South Asian Sufis Clinton Bennett, Charles M. Ramsey, 2012-03-01 Often described as the soul of Islam Sufism is one of the most interesting yet least known facet of this global religion Sufism is the softer more inclusive and mystical form of Islam Although militant Islamists dominate the headlines the Sufi ideal has captured the imagination of many Nowhere in the world is the handprint of Sufism more observable than South Asia which has the largest Muslim population of the world but also the greatest concentration of Sufis This book examines active Sufi communities in Pakistan India and Bangladesh that shed light on the devotion and deviation and destiny of Sufism in South Asia Drawn from extensive work by indigenous and international scholars this ethnographical study explores the impact of Iran on the development of Sufi thought and practice further east and also discusses Sufism in diaspora in such contexts as the UK and North America and Iran s influence on Mythologizing in South Asian Traditions Diana Dimitrova, 2025-04-11 This book deals with the issue of mythologizing in South Asian traditions. It brings together a number of essays dealing with the interface between mythology, gender, politics and nationalism. The common thread that links the chapters is the appropriation and reinterpretation of myth and its weaponizing for the purpose of power or political gain. All chapters explore the various aspects of the ongoing process of re-mythologizing of the present as revealed in South Asian traditions. The essays in this collection respond to the same question: how to interpret the present? What is the meaning of ancient and venerated myths today? What are the ideological implications of the interpretation of myths and how do they reflect and influence the power structures of contemporary societies in South Asia?

India as a Model for Global Development Mahmoud Masaeli, Rico Sneller, 2018-10-11 India is an emerging market economy and has been more successful than most other emerging economies. Key to this success are India's ancient legacy of consensus, democracy, non-violence, multi-culturality, tolerance, secularism and the practical simplicity of economic life inspired by Mahatma Gandhi. Also vital to India's present economy is the history of the country since the struggle for Independence began in 1857. India has followed a strikingly distinct route of development from other emerging economies such as South Korea, China, Malaysia, Brazil and Mexico. While these countries concentrated on manufacturing and exports, India grounded its economy on an integrative domestic system of life. This model is marked by interesting and gradual but constant growth with an emphasis on services. Reforms in land, agricultural system, political governance and financial management have led to a landmark stage of economic progress with India's GDP rate higher than many emerging market economies. This volume explores the reasons why India has fared better than other emerging market economies and whether other countries can take inspiration from this model and rebuild their own countries based on their national resources, cultural heritage and the capacity to interact globally.

The Modern Spirit of Asia Peter van der Veer, 2013-10-27 A comparative look at religion and spirituality in postcolonial China and India. The Modern Spirit of Asia challenges the notion that modernity in China and India are derivative imitations of the West, arguing that these societies have transformed their ancient traditions in unique and distinctive ways. Peter van der Veer begins with nineteenth-century imperial history, exploring how Western concepts of spirituality, secularity, religion and magic were used to translate the traditions of India and China. He traces how modern Western notions of religion and magic were incorporated into the respective nation-building projects of Chinese and Indian nationalist intellectuals, yet how modernity in China and India is by no means uniform. While religion is a centerpiece of Indian nationalism, it is viewed in China as an obstacle to progress that must be marginalized and controlled. The Modern Spirit of Asia moves deftly from Kandinsky's understanding of spirituality in art to Indian yoga and Chinese qi gong, from modern theories of secularism to histories of Christian conversion, from Orientalist constructions of religion to Chinese campaigns against magic and superstition and from Muslim Kashmir to Muslim Xinjiang.

Van der Veer an outspoken proponent of the importance of comparative studies of religion and society eloquently makes his case in this groundbreaking examination of the spiritual and the secular in China and India Cyclopaedia of India and of Eastern and Southern Asia, Commercial, Industrial and Scientific ,1873
