Terracotta Lamps From Karanis Egypt Excavations Of The University Of Michigan:

Terracotta lamps from Karanis, Egypt : excavations of the University of Michigan Louise Adele Shier,1978 Soldier and Society in Roman Egypt Richard Alston,2002-09-11 The province of Egypt provides unique archaeological and documentary evidence for the study of the Roman army In this fascinating social history Richard Alston examines the economic cultural social and legal aspects of a military career illuminating the life and role of the individual soldier in the army Soldier and Society in Roman Egypt provides a complete reassessment of the impact of the Roman army on local societies and convincingly challenges the orthodox picture The soldiers are seen not as an isolated elite living in fear of the local populations but as relatively well integrated into local communities The unsuspected scale of the army's involvement in these communities offers a new insight into both Roman rule in Egypt and Roman imperialism more generally The Beautiful Burial in Roman Egypt Christina Riggs,2006-01-06 This important new study looks at the intersection of Greek and Egyptian art forms in the funerary sphere of Roman Egypt A discussion of artistic change cultural identity and religious belief foregrounds the detailed analysis of more than 150 objects and tombs many of which are presented here for the first time In addition to the information it provides about individual works of art supported by catalogue entries the study explores fundamental questions such as how artists combine the iconographies and representational forms of different visual traditions and why two distinct visual traditions were employed in Roman Egypt A Social Archaeology of Roman and Late Antique Egypt Ellen Swift,Jo Stoner,April Pudsey,2022 Artefact evidence has the unique power to illuminate many aspects of life that are rarely explored in written sources This book presents the first in depth study that uses everyday artefacts as its principal source of evidence to transform our understanding of the society and culture of Roman and Late Antique Egypt Material Evidence Robert Chapman,Alison Wylie,2014-12-05 How do archaeologists make effective use of physical traces and material culture as repositories of evidence Material Evidence takes a resolutely case based approach to this question exploring instances of exemplary practice key challenges instructive failures and innovative developments in the use of archaeological data as evidence The goal is to bring to the surface the wisdom of practice teasing out norms of archaeological reasoning from evidence Archaeologists make compelling use of an enormously diverse range of material evidence from garbage dumps to monuments from finely crafted artifacts rich with cultural significance to the detritus of everyday life and the inadvertent transformation of landscapes over the long term Each contributor to Material Evidence identifies a particular type of evidence with which they grapple and considers with reference to concrete examples how archaeologists construct evidential claims critically assess them and bring them to bear on pivotal questions about the cultural past Historians cultural anthropologists philosophers and science studies scholars are increasingly interested in working with material things as objects of inquiry and as evidence and they acknowledge on all sides just how challenging this is One of the central messages of the book is that close analysis of archaeological best practice can yield constructive guidelines for practice that have much to offer archaeologists and those in related fields A Research Guide to the Ancient World John M. Weeks, Jason de Medeiros, 2014-11-25 The archaeological study of the ancient world has become increasingly popular in recent years A Research Guide to the Ancient World Print and Electronic Sources is a partially annotated bibliography The study of the ancient world is usually although not exclusively considered a branch of the humanities including archaeology art history languages literature philosophy and related cultural disciplines which consider the ancient cultures of the Mediterranean world and adjacent Egypt and southwestern Asia Chronologically the ancient world would extend from the beginning of the Bronze Age of ancient Greece ca 1000 BCE to the fall of the Western Roman Empire ca 500 CE This book will close the traditional subject gap between the humanities Classical World Egyptology and the social sciences anthropological archaeology Near East in the study of the ancient world This book is uniquely the only bibliographic resource available for such holistic coverage The volume consists of 17 chapters and seven appendixes arranged according to the traditional types of library research materials bibliographies dictionaries atlases etc The appendixes are mostly subject specific including graduate programs in ancient studies reports from significant archaeological sites numismatics and paleography and writing systems These extensive author and subject indexes help facilitate ease of use The Oxford Handbook of Light in Archaeology Costas Papadopoulos, Holley Moyes, 2021-12-09 The first volume of its kind to address the impact and influence of light in different facets of archaeology from myth and ritual to houses and museum exhibitions Combines theory and methodology from archaeology anthropology architecture urban design art philology and computer science Arranged in a thematic structure based on uses of light in different spatial contexts to allow quick reference to specific aspects of light in archaeology Richly illustrated throughout Book jacket Roman Decorative Stone Collections in the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology J. Clayton Fant, Leah E. Long, Lynley J. McAlpine, 2024 At the turn of the twentieth century Francis W Kelsey began to amass a large collection of artifacts from ancient sites across the Mediterranean with an emphasis on Imperial Rome to broaden the teaching of antiquity at the University of Michigan Among the objects now housed in the museum that bears his name is a collection of seven hundred colorful stones dating to the Roman period one of the largest and most varied collections of Roman decorative stones outside Europe These pieces were obtained as archaeological artifacts mostly architectural with many deriving from well known ancient buildings such as the Baths of Diocletian in Rome and the Palace of Herod in Jericho allowing for new interpretations of their architectural decoration and design Chapters trace the formation of the collection study the archaeology of the artifacts and detail the history of each stone and its study with a comprehensive bibliography In keeping with the nature of the collection Roman Decorative Stone Collections focuses on archaeological contexts and object biographies from the stones first use to their eventual display in the Kelsey Museum Entries are accompanied by rich photographs detailing the stones appearances environmental factors and their collectors The fully illustrated catalog includes essays deriving from Kelsey s original notes on sources buildings sites and dealers As the first formal catalog of these items Roman Decorative Stone Collections is an accessible resource of Roman archaeology antiquities and the decorative arts Early Christianity at Amheida (Egypt's Dakhla Oasis), A Fourth-Century Church Nicola Aravecchia,2024-09-10 An archaeological historical and art historical study of a remarkable early church excavated at Amheida in Egypt s Dakhla Oasis Early Christianity at Amheida Egypt s Dakhla Oasis A Fourth Century Church Volume 1 The Excavations is an archaeological historical and art historical study of a remarkable basilica church excavated at Amheida in Dakhla Oasis This church excavated between 2012 and 2023 dates to the fourth century CE and therefore is among the earliest purpose built churches in Egypt It also contains one of the oldest if not the oldest excavated Christian funerary crypts in the country The church at Amheida thus offers a wealth of new data on early Christianity in Egypt particularly with respect to the earliest phases of Christian art and architecture and burial customs Aravecchia presents a systematic treatment of the stratigraphy building techniques materials features architecture decoration and finds of the church carefully contextualized in the early Christianity of the late antique Great Oasis and Egypt more broadly At Home in Roman Egypt Anna Lucille Boozer,2021-09-30 This book draws together a wide range of evidence across disciplines to show how the ordinary people of Roman Egypt experienced and enacted change The Journal of Egyptian Archaeology ,2015 Eternal Egypt Edna R. Russmann,2001 The book is published in conjunction with a traveling exhibition organized by the American Federation of Arts and The British Museum and drawn exclusively from the collection of The British Museum which is among the finest in the world Illustrated with images of the works in the exhibition as well as comparative materials Eternal Egypt is that rare book of interest and value to the general and scholarly audience alike BOOK JACKET Ancient lamps in the Royal Ontario Museum J. W. Hayes,2024-10-21 The City in Roman and Byzantine Egypt Richard Alston,2002-09-11 After Egypt became part of the Roman Empire in 30 BC Classical and then Christian influences both made their mark on the urban environment This book examines the impact of these new cultures at every level of Egyptian society Jewish and Christian Scripture as Artifact and Canon Craig A. Evans,H. Daniel Zacharias,2011-10-27 Jewish and Christian Scripture as Artifact and Canon constitutes a collection of studies that reflect and contribute to the growing scholarly interest in manuscripts as artifacts and witnesses to early stages in Jewish and Christian understanding of sacred scripture Scholars and textual critics have in recent years rightly recognized the contribution that ancient manuscripts make to our understanding of the development of canon in its broadest and most inclusive sense The studies included in this volume shed significant light on the most important questions touching the emergence of canon consciousness and written communication in the early centuries of the Christian church The concern here is not in recovering a theoretical original text or early recognized canon but in analysis of and appreciation for texts as they actually circulated and were preserved through time Some of the essays in this collection explore the interface between canon as theological concept on the one hand and canon as reflected in the physical artifactual evidence on the other Other essays explore what the artifacts tell us about life and belief in early communities of faith Still other studies investigate the visual dimension and artistic expressions of faith including theology and biblical interpretation communicated through the medium of art and icon in manuscripts The volume also includes scientific studies concerned with the physical properties of particular manuscripts These studies will stimulate new discussion in this important area of research and will point students and scholars in new directions for future work

The Insula of the Menander at Pompeii Penelope M. Allison,2007-01-04 This book contains catalogues analyses photographs and drawings of some 2 000 archaeological artefacts excavated from the Insula of the Menander in Pompeii The catalogues and analyses are organized by provenance buildings rooms and location within rooms so that the reader can understand the artefacts as household assemblages The functions of artefacts and groups of artefacts are discussed as are the Latin names which are often given to these artefacts and the relationships of these assemblages to the state of occupancy of the buildings in the Insula during the last years of Pompeii This study therefore provides a wealth of information not only on the range and use of artefacts in Pompeian houses but also on Roman artefacts and Roman society more generally

The Insula of the Menander at Pompeii Roger Ling, Penelope M. Allison, Paul R. Arthur,1997 The Insula of the Menander is one of the most completely excavated city blocks in Pompeii with buildings ranging from small shops to large aristocratic houses This volume the third in a series of five volumes examining the Insula is the first ever comprehensive study of the contents of Pompeian houses and buildings within their original contexts It provides a great insight into living conditions in Pompeii during the final years of the city

Neglected Architectural Decoration from the Late Antique City Solinda Kamani,2023-10-20 This book examines neglected architectural decoration from the late antique city of the East Mediterranean It addresses the omission in scholarship of discussion about the embellishment of non monumental secular buildings public porticoes small public baths shops workshops and non elite houses The finishing of these structures has been overlooked at the expense of more lofty buildings and remains one of the least known aspects of the late antique city The author surveys the archaeological evidence for decoration in the region with the maritime sites of Ostia and Ephesus selected as case studies Drawing upon archaeological written and visual sources it attempts to reconstruct how such buildings appeared to late antique viewers and investigates why they were decorated as they were
