Longstaff, 2002 A toolkit of basic principles to help those in business industry law and other professions deal with a constantly changing communications sector Although telephone cable broadcast print and Internet companies are changing at a fantastic rate the fundamentals of communications networks and competition have remained constant This book provides the tools necessary to build lasting flexible strategies to survive and grow in these times of transition Whether you are a business executive lawmaker policy analyst industrialist stock analyst lawyer or judge these tools will help you to solve real problems right away The toolkit contains six tools essentially ways to view the workings of the communications sector from a larger more inclusive perspective The tools draw on knowledge and concepts from communications engineering biology business and law Tool 1 New Building Blocks presents the big picture of the communications sector Tool 2 Networks develops the fundamental parts and processes found in all networks Tool 3 Competition and Cooperation presents the basic characteristics shared by most processes in which two or more entities compete or cooperate to obtain a scarce resource Tool 4 The Three Visions of Convergence sorts out the many things people

mean when they say convergence Tool 5 Convergence Theology shows how people's faith or lack of it in convergence influences their predictions for the future Finally Tool 6 Concentration Diversity focuses on the forces that drive things together and those that pull them apart The book also discusses how the tools can be used to understand and influence public policy issues

Neocybernetics and Narrative Bruce Clarke, 2014-09-15 Neocybernetics and Narrative opens a new chapter in Bruce Clarke's project of rethinking narrative and media through systems theory Reconceiving interrelations among subjects media significations and the social this study demonstrates second order systems theory's potential to provide fresh insights into the familiar topics of media studies and narrative theory A pioneer of systems narratology Clarke offers readers a synthesis of the neocybernetic theories of cognition formulated by biologists Humberto Maturana and Francisco Varela incubated by cyberneticist Heinz von Foerster and cultivated in Niklas Luhmann's social systems theory From this foundation he interrogates media theory and narrative theory through a critique of information theory in favor of autopoietic conceptions of cognition Clarke's purview includes examinations of novels Mrs Dalloway and Mind of My Mind movies Avatar Memento and Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind and even Aramis Bruno Latour's idiosyncratic meditation on a failed plan for an automated subway Clarke declares the era of the cyborg to have ended laid to rest as the ontology of technical objects is brought into differential coordination with operations of living psychic and social systems The second order discourse of cognition destabilizes the usual sense of cognition as conscious awareness revealing the possibility of nonconscious and nonhuman forms of sentience

Design Unbound: Designing for Emergence in a White Water World, Volume 1 Ann M. Pendleton-Jullian, John Seely Brown, 2018-12-04 Tools for navigating today's hyper connected rapidly changing and radically contingent white water world Design Unbound presents a new tool set for having agency in the twenty first century in what the authors characterize as a white water world rapidly changing hyperconnected and radically contingent These are the tools of a new kind of practice that is the offspring of complexity science which gives us a new lens through which to view the world as entangled and emerging and architecture which is about designing contexts In such a practice design unbound from its material thingness is set free to design contexts as complex systems In a world where causality is systemic entangled in flux and often elusive we cannot design for absolute outcomes Instead we need to design for emergence Design Unbound not only makes this case through theory but also presents a set of tools to do so With case studies that range from a new kind of university to organizational and even societal transformation Design Unbound draws from a vast array of domains architecture science and technology philosophy cinema music literature and poetry even the military It is presented in five books bound as two volumes Different books within the larger system of books will resonate with different reading audiences from architects to people reconceiving higher education to the public policy or defense and intelligence communities The authors provide different entry points allowing readers to navigate their own pathways through the system of books

Organisation Development James Traeger, Rob Warwick, 2018-04-16 There are many books on Organisational Development but to the reflective practitioner who is curious about their practice there can be a disconnect between the simplicity of theory and the often messy reality of practice Organisation Development A Bold Explorer s Guide explores the realities that they encounter in a way that gives practitioners hope that this is a shared experience in fact it is normal and that out of all of this progress can be made In exploring everyday interactions with their fascinating textures and details important clues for practice and theory can be found This book offers the opportunity to appreciate how events in which we are all involved are connected It is in the detail for example the corridor conversation with a senior director that things can be said that affect the lives of many Therefore organisation development never stops or starts It is a continuing series of interactions in which we have choices These choices are creative and artful as well as practical and ethical and the authors show how any of us might weigh these complex balances and move forward Organisation Development A Bold Explorer s Guide challenges the received building blocks of organisation development putting the curious reflexive individual at the heart of their own development It is written for those who are keen to develop their practice from the ground up and who are looking for inspiration to take their own experience seriously Aesthetics of Change Bradford P.

Keeney,2017-02-13 The fundamental concern of psychotherapy is change While practitioners are constantly greeted with new strategies techniques programs and interventions this book argues that the full benefits of the therapeutic process cannot be realized without fundamental revision of the concept of change itself Applying cybernetic thought to family therapy Bradford P Keeney demonstrates that conventional epistemology in which cause and effect have a linear relationship does not sufficiently accommodate the reciprocal nature of causation in experience Written in an unconventional style that includes stories case examples and imagined dialogues between an epistemologist and a skeptical therapist the volume presents a philosophically grounded ecological framework for contemporary clinical practice
