Terminal iron works Rosalind E. Krauss, 1971 Sculpture of David Smith (the); terminal iron works R.E. Krauss, 1971 The Terminal Iron Works State University of New York at Albany. Art Gallery, Donald Mochon, American Federation of Arts, 1974 David Smith in Two Dimensions Sarah Hamill, 2015-01-31 How does photography shape the way we see sculpture In David Smith in Two Dimensions Sarah Hamill broaches this question through an in depth consideration of the photography of American sculptor David Smith 1906 1965 Smith was a modernist known for radically shifting the terms of sculpture a medium traditionally defined by casting modeling and carving He was the first to use industrial welding as a sustained technique for large scale sculpture influencing a generation of minimalists to come What is less known about Smith is his use of the camera to document his own sculptures as well as everyday objects spaces and bodies His photographs of his sculptures were published in countless exhibition catalogs journals and newspapers often as anonymous illustrations Far from being neutral images these photographs direct a pictorial encounter with spatial form and structure the public display of his work David Smith in Two Dimensions looks at the sculptor s adoption of unconventional backdrops alternative vantage points and unusual lighting effects and exposures to show how he used photography to dramatize and distance objects This comprehensive and penetrating account also introduces Smith s expansive archive of copy prints slides and negatives many of which are seen here for the first time Hamill proposes a new understanding of Smith s sculpture through photography exploring issues that are in turn vital to discourses of modern sculpture sculptural aesthetics and postwar art In Smith s photography we see an artist moving fluidly between media to define what a sculptural object was and how it would be encountered publicly Henry Moore, Sculpting the 20th Century Dorothy M. Kosinski, Henry Moore, Julian Andrews, Anita Feldman Bennett, Museum of Fine Arts (Dallas, Tex.), Dallas Museum of Art, Gail Davitt, Elizabeth Ann Brown, Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco, David Cohen, National Gallery of Art (U.S.), Steven A. Nash, Harriet F. Senie, Alan G. Wilkinson, 2001-01-01 Henry Moore 1898 1986 is arguably one of the most famous and beloved sculptors of the twentieth century yet in recent decades his work has fallen out of favor in the world of contemporary art criticism This handsome book examines this intriguing contradiction and seeks to reassess Moore s crucial contribution to art of the last century Looking at Moore s early engagements with primitivism his 1930s dialogue with abstraction and surrealism and his postwar interest in large scale public sculpture the authors show how the sculptor helped to define some of the most significant aspects of modernism The authors also contextualize within the polemics of early modernism Moore s emphasis on direct carving instead of modeling and the necessary balance between abstraction and what he called the psychological human element Moore s early sculpture largely unfamiliar to the general public is given particular attention enabling the reader to explore the evolution of thematic and formal elements in his work and his ongoing response to different materials Photographs some by Moore himself of over 120 works including plasters maquettes carvings bronzes and drawings are featured many of which

The Books that Shaped Art History: From Gombrich and Greenberg to Alpers and Krauss Richard Shone,John-Paul Stonard,2013-04-05 An exemplary survey that reassesses the impact of the most important books to have shaped art history through the twentieth century. Written by some of today's leading art historians and curators, this new collection provides an invaluable road map of the field by comparing and reexamining canonical works of art history. From mile M le's magisterial study of thirteenth-century French art first published in 1898 to Hans Belting's provocative Likeness and Presence: A History of the Image before the Era of Art, the book provides a concise and insightful overview of the history of art told through its most enduring literature. Each of the essays looks at the impact of a single major book of art history, mapping the intellectual development of the writer under review, setting out the premises and argument of the book, considering its position within the broader field of art history, and analyzing its significance in the context of both its initial reception and its afterlife. An introduction by John Paul Stonard explores how art history has been forged by outstanding contributions to scholarship and by the dialogues and ruptures between them.

What it Means to Write About Art Jarrett Earnest, 2018-11-27 The most comprehensive portrait of art criticism ever assembled as told by the leading writers of our time. In the last fifty years, art criticism has flourished as never before. Moving from niche to mainstream, it is now widely taught at universities, practiced in newspapers, magazines, and online, and has become the subject of debate by readers, writers, and artists worldwide. Equal parts oral history and analysis of craft, What It Means to Write About Art offers an unprecedented overview of American art writing. These thirty in-depth conversations chart the role of the critic as it has evolved from the 1960s to today, providing an invaluable resource for aspiring artists and writers alike. John Ashbery recalls finding Rimbaud's poetry through his first gay crush at sixteen. Rosalind Krauss remembers stealing the design of October from Massimo Vignelli. Paul Chaat Smith details his early days with Jimmy Durham in the American Indian Movement. Dave Hickey talks about writing country songs with Waylon Jennings. Michele Wallace relives her late night and early morning interviews with James Baldwin. Lucy Lippard describes confronting Clement Greenberg at a lecture. Eileen Myles asserts her belief that her negative review incited the Women's Action Coalition. And Fred Moten recounts falling in love with Renoir while at Harvard. Jarrett Earnest's wide-ranging conversations with critics, historians, journalists, novelists, poets, and theorists, each of whom approach the subject from unique positions, illustrate different ways of writing, thinking, and looking at art. Interviews with Hilton Als, John Ashbery, Bill Berkson, Yve Alain Bois, Huey Copeland, Holland Cotter, Douglas Crimp, Darby English, Hal Foster, Michael Fried, Thyrza Nichols Goodeve, Dave Hickey, Siri Hustvedt, Kellie Jones, Chris Kraus, Rosalind Krauss, Lucy Lippard, Fred Moten, Eileen Myles, Molly Nesbit, Jed Perl, Barbara Rose, Jerry Saltz, Peter Schjeldahl, Barry Schwabsky, Paul Chaat Smith, Roberta Smith, Lynne Tillman, Michele Wallace, and John Yau.
