Losing Face Ilana Krausman Ben-Amos, 2022-03-03 This book is a study of shame in English society in the two centuries between c 1550 and c 1750 demonstrating the ubiquity and powerful hold it had on contemporaries over the entire era Using insights drawn from the social sciences the book investigates multiple meanings and manifestations of shame in everyday lives and across private and public domains exploring the practice and experience of shame in devotional life and family relations amid social networks and in communities or the public at large The book pays close attention to variations and distinctive forms of shame while also uncovering recurring patterns a spectrum ranging from punitive exclusionary and coercive shame through more conciliatory lenient and inclusive forms Placing these divergent forms in the context of the momentous social and cultural shifts that unfolded over the course of the era the book challenges perceptions of the waning
