Clements,Ruud A. de Mooij,Mr.Sanjeev Gupta,Mr.Michael Keen,2015-09-21 The sizeable increase in income inequality experienced in advanced economies and many parts of the world since the 1990s and the severe consequences of the global economic and financial crisis have brought distributional issues to the top of the policy agenda The challenge for many governments is to address concerns over rising inequality while simultaneously promoting economic efficiency and more robust economic growth The book delves into this discussion by analyzing fiscal policy and its link with inequality Fiscal policy is the government s most powerful tool for addressing inequality It affects households consumption directly through taxes and transfers and indirectly via incentives for work and production and the provision of public goods and individual services such as education and health An important message of the book is that growth and equity are not necessarily at odds with the appropriate mix of policy instruments and careful policy design countries can in many cases achieve better distributional outcomes and improve economic efficiency Country studies on the Netherlands China India Republic of Congo and Brazil demonstrate the diversity of challenges across countries and their differing capacity to use fiscal policy for redistribution The analysis presented in the book builds on and extends work done at the IMF and also includes contributions from leading academics Current Law Index ,2005 Government Finance Statistics Yearbook 2015 International Monetary Fund. Land Rights and Expropriation in Ethiopia Daniel W. Ambaye, 2015-02-13 This thesis provides a new approach to the Ethiopian Land Law debate The basic argument made in this thesis is that even if the Ethiopian Constitution provides and guarantees common ownership of land together with the state to the people this right has not been fully realized whether in terms of land accessibility enjoyability and payment of fair compensation in the event of expropriation Expropriation is an inherent power of the state to acquire land for public purpose activities It is an important development tool in a country such as Ethiopia where expropriation remains the only method to acquire land Furthermore the two preconditions of payment of fair compensation and existence of public purpose justifications are not strictly followed in Ethiopia The state remains the sole beneficiary of the process by capturing the full profit of land value while paying inadequate compensation to those who cede their land by expropriation Secondly the broader public purpose power of the state in expropriating the land for unlimited activities puts the property owners under imminent risk of expropriation
