Speaking With Their Own Voices Jerzy Zdanowski,2014-06-12 This book presents an analysis of the slavery and manumission practiced in the Persian Gulf region in the first half of the 20th century It is unique as it exposes the life stories of several hundred slaves speaking with their own voices A striking aspect of the majority of studies on slavery is that they provide the reader with excellent statistics and describe the mechanism of enslavement the routes of slave trading and the economic and social conditions of enslaved people but slaves themselves generally remain anonymous The premise of this book is to give voice directly to the slaves by presenting in full length their statements made at the British Agencies in Kuwait Bahrain Muscat Sharjah and Bushire Altogether around 1 000 statements were made by slaves asking for manumission certificates and the analysis of these statements sheds light on various aspects of social economic and political life on the Arabian shore of the Gulf Given that it uncovers new aspects of the every day life of the Arabian Peninsula this book will also be of help to people of this region who are looking for their roots

The Claim of Dispossession Arie L. Avneri,2017-07-05 This study of the Israeli Arab conflict sheds new light on the historic background of the contemporary Palestinian problem Unlike other books that treat the political issues of this conflict this volume traces the spread of Jewish settlements over the seventy year period before the establishment of the State of Israel in order to see how it affected the existing Arab community's economy and its social and cultural institutions

The Sheikh's House at Quseir al-Qadim Katherine Strange Burke, 2021-04-30 This study of a thirteenth century dwelling on Egypt's Red Sea Coast draws on multiple lines of evidence including texts excavated at the site to reconstruct a history of the structure and the people who dwelt within The inhabitants participated in Nile Valley Red Sea Indian Ocean trade transported pilgrims sent grain to Mecca and Medina and wrote sermons and amulets for the local faithful These activities are detailed in the documents and fleshed out in the botanical faunal artifact and stratigraphic evidence from the University of Chicago's excavations 1978-82 This compound eventually consisted of two houses and a row of storerooms and became the center of mercantile activity at Quseir al Qadim Over time as the number of named individuals who received shipping notes addressed to the warehouse of Ab Mufarij increased living rooms and storerooms were added to accommodate this expansion of commerce While most merchants were dealing in textiles dates and grains additional commodities traded included perfumes gemstone decorated textiles resist dyed textiles and porcelains Specialist studies by Steven Goodman on the avian faunal remains and Wilma Wetterstrom on the macrobotanical finds reveal that the compound's occupants enjoyed a diet of chicken and Nile Valley produce such as grapes and watermelon and they were supplemented by high priced imports nuts and fruits from around the Mediterranean along with medicinal plants from as far away as India indicate the wealth and status of this family of merchants The evidence from this small portion of Quseir al Qadim yields a rich local story that is a microcosm of Nile Valley Red Sea Indian Ocean trade under the last Ayyubid sultans of Egypt

Informal fish retailing in rural Egypt: Opportunities to enhance income and work conditions for women and men Kantor, P.[Author]; Kruijssen, F.[Author], Poor rural consumers benefit from Egypt's aquaculture sector through access to small and medium sized farmed tilapia sold by informal fish retailers many of whom are women In fact informal fish retail is the main if not only segment of the farmed fish value chain where women are found This report aims to inform current and future strategies to improve conditions in informal fish retail by understanding in more depth the similarities and differences in employment quality and outcomes across different fish retailers It is particularly focused on identifying whether and how gender inequality influences different dimensions of the work and whether women and men have similar outcomes and employment conditions This knowledge will help to design interventions to overcome gender based constraints as well as approaches that address shared obstacles and include both women and men in gender responsive ways to ensure that all of those involved in the sector benefit
