Subconscious Through Hypnosis and Frequency: A Neuropsychospiritual Synthesis Dr. Nadia Aqila Shafika, 2025-08-22 What if the subconscious is not a mystery to be solved but an intelligence to be partnered with In Subconscious Through Hypnosis and Frequency A Neuropsychospiritual Synthesis Dr Nadia Aqila Shafika extends an invitation into a territory that is both rigorously scientific and profoundly intimate the uncharted landscape of the subconscious mind Compiled in 2018 and now formally presented in August 2025 this 47 page research journal is far more than a personal archive it is a landmark synthesis of hypnosis frequency research neuroscience psychology and spiritual inquiry Known to many as a novelist who debuted her adult fiction in 2023 Dr Shafika now fully steps into her doctorate title establishing herself as a leading voice in noetic studies Alongside her research partner Andrea Taylor she has earned thirteen distinguished awards for their pioneering contributions And even before publication this very journal was honored with its first award a recognition of both its originality and its impact At the heart of this work are two newly developed systems both announced in early August 2025 The Crown Intelligence Model a framework mapping how higher cognition interfaces with subtle energetic states offering profound clarity in both analysis and applied practice understanding your higher calling and the truest version of you The Throat Transmission Model a system decoding the subconscious mechanisms of expression truth and resonance with astonishing precision in real life applications Both models have already been tested and proven with remarkable accuracy establishing them as practical tools for both research and transformation But this journal is not theory alone Dr Shafika presents over twenty two real life cases each a study in how the subconscious communicates through body behavior and energy These cases range from the psychosomatic to the spiritual demonstrating how hypnosis and frequency can unlock repressed patterns heal somatic memory restore creative flow and reframe spiritual emergence not as disorder but as integration Structured across twenty two chapters the journal reads as both research and revelation It traces Nadia s personal journey beginning with a psychosomatic event in 2017 that sparked her inquiry into a disciplined yet exploratory method where energy is first experienced and then studied The work culminates in a neuropsychospiritual synthesis a framework where science and spirit are not adversaries but collaborators in understanding the vast intelligence of the human mind Two new applied systems the Crown Intelligence Model and the Throat Transmission Model that extend research into usable real world practice Dr Shafika writes with a voice that is equal parts clinical lyrical and visionary The result is not a sprawling academic tome but a distilled instrument compact in form yet expansive in depth Already recognized with awards prior to its release this journal affirms the subconscious not as an enigma to be dominated but as a living ecosystem to be understood honored and engaged with precision For clinicians researchers seekers and skeptics alike Subconscious Through Hypnosis and Frequency offers both compass and companion on the path to understanding the untapped intelligence within every human being
