Entangled Histories in Palestine/Israel Dafna Hirsch,2024-04-16 This edited volume offers a new critical approach to the study of Zionist history and Israeli Palestinian relations based on the encounter between history and anthropology Informed by the anthropological method of setting large questions to intimate settings the book examines processes of Zionist colonization nation building and Palestinian dispossession by focusing on encounters between members of different national religious and ethnic groups from below through paying close attention to life stories and reconstructing everyday practices and micro histories of places and communities Thus it tells a complex story in which the practices of historical actors are not simply reducible to a single underlying logic of colonization even as they participate in the production and reproduction of colonial structures This approach effectively undermines the prevailing tendency to study national communities in isolation projecting onto the past an essentialist and rigid separation Rather than assuming two clearly bounded and monolithic national groups caught from the start in perpetual conflict this volume probes their historical production through their evolving relationships and their varied and shifting political social economic and cultural manifestations The book will be of interest to students and researchers in an array of fields including the history of Israeli Palestinian relations anthropological perspectives on settler colonialism and Zionism

Neoliberalism as a State Project Asa Maron,Michael Shalev,2017-07-07 This book explores the politics institutional dynamics and outcomes of neoliberal restructuring in Israel It puts forward a bold proposition that the very creation of a neoliberal political economy may be largely a state project Correspondingly it argues that key political conflicts surrounding the realization of this project may occur within the state Neoliberal restructuring and the institutionalization of permanent austerity are dependent on reconfigured power relations between state actors and are manifested in a new institutional architecture of the state This architecture in turn is the context in which efforts to change social and employment policies play themselves out The volume frames the coming of neoliberalism in Israel as a set of concrete and far reaching changes in the power and modes of operation of the key players in the political economy These changes undermined and neutralized veto players and enabled the ascendance of two state agencies the Ministry of Finance and the Central Bank which gained greatly augmented authority and autonomy These reconfigurations were set in motion by state initiatives that combined punctuated and incremental change The volume comprises case studies of changes in specific social and labor market policies revealing a close elective affinity between programmatic neoliberal changes on the one hand and on the other the proactive drive of the Ministry of Finance to enhance its control over public spending and policy design The book explores successful neoliberal reforms but also reforms that were blocked undermined or overturned by opposition emphasizing the importance of reformers capacity to translate temporary achievements into entrenched strategic advantages

Democratic Citizenship and War Yoav Peled, Noah Lewin-Epstein, Guy Mundlak, Jean Cohen, 2014-06-03 This edited volume explores the theoretical and practical implications of war and terror situations for citizenship in democratic states Citizenship is a key concept in Western political thought for defining the individual's relations with society The specific nature of these rights duties and contributions as well the relations between them are determined by the citizenship discourses that prevail in each society In wartime including low intensity wars democratic societies face different challenges than the ones facing them during peacetime in areas such as human rights the status of minorities the state's obligations to its citizens and the meaning of social solidarity War situations can affect not only the scope of citizenship as an institution but also the relations between the prevailing discourses of citizenship and between different groups of citizens Since 9 11 and the declaration of the war on terror many democracies have been grappling with issues rising out of the interface between citizenship and war This volume examines the effects of war on various aspects of citizenship practice including immigration and naturalization the welfare state individual liberties gender relations multiculturalism social solidarity and state civil society relations This book will be of great interest to students of military studies political science IR and security studies in general

Israelis and Palestinians in the Shadows of the Wall Stéphanie Latte Abdallah, Cédric Parizot, 2016-03-09 Shedding light on the recent mutations of the Israeli separation policy whose institutional and spatial configurations are increasingly complex this book argues that this policy has actually reinforced the interconnectedness of Israelis and Palestinian lives and their spaces Instead of focusing on the over mediatized separation wall this book deals with what it hides its shadows Based on fieldwork studies carried out by French Italian Israeli Palestinian and Swiss researchers on the many sides of the Israeli Palestinian divide it highlights a new geography of occupation specific forms of interconnectedness and power relations between Israeli and Palestinian spaces It offers a better understanding of the transformation of people's interactions their experiences and the ongoing economy of exchanges created by the separation regime This heterogeneous regime increasingly involves the participation of Palestinian and international actors Grounded in refined decryptions of territorial realities and of experiences of social actors daily lives this book goes beyond usual political media and security representations and discourses on conflict to understand its contemporary stakes on the ground
