Philosophy As Fiction : Self, Deception, and Knowledge in Proust Joshua Landy Associate Professor in the Department of French and Italian Stanford University, 2004-07-21 Philosophy as Fiction seeks to account for the peculiar power of philosophical literature by taking as its case study the paradigmatic generic hybrid of the twentieth century Marcel Proust's In Search of Lost Time At once philosophical in that it presents claims and even deploys arguments concerning such traditionally philosophical issues as knowledge self-deception selfhood love friendship and art and literary in that its situations are imaginary and its stylization inescapably prominent Proust's novel presents us with a conundrum How should it be read Can the two discursive structures co-exist or must philosophy inevitably undermine literature by sapping the narrative of its vitality and literature undermine philosophy by placing its claims in the mouth of an often unreliable narrator In the case of Proust at least the result is greater than the sum of its parts Not only can a coherent distinctive philosophical system be extracted from the Recherche once the narrator's periodic waywardness is taken into account not only does a powerfully original style pervade its every nook overtly reinforcing some theories and covertly exemplifying others but aspects of the philosophy also serve literary ends contributing more to character than to conceptual framework What is more aspects of the aesthetics serve philosophical ends enabling a reader to engage in an active manner with an alternative art of living Unlike the essay Proust might have written his novel grants us the opportunity to use it as a practice ground for cooperation among our faculties for the careful sifting of memories for the complex procedures involved in self-fashioning and for the related art of self-deception It is only because the narrator's insights do not always add up a weakness so long as one treats the novel as a straightforward treatise that it can produce its training effect a feature that turns out to be its ultimate strength

The Mormon Delusion. Volume 5. Doctrine and Covenants - Deception and Concoctions Jim Whitefield,2012-02-15

Volume five in The Mormon Delusion series investigates the early Mormon Lectures of Faith comparing the doctrines of the time with the teachings of today which are entirely different It then analyses each Section of the Doctrine and Covenants while searching for Joseph Smith prophecies which are evaluated in terms of any evidence of fulfilment It will come as no surprise to learn that none have any prophetic value or merit whatsoever However there is plenty of evidence of Smith s fraud scattered throughout the D C which is analysed at each stage The Power of Deception Unveiled, and the Man of Sin Revealed, in an Analysis of the Book of Revelations. To which is Prefixed an Essay on the System of Man John JONES (of Chester County, Pennsylvania.),1829 Self-Deception Jacob Helffenstein,2015-11-13 These piercing statements apply to Christians because the natural mind is always tending toward deceptive self righteousness Also in part he is trying to provoke people who think they are Christians but are trusting in a refuge of lies to reconsider Some topics are intellectual assent is not holiness natural gifts and sentiments are not to be confused with true spiritual life adopting healthy habits is not necessarily spiritual repentance and zeal for a cause is not necessarily Christian devotedness The huge participation rate of all mankind in self deception should give one pause to reconsider these issues
