The Tao and the Daimon Robert C. Neville, 1982-01-01 The Tao and the Daimon examines a central theme in religious studies the question of the authority and authenticity of traditional religious faith and practice tao in light of the challenge from the spirit of critical reason Socrates daimon From a non judgmental historical standpoint it develops the dialectical relation between religion and rational inquiry Neville employs a philosophical system to set a task for reflection making it possible to see how Eastern and Western religious traditions differ overlap contradict and reinforce one another The central chapters are detailed studies of theologically interesting elements in Christianity Buddhism taoism and Neoconfucianism How can one judge of the higher truths of another religion without having practiced it Can the tao and the daimon after all be reconciled purely in the conceptual realm of speculative philosophy Neville recognizes the very real differences between conceptualizing and practicing and the very real differences in understanding that can result At the same time he transcends the problem by identifying and exemplifying in his own work speculative philosophy as a tao in itself a new locus of religious significance our own scholarly interpretation new creations of the holy out of practiced scholarly piety toward the old The Tao and the Daimon Robert Cummings Neville, 1983-06-30 The Tao and the Daimon examines a central theme in religious studies the question of the authority and authenticity of traditional religious faith and practice tao in light of the challenge from the spirit of critical reason Socrates daimon From a non judgmental historical standpoint it develops the dialectical relation between religion and rational inquiry Neville employs a philosophical system to set a task for reflection making it possible to see how Eastern and Western religious traditions differ overlap contradict and reinforce one another The central chapters are detailed studies of theologically interesting elements in Christianity Buddhism taoism and Neoconfucianism How can one judge of the higher truths of another religion without having practiced it Can the tao and the daimon after all be reconciled purely in the conceptual realm of speculative philosophy Neville recognizes the very real differences between conceptualizing and practicing and the very real differences in understanding that can result At the same time he transcends the problem by identifying and exemplifying in his own work speculative philosophy as a tao in itself a new locus of religious significance our own scholarly interpretation new creations of the holy out of practiced scholarly piety toward the old

Triangulating Religion, Belief, and Faith in the Twenty-First Century Bradford McCall, 2025-01-16 This book gives the reader the ability to make new inroads to understanding how faith belief and religion not only differ but also how they can contribute to comparative theology These three topics broadly covered herein can heighten the understanding of the Sacred by those who study them As to a few preliminaries what is faith Further what is belief Which one comes first in a person's journey toward the Sacred Moreover does religion factor into these two terms and if so where and how Does Augustine's well worn line faith seeking understanding mean anything today If it does would it mean belief comes prior to faith and or religion One can argue both sides of this debate and still be considered orthodox seemingly Perhaps it is the case that belief precedes faith most of the time but not all of the time Perhaps it is the other way around What exactly is the demarcation between belief and faith Many a person believes a thing to be true in their very bones such a stance borders on what is commonly referred to as faith Is religion the combination of belief and faith together into a coherent system of thought or is it emergent from the two existing as a separate mental or spiritual entity Explore these questions and more

The Cosmic Breath Amos Yong,2012-05-10 Recent thinking in the interfaith dialogue and in the theology science dialogue have taken a pneumatological turn The Cosmic Breath explores this pneumatological theology as unfolded in the Christian Buddhist dialogue alongside critical interaction with the theology and science conversation As an attempt in comparative and constructive Christian philosophical theology its central thesis is that a pneumatological approach to Buddhist traditions in further dialogue with modern science generates new philosophical resources that invigorate Christian thinking about the natural world and humanity s place in it The result is a transformation of the Buddhist Christian dialogue from insights generated in the theology and science interface and a contribution to the religion and science dialogue from a comparative theological and philosophical perspective

Teaching Mysticism William B. Parsons,2011-12-16 The term mysticism has never been consistently defined or employed either in religious traditions or in academic discourse The essays in this volume offer ways of defining what mysticism is as well as methods for grappling with its complexity in a classroom

Methodologies of Comparative Philosophy Robert W. Smid,2010-07-02 What is comparative philosophy This question is ultimately a methodological one according to this much needed book The cultivation of area studies in diverse traditions has opened up opportunities for cross cultural understanding that have rarely existed before and comparative philosophy is a rapidly emerging area of inquiry Yet surprisingly little has been written on comparative methodology in philosophy Of course there is much at stake in how we compare things how comparison is done determines what comparison is Author Robert W Smid provides a critical review of four of the most influential comparative methodologies within the American pragmatist and process philosophical traditions those of William Ernest Hocking F S C Northrop Robert Cummings Neville and David L Hall in collaboration with Roger T Ames Discussing the history of each methodology s development and critically assessing its strengths and weaknesses Smid demonstrates that it is possible to compare methods as well as traditions and encourages those interested to join the contemporary conversation Theology in Global Context Amos Yong, Peter G. Heltzel, 2016-10-06 Robert Cummings Neville has been a consistent advocate for the necessity of global theology Early in his career he realized that the philosophical framework of the West alone was inadequate for a truly global theology Since then he has sought to develop theology creatively and responsibly within the world context The original essays in this volume written in his honour by fellow theologians participate in and model the kind of dialogical global theology embodied in Neville s work C.S. Peirce and the Nested Continua Model of Religious Interpretation Gary Slater, 2015 This study develops resources in the work of Charles S Peirce 1839-1914 for the purposes of contemporary philosophy It contextualizes Peirce s prevailing influences and provides greater context in relation to the currents of nineteenth century thought Dr Gary Slater articulates a nested continua model for theological interpretation which is indebted to Peirce s creation of Existential Graphs a system of diagrams designed to provide visual representation of the process of human reasoning He investigates how the model can be applied by looking at recent debates in historiography He deals respectively with Peter Ochs and Robert C Neville as contemporary manifestations of Peircean philosophical theology This work concludes with an assessment of the model s theological implications The Divine Matrix Joseph A. Bracken, 2006-03-29 Dialogue among religions has always been challenging Today the questions are becoming more fundamental are the various traditions Buddhist Christian Hindu Tao even talking about the same thing when they speak of Nature of God Emptiness or Brahman The Divine Matrix represents a bold scholarly attempt to provide a framework for discussing these and other questions that will keep the interreligious dialogue project from grinding to a halt In The Divine Matrix philosopher and theologian Joseph Bracken first names the idea that the Infinite is the transcendent source and goal of human activity to be the notion common to virtually all the major world religions He suggests that the Infinite is prototypically experienced not as an entity but as an ongoing activity the principle of activity for all beings God included This idea is consistent with the notion of eternal and continuous motion in Aristotle with the act of being actus essendi in the theology of Thomas Aquinas and Meister Eckhart and with the ground of being of Schelling and Heidegger as well as with Whitehead s definition of creativity Bracken goes on to show that this idea is implicit in descriptions of Brahman in the Hindu Upanishads in the experience of pratyak samutpada dependent co arising in classical Buddhism and in descriptions of the Tao in Tao Te Ching and Chuang Tzu The Divine Matrix proposes that the Infinite thus identified be understood as a nondual reality an activity that does not exist in itself but only in the entities which it thereby empowers to exist This Bracken argues becomes the key to understanding ultimate reality within the different world religions
