So Longe As There Comes Noe Women Origins Of English Settlement In Newfoundland:

So Longe as There Comes Noe Women W. Gordon Handcock, 1989 The principal objective of this book is to reconstruct and explain the patterns of migration from mainly the southwest and southern regions of England to Newfoundland virtually from their inception in the early seventeenth century and the related process of settlement formation that followed Pref Soe Longe as There Comes Noe Women W. Gordon Handcock, 2002 The English In Canada Historical 3-Book Bundle Lucille H. Campey, 2014-09-30 Lucille H Campey s acclaimed groundbreaking series on English immigration to Canada is finally available in a collected volume with this complete three book edition A must for genealogists and history lovers interested in the tremendous waves of English immigration to Canada whose story has never been told in its full depth and detail until now Planters Paupers and Pioneers English Settlers in Atlantic Canada The first ever comprehensive book written on early English immigration to Canada Planters Paupers and Pioneers focuses on the factors that brought the English to Atlantic Canada It traces English arrivals to their various settlements in Nova Scotia New Brunswick Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland and considers their reasons for leaving their homeland Who were they When did they arrive Were they successful And what was their lasting impact Drawing on wide ranging documentary resources this book is essential reading for individuals wishing to trace English and Canadian family links Seeking a Better Future The English Pioneers of Ontario and Quebec The exodus from England that gathered pace during the 19th century accounted for the greatest part of the total emigration from Britain to Canada And yet while copious emigration studies have been undertaken on the Scots and the Irish very little has been written about the English in Canada Drawing on wide ranging data collected from English record offices and Canadian archives Seeking a Better Future considers why people left England and traces their destinations in Ontario and Quebec Challenging the widely held assumption that emigration was primarily a flight from poverty Campey reveals how the ambitious and resourceful English were strongly attracted by the greater freedoms and better livelihoods that could be achieved by relocating to Canada s central provinces Ignored but not Forgotten Canada s English Immigrants The great exodus from England to Canada peaked in the early 20th century and although they were widely ignored in the past as an immigrant group the English are now being given the attention they deserve Drawing on wide ranging documentary and statistical sources Ignored but not Forgotten traces this major population movement on a region by region basis Campey reveals the outstanding contributions by English immigrants to Canada s settlement and development and challenges the assumption that English Canadians were a privileged elite In fact most came from humble backgrounds The book is essential reading for genealogists and general readers interested in why the English immigrated to Canada and the great scope of their achievements What critics are saying Campey s chapters are well written and hold the readers attention GenealogyMagazine.com A major addition to the literature for those looking for insight into their pioneer immigrant ancestor experience Anglo Celtic Connections Lucille Campey has distilled a copious amount of research informative and engaging The British Columbia Genealogist Ignored but Not Forgotten Lucille H. Campey, 2014-09-10 In her third and final book in the English in Canada series Lucille Campey provides an overview of the great exodus from England to Canada which peaked in the early twentieth century Drawing on wide ranging documentary and statistical sources Campey traces this major population movement on a region by region basis The Nature of Canada Colin M. Coates, Graeme Wynn, 2019-05-01 Intended to delight and provoke these short beautifully crafted essays enlivened with photos and illustrations explore how humans have engaged with the Canadian environment and what those interactions say about the nature of Canada Tracing a path from the Ice Age to the Anthropocene some of the foremost stars in the field of environmental history reflect on how we as a nation have idolized and found inspiration in nature even as fishers fur traders farmers foresters miners and city planners have commodified it or tried to tame it They also travel lesser known routes revealing how Indigenous people listened to glaciers and what they have to tell us and how even the nature we can't see the smallest of pathogens has served the interests of some while threatening the very existence of others The Nature of Canada will make you think differently not only about Canada and its past but quite possibly about Canada and its future Its insights are just what we need as Canada attempts to reconcile the opposing goals of prosperity and preservation

Twentieth-century Newfoundland James Hiller, Peter Neary, 1994 Twentieth Century Newfoundland Explorations brings together ten papers by eight well known historians of Newfoundland and Labrador The papers address a wide variety of subject matter and open many avenues for further research The book concludes with an extensive bibliography on the Newfoundland and Labrador in the Twentieth century This bibliography is organized by topic and will serve the needs of the general reader and specialists alike Twentieth Century Newfoundland Explorations highlight the scope and complexity of present day writing about the history of Newfoundland and Labrador James Hiller Professor of History at Memorial University and author of a number of articles on Newfoundland in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Peter Neary Professor of History at the University of Western Ontario and the author of Newfoundland in the North Atlantic World 1929-1949 1998 A Place to Belong Gerald L. Pocius, 2000 A Place to Belong is a profusely illustrated intimate contemporary portrait of Calvert a three hundred year old fishing village on Newfoundland's southern shore Often using its residents own words Gerald Pocius describes in detail the continual creative encounters between past and present between individual and community that make up daily life in Calvert By accepted standards of tradition Calvert's culture is declining Old structures are regularly torn down or renovated antique household items are replaced with modern conveniences Pocius argues however that the tangible expressions of a culture can be misleading Calvert's essence is not in the things owned and used by its residents but in the spaces in which those things abide and in the attitudes values and obligations that delineate the order of those spaces From woodlands water and fields to yards gardens and homes Calvert's physical and social structure is governed by shared concerns about the community's livelihood and welfare As a resident of Calvert puts it Where you re working in the same space with people you know it's just not practical to be falling out with everyone. The sense of community that pervades Calvert is best exemplified by its annual draw for fishing berths. Because productivity varies among offshore fishing grounds, there is no private ownership of fishing rights. Rather, a lottery instituted in 1919 ensures each family the same chances for periodic access to the best fishing berths. The draw continues until all the fishing berths are awarded, but it is common for a family to opt out once they have drawn enough good berths. There are also instances of the most successful fishing operations sharing their catches. From his observations of Calvert's people at work and leisure, Pocius provides evidence to confirm the viability and durability of their culture. He reveals that standard assumptions about culture are inadequate, particularly those based on the primacy of artefacts and on sharp dichotomies between tradition and modernity. Calvert, he shows, belies our notion that declining cultural values and social segmentation are unavoidable side effects of modernisation and a rise in material well-being. A Place to Belong will promote a constructive scepticism about the ways we perceive and interpret cultures and most important will remind us of what it really means to belong to a place.

Place Names of Atlantic Canada William Baillie Hamilton, 1996-01-01 Atlantic Canada covers the provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

Victorian Ecocriticism Dewey W. Hall, 2017-10-16

Victorian Ecocriticism: The Politics of Place and Early Environmental Justice aims to take up the challenge that Lawrence Buell lays out in The Future of Environmental Criticism: Environmental Crisis and Literary Imagination (2005). Buell decries: "For in order to bring environmental justice into ecocriticism, a few more articles or conference sessions won't suffice. There must be a fundamental rethinking and reworking of the field as a whole." (Buell, 113). While discussions about nature conservation and preservation have been important within the context of ecocriticism, Buell asserts that the holy grail for the field is actually how literary critics engage in discourse about questions of place as space humanized for the purpose of tracing, disclosing, and advancing the important issue of environmental justice as it applies to human beings, animals, and plants. The fundamental reworking or shift in the field of Victorian Studies really has to do with the dearth of ecocritical publishing about seminal authors and literary texts. Victorian Ecocriticism aims to participate in filling that vacuum, lack, or lacuna by featuring current research about the Victorian era from an ecocritical perspective. Victorian Ecocriticism hopes to identify, establish, and organize its content based on six themes: Ecocrisis, Ecofeminism, Ecogothicism, Ecohistoricism, Ecotheology, and Ecological Interdependence. The edited collection thus has two aims. First, selected places, among others featured in the edition, will provide environmental contexts, often with political implications: American rural landscape (e.g., Walden Pond), Australian mines, British hill country, metropolis, mill towns, the sea, and the woods. Second, the edition includes discussions about various instances of early environmental justice evident during the mid-nineteenth century, such as, but not limited to, anti-railway campaigns, biological egalitarianism, labor disputes due to adverse working conditions, patterns of displacement, reactions to Victorian scientism, resistance to enclosure, and working-class education. Victorian Ecocriticism is an interdisciplinary edition.

It focuses on Victorian literature as the foundational discipline linked to various disciplines such as ecology evolutionary biology natural history and soil science The topics are wide ranging significant and contemporary discussing the politics of place as well as early environmental justice      Contribution of Methodism to Atlantic Canada Charles H.H. Everts, 2016-02-27 Touching on the wide array of people and events who have brought life to the history of the Placentia area The Placentia Area A Changing Mosaic offers a glimpse of the deep history that has transformed this part of Newfoundland and Labrador The history is a collection of interconnected stories Geological processes forged a landscape that would feature in later actions and activities Geology created a wide expansive beach that Basque fish harvesters discovered was perfect for drying fish This attribute along with its deep harbour then ensured that Placentia would go on to function in the struggles between the French and English And from this period the Placentia area has evolved playing a role in the lives of well known characters such as Pierre le Moyne d'Iberville or Roger F Sweetman as well as the less known yet equally important women and men who simply came to make a life for themselves To the present day the latter has remained a defining quality of the region      Planters, Paupers, and Pioneers Lucille H. Campey, 2010-08-30 The first in a series of three titles on The English in Canada this book focuses on factors that brought the English to Canada tracing the English arrivals to the various settlements Drawing on wide ranging documentary resources this book is essential reading for individuals wishing to trace English and Canadian family links      War and Trade in Eighteenth-Century Newfoundland Olaf Uwe Janzen, 2017-10-18 This book offers a selection of papers by Olaf U Janzen concerning the maritime history of eighteenth century Newfoundland reprinted from various publications and assembled here in chronological order It explores themes of imperial dominance expressed by both the British and French empires in the struggle for sovereignty that ensconced the two nations The Newfoundland fishery in the wake of the Treaty of Utrecht was also source of tension between British and French fishermen due to the fishery's lucrative status. In attempt to integrate Newfoundland's maritime history into the wider context of the North Atlantic world it examines the struggles of France as their maritime trade went into decline the dominance of the British Royal Navy on the Atlantic Ocean the struggle of indigenous Canadians to migrate to Newfoundland and the efforts of America during the War of Independence to target the fishery when vulnerable. It consists of an introduction twelve chapters exploring pertinent themes and an appendix containing reprinted oil paintings of British artist Francis Holman depicting a naval engagement of 7-8 July 1777 involving numerous vessels.

The Fisherman's Cause Christopher P. Magra, 2009-04-06 This book examines why and how colonial fishermen and fish merchants mobilized for the American Revolution underscoring the pivotal maritime efforts that secured American independence.

Common People Alison Light, 2015-09-17 Family history begins with missing persons. Alison Light writes in Common People We wonder about those we've lost and those we never knew about the long skein that led to us and to here and to now. So we start exploring. Most of us however give up a few generations back. We run into a gap get embarrassed by a never-do-well or simply find our ancestors are less glamorous than we'd hoped. That didn't stop Alison Light. In the last weeks of her father's life she embarked on an attempt to trace the history of her family as far back as she could reasonably go. The result is a clear-eyed fascinating frequently moving account of the lives of everyday people of the tough decisions and hard work the good luck and bad breaks that chart the course of a life. Light's forebears servants sailors farm workers were among the poorest traveling the country looking for work they left few lasting marks on the world. But through her painstaking work in archives and her ability to make the people and struggles of the past come alive Light reminds us that every life even glimpsed through the chinks of the census has its surprises and secrets. What she did for the servants of Bloomsbury in her celebrated Mrs Woolf and the Servants Light does here for her own ancestors and by extension everyone's draws their experiences from the shadows of the past and helps us understand their lives estranged from us by time yet inextricably interwoven with our own. Family history in her hands becomes a new kind of public history.

Creating This Place Linda Cullum, Marilyn Porter, 2014-04-01 The twentieth century witnessed both the formation of Newfoundland as a self-conscious national entity and the construction of distinct and self-aware middle and upper classes in its capital city. This interdisciplinary collection examines the key roles played by women in the creation of this state and society and the essential influence that gender ethnicity and religion played in class relations. Shifting class relations were formed in the salient political events of the first half of the twentieth century in Newfoundland the First World War the suffrage movement the Great Depression the Second World War and finally Newfoundland's contested entry into the Canadian Confederation. Creating This Place shows how upper middle and working class worlds were established in the everyday work of women as well as the ways in which the complex social boundaries of the period were constructed. Individual chapters explore issues such as women's work in religious and voluntary institutions their struggle for voice suffrage and political change work of domestic servants and the construction of proper women and mothers through denominational education Creating This Place adopts an innovative perspective on Newfoundland and Labrador that focuses on the often overlooked lives of urban women Contributors include Sonja Boon Memorial University Linda Cullum Memorial University Margot Duley University of Illinois at Springfield Vicki Hallett Memorial University Jonathan Luedee doctoral candidate University of British Columbia Bonnie Morgan doctoral candidate University of New Brunswick Marilyn Porter emerita Memorial University Karen Stanbridge Memorial University Helen Woodrow Educational Planning and Design Associates and Harrish Press Publications From Migrant to Acadian N.E.S.
