Teachers and Parents Robert Bruce Rutherford, Eugene B. Edgar, 1979 Handicapped Children and Mainstreaming James H. Hughes, 1985 Parents and Teachers of Children with Exceptionalities Thomas M. Shea, Anne M. Bauer, 1991 Communicating with Parents of Exceptional Children Roger L. Kroth, 1985 Comprehensive Classroom Management Vernon F. Jones, Louise S. Jones, 1990 Teacher-parent Collaboration Louise Porter, 2008 This important new book is a practical guide for teachers who want to improve relationships with the parents of their students It empowers them with the skills and confidence necessary for productive collaboration and addresses a range of issues that affect children s functioning and achievement Teacher Parent Collaboration presents jargon free and solution based approaches to collaboration which draw on the inherent strengths that all individuals have no matter how bleak their personal situation Helping Professionals Connect with Families with Handicapped Children Kathleen Devereux DeLuca, Sandra Cohen Salerno, 1984 Working with Parents and Families of Exceptional Children and Youth Richard L. Simpson, Nancy A. Mundschenk, 2010 Features First person narrative vignettes help to highlight the critical role collaborative relationships play in working effectively with parents and families of children and youth with exceptionalities Activities are provided at the end of each chapter to help the reader integrate and apply his her understanding of the material including role play exercises based on case studies presented in the appendices Straightforward and functional content that assists educators and related service personnel with knowledge and skill acquisition directly connected to effective collaboration with parents and families of children and youth with exceptionalities Integration of effective practice methods and current literature in an easy to understand albeit highly professional resource The primary theme of the fourth edition of Working with Parents and Families of Exceptional Children and Youth is that educators and related service professionals must be involved in helping parents and families to contend with the challenges of raising living with and educating a child who has an exceptionality This text retains its focus on developing critical knowledge and skills for conferencing and collaborating that springs from a strength based approach when working with families to develop responsive practitioners Additionally it offers professionals current evidence based methods and related resources for building knowledge and skill sets needed for effective parent and family involvement The text is organized in three sections 1 Part 1 begins with an overview of the historical and changing nature of the family It continues with specific strategies to establish trust and effective partnerships with parents and families of various configurations including those with different languages cultural practices lifestyles and values 2 Part 2 details methods to address parents concerns during initial conferences to report academic and social progress 3 Part 3 provides information on how to work with parents and families who are resistant to collaboration

Teachers Melinda Rogers, 1985 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1980 Subject Catalog, 1979 Library of Congress, 1979 Working with Parents and Families in Early Childhood Education Ute Ward, Bob Perry, 2020-05-21 This book reports initiatives to listen to parents and families to ascertain what families believe and do as they seek to engage collaboratively with their children's educators and what educators and educational systems might do to facilitate and or establish barriers to such engagement Parental engagement in children's learning and development has many positive benefits However in the current environments of accountability and performativity which are pervading early childhood education in many countries the opportunities for parents and other family members to be part of the development of respectful collaborative relationships with their children's early childhood educators are becoming more and more restricted Many educators feel forced to choose between curriculum outcomes and parental engagement as both involve their time There is a danger that the voices of parents and families in their children's early learning and development will not always be heard seen or fully understood This volume addresses this important issue Researchers educators and families will all benefit from this book to the ultimate benefit of the young children who are the future This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Early Childhood Education Research Journal Subject Catalog Library of Congress,1979
