The Development Process A Spatial Perspective:

The Development Process Akin Mabogunje, 2015-12-14 Written from the perspective of developing countries this book discusses the development process from a spatial perspective focussing particularly on the evolution of the intra national space economy With emphasis on African nations this book offers a distinctive interpretation of the current situation and policy prescriptions differing significantly from previous literature in the area

The Development Process Akin L. Mabogunje, 1989 Regional Development and Its Spatial Structure Dadao Lu, 2024-02-20 This book describes the progress and prominent theories of regional development research in the past decades especially in the past decade discusses the industrial structure spatial structure resources and environment as well as a series of practical issues and reveals the general characteristics of spatial structure evolution in the process of regional development The research on the issues of regional development has become the frontier of relevant disciplines since the 1950s and much progress has been made in the process of solving practical problems in social and economic development This book provides an in depth and systematic demonstration of the point axis system theory of regional exploitation and development as well as the T shaped structure of China's regional economic action in theory and practice and discusses the impact of location differential rent restricted accessibility technological innovation etc on regional development theoretically This book is used as a reference for planning scientific research and teaching personnel in territorial expansion regional economy human geography etc

Development Theory and Practice Uma Kothari, Martin Minogue, 2001-10-30 This text provides a critical assessment of dominant features of development theory and practice in such areas as globalisation governance social development participation feminism and postcolonialism civil society environment and development management Each chapter addresses a particular approach within development by setting out the orthodoxy and critically evaluates this before engaging more constructively with the challenges presented by contemporary development This approach will give students a clearer understanding of the debates within development today

Rethinking Institutions, Processes and Development in Africa Ernest Aniche, Toyin Falola, 2021-10-18 African scholarship concerning the nexus between institutions and development is still dominated by the economic perspective of development despite the emergence of the humanistic perspective of development The humanistic perspective is a more embracing encompassing and comprehensive view of development than its economic counterpart and offers a better explanation of the African situation It is essential to examine the relationships between democratic political institutions and human development This collection examines democratic institutions and processes in post independence Africa The contributors examine the political institutional processes in post colonial Africa evaluating the workings of institutions such as education bureaucracy interest groups trade unions and problems of enforcements in Africa It also discusses the relevance of creative arts for political socialization as well as the role effects of privatization on service delivery in contemporary African societies

tourism in coastal regions of Southern Europe with implications for similar regions It provides a critical assessment of attempts to make mass tourism resorts more sustainable and the development of smaller scale alternative tourism products

The Transformative Development of Postcolonial Africa Annie Sylvie Beya Wakata, Siméon Fogue Kouam, Rosemary Tonjock Kinge, Télesphore Benoît Nguelefack, Aloysius Ngefac, 2024-04-15 This book provides an opportunity for the voices of pure and natural scientists to be heard on what can be done to pull Africa from its current developmental quagmire and bring about its transformative development characterized by hallmarks that challenge the traditional definition of development The following research questions and many more are answered in this book Which development vision addresses the multidimensional problems and crises plaguing postcolonial Africa Which context specific approaches and paradigms tackle some of the problems and re write the development story of Africa What is the role of pure and natural sciences in the project of rethinking and remaking Africa Transdisciplinary reflections from development experts and authors of different disciplines provide answers to these questions among others

Africa's Development in the Twenty-first Century Kwadwo Konadu-Agyemang, Martin Kwamina Panford, 2006 Having been under colonial rule for the first half of the century by 1965 all but a handful of African countries had regained their independence and were poised to take off into an era of development However Africa now suffers from the most acute form of underdevelopment anywhere in the world Bringing together a broad selection of case studies covering a wide range of key issues this volume provides a multidisciplinary exploration of Africa's development opportunities and challenges into the twenty first century

Political Ecology of African Peace Parks Maano Ramutsindela, 2025-11-06 Peace parks are imagined landscapes and seascapes created through narratives and science This book uses a political ecology framework to explore the colonial and uneven geography of peace parks in post independence Africa It illuminates the regional milieus impacting these parks and the consequent socioecological and political dynamics This book curates a space for multiple voices and knowledges of peace parks and highlights the limits to truth claims It presents peace parks as a milieu that enables the assemblage of underexamined concepts in political ecology The book advances four arguments The first is that critical scholarship on the peace parks initiative in Africa and elsewhere has been crowded out by a dominant and well sponsored narrative of these parks Second the ideology of peace parks capitalises on societal aspirations and challenges to wage the war of the mind Third peace parks are a geographical expression of coloniality The fourth argument is that the regional dynamics account for the uneven geography of peace parks in Africa These dynamics reveal the symbiotic relations between politics and ecology The founding of peace parks animates resource politics but also depoliticises the resource question Situated in the ongoing debates on protecting the planet in an unequal world and the pathways for a just society this book will be of interest to researchers of African studies political ecology human geography sociology environmental studies and political science

Environmental Management and Development Christopher J. Barrow, 2005 The environment and its management has been and continues to be a very topical issue Existing environment and development texts place emphasis is on listing problems making warnings and voicing advocacy but by focusing on environmental management this informative book offers a very different perspective Moving on from the usual much discussed viewpoints Barrow looks towards practical management and problem solving techniques He clarifies the definition nature and role of environmental management in development and developing countries beginning with an introduction to the key terms issues and tools of environmental management which are linked and developed in later chapters and concluding by discussing who pays for environmental management and its future in developing countries Written by an experienced and well known author this clear user friendly book ideal for students of resource management geography and development studies makes excellent use of chapter summaries boxed case studies annotated further readings and websites discussion questions and illustrations
