Task, Talk and Text in the Operating Room Catherine Johnson Pettinari, 1988 Originally presented as the author's thesis Ph D University of Michigan 1985 under the title Medical action into surgical text Task, Talk and Text in the Operating Room Catherine Johnson Pettinari, 1988 Originally presented as the author's thesis Ph D University of Michigan 1985 under the title Medical action into surgical text The Discourse of Hospital Communication R. Iedema, 2007-02-06 Bringing together recent international research in the field of hospital communication and interaction the contributors to this book contextualize clinical professional work by focussing on the rising intensity of information and communication practices in organizations generally and in health care in particular Advances in Medical Discourse Analysis Maurizio Gotti, Françoise Salager-Meyer, 2006 The focus of this volume is on medical discourse a domain of language which deserves closer scrutiny by academics as well as practitioners due to its increasing relevance and pervasiveness in modern society Despite the wealth of publications dealing with specialized or academic discourse and its rhetoric few of these are devoted specifically to medical discourse This book seeks to redress the balance by bringing together a number of studies that bear witness to the widespread interest in medical texts shown by linguists and professional communities around the world The volume is divided into two main parts the first targets medical discourse in its spoken dimension while the second contains various analyses of written texts The theoretical perspectives and individual case studies presented here reflect the wide range of methodological approaches and theoretical issues that characterise current research in the field The Hidden Curriculum in Health Professional Education Frederic W. Hafferty, Joseph F. O'Donnell, 2015-01-06 The hidden curriculum HC in health professional education comprises the organizational and institutional contexts and cultural subtexts that shape how and what students learn outside the formal and intended curriculum HC includes informal social processes such as role modeling informal conversations and interactions among faculty and students and more subterranean forces of organizational life such as the structure of power and privilege and the architectural layout of work environments For better and sometimes for worse HC functions as a powerful vehicle for learning and requires serious attention from health professions educators This volume of interest to medical and health professionals educators and students brings together twenty two new essays by experts in various aspects of HC An introduction and conclusion by the editors contextualizes the essays in the broader history and literature of the field Talk, Work and Institutional Order Srikant Sarangi, Celia Roberts, 2008-12-10 No detailed description available for Talk Work and Institutional Order Handbook of Communication in Organisations and Professions Christopher N. Candlin, Srikant Sarangi, 2011-08-29 This volume presents major contributions of Applied Linguistics to the understanding of communications in the professions The first two parts of this book deal with the theoretical and methodological orientations of professional communication studies the history and development of professional communication studies highlighting the discursive turn of Applied Linguistic research that goes far beyond the established paradigm of Language for Specific Purposes The third part the core of this book presents research into professional practices from various domains e g law healthcare business and management organizations sites of engagement as e g lawyer client conference doctor patient interaction and with respect to different themes that are generalizable across domains and sites as e g communicative aspects of action and practice of assessment and appraisal In the final part professionals from various domains evaluate the contribution to their work so far made by Applied Linguistics

Dialogue and the Interpretation of Illness Robert Pool,2020-08-19 The etiology of the Wimbum people in the Western Grassfields of Cameroon is described through an examination of the way in which the meanings of key concepts used to interpret and explain illness and other forms of misfortune are continually being produced and reproduced in the praxis of everyday communication During the course of numerous dialogues witchcraft a highly ambivalent force gradually emerges as the prime mover As destructive cannibals or respectable elders the witches are the ultimate cause of all significant illness misfortune and death and as diviners they are also the ultimate judges who apportion moral responsibility Even the ancestors and the traditional gods turn out to be fronts behind which the witches hide their activities The study is on three levels a medical anthropological exploration of explanations of illness and misfortune a detailed ethnography of traditional African cosmology and witchcraft and an examination of recent theoretical issues in anthropology such as the nature of ethnographic fieldwork and the possibility of dialogical or postmodern ethnography Handbook of Constructionist Research James A. Holstein,Jaber F. Gubrium,2008-01-01 Constructionism has become one of the most popular research approaches in the social sciences But until now little attention has been given to the conceptual and methodological underpinnings of the constructionist stance and the remarkable diversity within the field This cutting edge handbook brings together a dazzling array of scholars to review the foundations of constructionist research how it is put into practice in multiple disciplines and where it may be headed in the future The volume critically examines the analytic frameworks strategies of inquiry and methodological choices that together form the mosaic of contemporary constructionism making it an authoritative reference for anyone interested in conducting research in a constructionist vein Writing in the Workplace Rachel Spilka,1993 An anthology containing 19 previously unpublished contributions some reporting on workplace writing studies completed since the mid 1980s and others introducing new arguments about research to date and future research directions Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR
