tension between workers and residents and hopes that bringing the problem out into the open will be a first step toward a solution You learn that the very arrangement of residential care automatically sets up antagonism between the sole group care worker and his her wards residents tend to resist the inherently coercive efforts of the worker who tries to bring them through processes of change and socialization The Occupational Experience of Residential Child and Youth Care Workers will make you think about residential care and conflicts group interaction career satisfaction and dissatisfaction interpretive sociology of education and its methodology social control Interviews with Israeli residential care workers are presented to help you understand the circumstances under which residential care providers experience discontent or job dissatisfaction You learn which workers are most likely to feel discontented and how staff members cope with the stress and discontent they experience Youth care workers policymakers child care staff recruiters supervisors and trainers will find this book sheds much light on the problem of discontent and the need to make child and youth care facilities more humane for residents and staff alike It will also help social work educators and researchers in sociology social work and the social psychology of education get in touch with what goes on inside the walls of residential care centers Revitalizing Residential Settings
