hong Kong they are no less useful in throwing light upon the direction of education reform all over the world The first section of the volume Conceptual Framework provides the theoretical underpinnings for the design and implementation of education reform The next two sections Reform of Tertiary Education and Experiments Dilemmas and Risks in Secondary Schools look at reform at the tertiary and secondary levels in greater detail The final section Ideals vs Reality the Interplay of Diverse Interests and Diverse Perceptions looks at the conflicting goals and perceptions of different stakeholders with a concluding chapter that summarizes the main lessons to be learnt This book will be of interest to scholars educators parents policymakers politicians and all who are concerned about our younger generation and their future The editors Lok Sang Ho Paul Morris and Yue ping Chung are to be congratulated on producing a volume which is both hard hitting and insightful about education reforms in Hong Kong The range of experiences of the contributing authors contribute to a most interesting mix of perspectives about education reform The focus is squarely on Hong Kong in terms of general policy and reform issues followed by more specific chapters dealing with issues of graduate teachers English as a medium of instruction and the role of the media However the issues raised are very applicable to many countries This book is a valuable contribution to the literature on education reform Professor Colin J Marsh Curtin University Perth Western Australia Confucian Values and Popular Zen Janine

Anderson Sawada,2020-12-31 Although East Asian religion is commonly characterized as syncretic the historical interaction of Buddhist Confucian and other traditions is often neglected by scholars of mainstream religious thought In this thought provoking study Janine Sawada moves beyond conventional approaches to the history of Japanese religion by analyzing the ways in which Neo Confucianism and Zen formed a popular synthesis in early modern Japan She shows how Shingaku a teaching founded by merchant Ishida Baigan blossomed after his death into a widespread religious movement that selectively combined ideas and practices from these traditions Drawing on new research into original Shingaku sources Sawada challenges the view that the teaching was a facile merchant ethic by illuminating the importance of Shingaku mystical experience and its intimate relation to moral cultivation in the program developed by Baigan s successor Teshima Toan This book also suggests the need for an approach to the history of Japanese education that accounts for the informal transmission of ideas as well as institutional schooling Shingaku contributed to the development of Japanese education by effectively disseminating moral and religious knowledge on a large scale to the less educated sectors of Tokugawa society Sawada interprets the popularity of the movement as part of a general trend in early modern Japan in which ordinary people sought forms of learning that could be pursued in the context of daily life
