Peter Nicholas Davies,2017-11-28 The author examines some of the issues arising from the recent introduction of contemporary English language into Anglican worship especially in the authorised liturgy of England and New Zealand Three key questions are addressed Are there criteria for worship which are satisfactorily fulfilled by contemporary language To what extent is the language used in modern liturgies truly contemporary reflecting its social and cultural milieu How has the introduction of contemporary language been received by regular Anglican worshippers Based on a large body of evidence the author reaches conclusions which are both reassuring and disturbing Theology as Threshold Emily Colgan,Jione Havea,Nasili Vaka'uta,2022-09-28 What thresholds of theology would we cross if we engage the aches and despairs wisdoms and hopes in and of Aotearoa New Zealand and the neighboring sea of islands What thresholds need to be jarred or moved threshold as opening probed and raised threshold as limit This book engages these questions in two parts re Locating Theological Studies contains essays that interrogate the purposes of theological studies locally and globally identify gaps due to the Western heritage and blind spots of traditional theology and provide examples of how those gaps may be bridged when local concerns are engaged Nativizing Theological Studies contains essays that present and engage the heritage and wisdom of tangata whenua indigenous native people of Aotearoa and Pasifika These essays reaffirm the native rhetoric with pride This collection of essays affirms that theological studies have a future and that there is a role for theologians in and from Aotearoa New Zealand and Pasifika to play in navigating into that future The New Imperial Order Makere Stewart-Harawira,2013-07-18 This important book discusses the political economy of world order and the basic ideological and ontological grounds upon which the emergent global order is based Starting from a Maori perspective it examines the development of international law and the world order of nation states In engaging with these issues across macro and micro levels the international arena the national state and forms of regionalism are identified as sites for the reshaping of the global politico economic order and the emergence of Empire Overarching these problematics is the emergence of a new form of global domination in which the connecting roles of militarism and the economy and the increase in technologies of surveillance and control have acquired overt significance In-Between Textiles, 1400-1800 Beatriz Marín-Aguilera,Stefan Hanß,2025-10-01 In Between

Textiles is a decentred study of how textiles shaped disrupted and transformed subjectivities in the age of the first globalisation. The volume presents a radically cross disciplinary approach that brings together world leading anthropologists, archaeologists, art historians, conservators, curators, historians, scientists and weavers to reflect on the power of textiles to reshape increasingly contested identities on a global scale between 1400 and 1800. Contributors posit the concept of in between textiles building upon Homi Bhabha's notion of in betweenness as the actual material ground of the negotiation of cultural practices and meanings, a site identified as the battleground over strategies of selfhood and the production of identity signs troubled by colonialism and consumerism across the world. In Between Textiles establishes cutting edge conversations between textile studies, critical cultural theory and material culture studies to examine how textiles created and challenged experiences of subjectivity, relatedness and dislocation that transformed social fabrics around the globe.

The Pacific Arts of Polynesia and Micronesia Adrienne L. Kaeppler, 2008-03-27. The Pacific Ocean covers one third of the earth's surface. Comprising thousands of islands and hundreds of cultural groups, Polynesia and Micronesia cover a large part of this vast ocean, from the dramatic mountains of Hawaii to the small flat coral islands of Kiribati. Including both traditional and contemporary arts, this book introduces the rich artistic traditions of these two regions, traditions that have had a considerable impact on western art in the twentieth century through the influence of artists such as Gauguin. Instead of looking at Polynesia and Micronesia separately, the book focuses on the artistic types, styles and concepts that they share, placing each in its wider cultural context. From the textiles of Tonga to the canoes of Tahiti, Adrienne Kaeppler looks at religious and sacred rituals and objects, carving, architecture, tattooing, personal ornaments, basket making, clothing, textiles, fashion, the oral arts, dance, music and musical instruments, even canoe construction, to provide the ultimate introduction to the rich and vibrant artistic cultures of the Polynesian and Micronesian islands.

The Oxford Handbook of Wetland Archaeology Francesco Menotti, Aidan O'Sullivan, 2013. This Handbook sets out the key issues and debates in the theory and practice of wetland archaeology, which has played a crucial role in studies of our past. Due to the high quantity of preserved organic materials found in humid environments, the study of wetlands has allowed archaeologists to reconstruct people's everyday lives in great detail.

Power of the Talking Stick Sharon J. Ridgeway, Peter J. Jacques, 2015-11-17. The Power of the Talking Stick makes the case that reaching back to the beginning of the nation state and all through the current period of corporate led globalisation, our governments and social institutions have been engaged in activities that will ultimately extinguish the world's ecological life support systems. This book offers an alternative, listening to indigenous leaders and others whose voices often go unheard in the din of contemporary culture. Sharon Ridgeway and Peter Jacques offer a stark warning, but their insights are firmly grounded in traditional knowledge and provide a way to see past the politics and rescue the earth. The Language of Mathematics Bill Barton, 2007-12-24 The book emerges from several contemporary concerns in mathematics language and mathematics education However the book takes a different stance with respect to language by combining discussion of linguistics and mathematics using examples from each to illustrate the other The picture that emerges is of a subject that is much more contingent much more relative much more subject to human experience than is usually accepted Another way of expressing this is that the thesis of the book takes the idea of mathematics as a human creation and using the evidence from language comes to more radical conclusions than most writers allow

A Most Indispensable Art James B. Petersen, 1996 This collection of essays chronicles the diversity and richness of one broad category of traditional material culture fiber industries or textiles among prehistoric and historic Native Americans in eastern North America. Such industries which include basketry, fabrics, cordage and netting played an important role in the economic, social and ceremonial life of indigenous cultures. However, because of the extreme age of the artifacts, their fragile nature and unfavorable preservation conditions, knowledge of these industries has long been incomplete, resulting in a gap in scholarship that this volume does much to address.

Archaeological Science Under a Microscope
Michael Haslam, Gail Robertson, Alison Crowther, Sue Nugent, Luke Kirkwood, 2009-07-01

These highly varied studies spanning the world demonstrate how much modern analyses of microscopic traces on artifacts are altering our perceptions of the past. Ranging from early humans to modern kings, from ancient Australian spears or Mayan pots to recent Maori cloaks, the contributions demonstrate how starches, raphides, hair, blood, feathers, resin and DNA have become essential elements in archaeology's modern arsenal for reconstructing the daily, spiritual and challenging aspects of ancient lives and for understanding human evolution. The book is a fitting tribute to Tom Loy, the pioneer of residue studies and gifted teacher who inspired and mentored these exciting projects.
