Spiritual Life A Of Reflections:

The Revised Spiritual Reflections of a Blackman David L. Cain, 2005-07-15 Originally published in 1997 David L Cain revisited the personal journals that inspired the The Spiritual Reflections of a Black Man The new insights pick up where the original left off and cover a variety of current events that include accepting our differences adopting high values dealing with adversity and making tough life choices By reflecting on life events spiritually we show God that we are ready to learn His promise of ask and it shall be opened unto you has never been and never will be broken We simply have to ask in the right context and since God is a Spirit then it stands to reason that the right context is spiritual Spiritual Reflections Doris Nickles, 2010-02 My book consists of a number of short writings based on the ability to communicate with spirit and how it has helped me to understand my journey through life and all its events I write of understanding natural law and the balance of nature personal responsibility and retributions in all doings I write of examples of how this understanding has helped me what I have discovered in being a positive person and living a positive life I also draw attention to healing energies and assisting self to heal the heart mind and soul Helping to direct a positive outlook on life and its events I feel anyone who reads my book will find they can identify in some way with the experiences I share and the messages derived from these writings Devout and explanatory reflections on important portions of God's word; or, A short sermon and a short song for every day in the year George Wyard, 1866 Aids to Reflection : And the Confessions of an Inquiring Spirit Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 2014 Aids to Reflection And the Confessions of an Inquiring Spirit If then it be our prerogative as rational beings and our duty as Christians to think as well as to act rationally to see that our convictions of truth rest on the grounds of right reason and if it be one of the clearest dictates of reason that we should endeavour to shun and on discovery should reject whatever is contradictory to the universal laws of thought or to doctrines already established I know not by what means we are to avoid the application of philosophy at least to some extent in the study of theology For to determine what are the grounds of right reason what are those ultimate truths and those universal laws of thought which we cannot rationally contradict and by reflection to compare with these whatever is proposed for our belief is in fact to philosophize and whoever does this to a greater or less extent is so far a philosopher in the best and highest sense of the word To this extent we are bound to philosophize in theology as well as in every other science For what is not rational in theology is of course irrational and cannot be of the household of faith and to determine whether it be rational in the sense already explained or not is the province of philosophy It is in this sense that the Work before us is to be considered a philosophical work namely that it proves the doctrines of the Christian Faith to be rational and exhibits philosophical grounds for the possibility of a truly spiritual religion The reality of those experiences or states of being which constitute experimental or spiritual religion rests on other grounds It is incumbent on the philosopher to free them from the contradictions of reason and nothing more and who will deny that to do this is a purpose worthy of the ablest philosopher and the most devoted Christian Is it not desirable to convince all men that the doctrines which we affirm to be revealed in the Gospel are not contradictory to the requirements of reason and conscience Is it not on the other hand vastly important to the cause of religious truth and even to the practical influence of religion on our own minds and the minds of the community at large that we should attain and exhibit views of philosophy and doctrines in metaphysics which are at least compatible with if they do not specially favour those views of religion which on other grounds we find it our duty to believe and maintain For I beg it may be observed as a point of great moment that it is not the method of the genuine philosopher to separate his philosophy and religion and adopting his principles independently in each to leave them to be reconciled or not as the case may be He has and can have rationally but one system in which his philosophy becomes religious and his religion philosophical Nor am I disposed in compliance with public opinion to limit the application of this remark as is usually done to the mere external evidences of revelation The philosophy which we adopt will and must influence not only our decision of the question whether a book be of divine authority but our views also of its meaning

Art History as a Reflection of Inner Spiritual Impulses Rudolf Steiner,2016-06-01 13 slide presentations Dornach Oct 8 1916 Oct 29 1917 CW 292 I am going to show you a series of reproductions of slides from a period in art history to which the human mind will probably always return to contemplate and consider for if we consider history as a reflection of inner spiritual impulses it is precisely in this evolutionary moment that we see certain human circumstances ones that are among the deepest and most decisive for the outer course of human history expressed through a relationship to art Rudolf Steiner Rudolf Steiner understood that the history of art is a field in which the evolution of consciousness is symptomatically and transparently revealed This informal sequence of thirteen lectures was given during the darkest hours of World War I It was a moment when the negative consequences of what he called the age of the consciousness soul which began around 1417 were made most terribly apparent In these lectures he sought to provide an antidote to pessimism After describing the movement of consciousness from Greece into Rome coupled with influences from the Orthodox East he showed how these influences transformed as the Middle Ages became the Renaissance The process that begins with Cimabue and Giotto develops deepens and becomes more conscious in the great Renaissance masters Leonardo Michelangelo and Raphael Then this movement continues with the Northern masters Dürer and Holbein as well as the German tradition One entire lecture is devoted to Rembrandt followed by one on Dutch and Flemish paintings Themes are woven together to show how past epochs of consciousness and art live again in our consciousness soul period Replete with interesting information and more than 600 color and black and white images these lectures are rich and dense with ideas enabling us to understand both the art of the Renaissance and the transformation of consciousness it announced These lectures demonstrate to paraphrase Shelley that artists truly are the unacknowledged legislators of the age Art History as a Reflection of Inner Spiritual Impulses is a translation from German of Kunstgeschichte als Abbild innerer geistiger Impulse GA 292 Rudolf Steiner Verlag 2000 Aids to Reflection, and The Confessions of an Inquiring Spirit Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 1884 Theological Reflection: Methods, 2nd Edition Elaine Graham, Heather Walton, Frances Ward, 2019-02-27 Theological Reflections Methods offers a comprehensive collection of models of theological reflection By bringing this diverse collection together in one place the editors create a unique reference work that allows a clear and visible contrast and comparison as each model is treated formally and in a standard format Throughout each chapter the distinguishing features of the model are examined the genealogy and origins are discussed worked examples of the model applied to contemporary theology are provided and critical commentary future trends and exercises and questions are provided Now firmly established as an essential text on theological reflection this new edition has been revised and updated with a new introduction updated examples and refreshed bibliographies Aids to Reflection Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 1850 Aids to Reflection Henry Nelson Coleridge, 1848
