Self and Social Identity in Educational Contexts Kenneth I. Mavor, Michael J. Platow, Boris Bizumic, 2017-02-24 This innovative volume integrates social identity theory with research on teaching and education to shed new and fruitful light on a variety of different pedagogical concerns and practices It brings together researchers at the cutting edge of new developments with a wealth of teaching and research experience The work in this volume will have a significant impact in two main ways First and foremost the social identity approach that is applied will provide the theoretical and empirical platform for the development of new and creative forms of practice in educational settings Just as the application of this theory has made significant contributions in organisational and health settings a similar benefit will accrue for conceptual and practical developments related to learners and educators from small learning groups to larger institutional settings and in the development of professional identities that reach beyond the classroom The chapters demonstrate the potential of applying social identity theory to education and will stimulate increased research activity and interest in this domain By focusing on self social identity and education this volume investigates with unprecedented clarity the social and psychological processes by which learners personal and social self concepts shape and enhance learning and teaching Self and Social Identity in Educational Contexts will appeal to advanced students and researchers in education psychology and social identity theory It will also be of immense value to educational leaders and practitioners particularly at tertiary level English Language Teaching Lee McCallum,2022-08-11 This book provides an overview of current trends and practices in English Language Teaching ELT across the European Union It offers insights into key ELT issues which are at the forefront of twenty first century classrooms It discusses theoretical and empirical work based on topics such as linguistic imperialism English as a Medium of Instruction contrastive language analysis and the interplay between English and the use of countries respective native languages It also explores the challenges of English Language Teaching under different circumstances such as while using different technological platforms working with different learner groups those with Special Educational Needs and revising traditional practices in grammar and vocabulary teaching Throughout the book the link between policy theory and practice is explicitly highlighted and exemplified The book is of interest to ELT instructors course designers language teachers and teacher trainers and students enrolled in pre service English training courses Millennial Teachers Heidi L. Hallman,2016-10-04 Drawing on narratives of five beginning teachers Millennial Teachers explores the tensions in teachers young careers and how changing social economic and technological conditions of our current era both afford and constrain teachers identities and in contexts in which they work Examining case studies of beginning teachers Hallman draws a generational portraits of novice teachers and identifies the challenges inherent in transitioning from pre service teacher to in service teacher This book synthesizes these teachers views on a range of topics and provides an understanding of the evolving pressures and possibilities of future teachers of the millennial generation Constructing Capacities Patrick Alan Danaher,2013-02-14 Constructing Capacities Building Capabilities through Learning and Engagement explores several contemporary manifestations of individuals groups and communities participating in varying types of learning and thereby engaging effectively and productively with their contexts and environments in order to build and develop their multiple capacities

These capacities are seen as crucial to overcoming particular kinds of challenges and to attaining specific types of aspirations that are valued highly by the respective individuals groups and communities Despite this common valuing of constructing capacities we still know relatively little about how capacities can be built and enhanced in ways that are equitable sustainable and transformative Much of the literature highlights contextually specific factors that facilitate capacity building for particular groups of participants at specific times and that are founded on demonstrated principles such as understanding and engaging with those participants respective aspirations circumstances and needs Yet what works to develop capabilities in one context might not succeed in another context even with the same participants generating momentum and achieving scale and sustainability are often challenges when seeking to build capacities For all these reasons it is both timely and useful to extend contemporary understandings of capacities and how they can be constructed effectively and sustainably The 14 chapters in this book take up this challenge by presenting theoretically framed and rigorously researched accounts of successful capacity building in diverse educational settings clustered around four foci conceptualising and contextualising capacities constructing students and teachers capacities constructing workers capacities constructing researchers capacities These accounts generate new and important understandings of what capacities are how they can be constructed and supported and how they enhance positive outcomes for individuals and communities as well as nationally and globally

Change Matters sj Miller,David E. Kirkland,2010 Change Matters written by leading scholars committed to social justice in English education provides researchers university instructors and preservice and inservice teachers with a framework that pivots social justice toward policy The chapters in this volume detail rationales about generating social justice theory in what Freire calls the revolutionary process through essays that support research about teaching about the intersections between teaching for social change and teaching about social injustices and directs us toward the significance of enacting social justice methodologies The text unpacks how education spiritual beliefs ethnicity age gender ability social class political beliefs marital status sexual orientation gender expression language national origin and education intersect with the principles by which we live and the multiple identities that we embody as we move from space to space This book is critical reading for anyone who strives to cease inequitable schooling practices by conducting research in education to inform more just policies
