

MODULE 3: GOALS

Learn why there are two sides to
each court case (trial).

Who are the people in the courtroom and
what do they do?

What are general
courtroom
procedures?

Remind your client this is not a test!

Module 3: The Juvenile Justice System

This is what you want to teach your client in Module 3:

That the legal process is two-sided by design.

Trials in juvenile court are called trials both in practice and statute/rule.

At the trial, the client's defense attorney will tell the client's side of the story, the prosecutor will tell their side of the story, and the judge will decide if the prosecution has proved the charges.
(their side of the story).

At the trial, the judge determines whether the charges filed against the juvenile are proven, and if you are guilty or not guilty.

Review with the client the roles of the defense attorney and prosecutor, and introduce additional courtroom personnel and their roles in the courtroom.

Provide a basic overview of the general juvenile court process in order to help them become familiar with what to expect and to reduce their anxiety about participating in their own court proceedings.

KNOWLEDGE ASSESSMENT

To find out what your client already knows about this area, you must ask them the following questions BEFORE you begin the module. To determine how much they know, you will ask them the same questions after completing the module.

This is not a test and will not be graded! Reassure your client that answering these questions will help you understand how to help them better.

Ask each question clearly and slowly so your client understands what you are asking. You can repeat each question as many times as the client needs. Ask one question at a time and wait for the answer before moving to the next question.

The End of Family Court Jane M. Spinak, 2025-08-05 Explores the failures of family court and calls for immediate and permanent change At the turn of the twentieth century American social reformers created the first juvenile court They imagined a therapeutic court where informality specially trained public servants and a kindly all knowing judge would assist children and families But the dream of a benevolent means of judicial problem solving was never realized A century later children and families continue to be failed by this deeply flawed court The End of Family Court rejects the foundational premise that family court can do good when intervening in family life and challenges its endless reinvention to survive Jane M Spinak illustrates how the procedures and policies of modern family court are deeply entwined in a heritage of racism a profound disdain for poverty and assimilationist norms intent on fixing children and families who are different And the court s interventionist goals remain steeped in an approach to equity and well being that demands individual rather than collective responsibility for the security and welfare of families Spinak proposes concrete steps toward abolishing the court shifting most family supports out of the court s sphere vastly reducing the types and number of matters that need court intervention and ensuring that any case that requires legal adjudication has the due process protections of a court of law She calls for strategies that center trusting and respecting the abilities of communities to create and sustain meaningful solutions for families An abolitionist approach in turn celebrates a radical imagination that embraces and supports all families in a fair and equal economic and political democracy SNI National Criminal Justice Reference Service (U.S.), National Criminal Justice Reference Service (U.S.) ,1980 A comparative analysis of juvenile justice standards and the JJDP Act Robert W.
