Books in Print ,1982 The African Slave Trade and Its Suppression Peter Hogg,2014-02-04 A comprehensive bibliography dealing specifically with African slave trade This volume has been sub classified for easier consultation and the compiler has provided where possible descriptions and comments on the works listed The Craft of Social Anthropology A.L. Epstein,2017-07-05 In social anthropology as in other branches of science there is a close relationship between research methods and theoretical problems Advancing theory and shifts in orientation go hand in hand with the development of techniques and mutually influence one another If the development of modern social anthropology owes much to its established tradition of fieldwork it is also clear that the procedures that anthropological fieldwork should follow in the laboratory can never be prescribed in absolute terms nor become wholly standardized Yet as anthropological analysis is refined it becomes increasingly important that students in the field be aware of the need to collect basic kinds of data and know how to set about doing so In this volume anthropologists who have worked closely together for many years at the Rhodes Livingstone Institute for Social Research Lusaka and or in the Department of Social Anthropology University of Manchester discuss within a common framework modern fieldwork methods as tools for examining a number of problems of current anthropological interest Elizabeth Colson J Clyde Mitchell and J A Barnes stress aspects of the role of quantification in social anthropology and indicate a range of problems that can be illuminated by the use of quantitative techniques Equal importance is attached by all contributors to the collection and analysis of detailed case material a topic explored in J van Velsen s essay A L and T S Epstein V W Turner and M G Marwick consider the kinds of data relevant to anthropological discussion in the fields of economics law ritual and witchcraft and the methods by which such material may be collected The volume is introduced by Max Gluckman former director of the Rhodes Livingstone Institute and former head of the department of social anthropology and sociology University of Manchester The Cambridge History of Africa J. D. Fage,Roland Anthony Oliver,A. D. Roberts,1975 This seventh volume in The Cambridge History of Africa examines the period 1905 40 in African history Margery Perham and British Rule in Africa Mary Bull,Alison Smith,2013-12-02 Margery Perham was an outstanding influence on official and academic thinking on British Colonial rule and decolonization in Africa during the middle part of the century The book traces how the Second World War transformed her view of colonial rule and of the rate at which it would have to be relinquished Catalogue of Books Arranged by Subjects Library Board of Western Australia,1966 African History and Literatures Harvard University. Library,1971 This shelflist catalogue will be of greatest utility to those using the libraries at Harvard but in spite of its limitations it can serve as a general bibliography of the subject and is therefore being made available to other interested libraries and individuals The computer based shelflist files are being maintained on a continuing basis so that updated editions of volumes in the series can be published as the need arises Widener Library Shelflist: African history and literatures Harvard University. Brad Faught, 2011-11-30 In the long history of the British Empire there are few stories as singular as that of Margery Perham. From the moment she first set foot on African soil in 1921 to her death over sixty years later, Perham was focused on the ways and means of Britain's administration of its African empire. She acquired an unrivalled expertise in all aspects of this branch of empire: its systems of governance and those who administered them; its economic impact; its geo-strategic implications; and its effect on Africans, including their sense of nationalism and attitudes towards the end of empire. From the 1930s until the 1960s, it is unlikely that anyone in the administrative apparatus of the British Empire, and almost assuredly anyone in the world of academia, had as nuanced an understanding of how Britain's African empire actually worked as did Margery Perham. Her road into Africa led from British Somaliland in 1921, where she went to visit her sister, the wife of a local British district commissioner. From such beginnings was spawned a career at the centre of British governance of empire. In 1928, as a Fellow of St Hugh's College, Oxford, she was awarded a travelling fellowship which she used to study colonial administration. So long and thorough was her tour that she had to sacrifice her teaching post, but so expert did she become in the subject that in 1935 Oxford appointed her research lecturer in the field, and a few years later she was appointed the first official and only female Fellow of Nuffield College. For the next 30 years, Perham delved deeply into every aspect of British Africa. She was an adviser to the Colonial Office and became director of Oxford's Institute of Commonwealth Studies. She wrote extensively and prolifically and publicly debated the future of Africa in the press. As the era of African independence and decolonization began, she advised newly independent governments about post-colonial governance and corresponded with leading African nationalists. Appointed DCMG in 1965, Dame Margery Perham died in 1982. Her life provides a unique window into the workings of the British Empire in Africa for most of the time it was fully operational. In this new biography, the first of its kind and based primarily on Perham's extensive private papers, C. Brad Faught tells her life story in all its richness while throwing fresh light on Britain's twentieth-century imperial experience.

Consisting of 10 case studies, it is preceded by an introductory prologue which deals with the relationship between historiography and different forms of biographical study in the context of Western history writing but especially African historical and anthropological studies The first three case studies deal with the methodological insights of biographical studies for African history This is followed by three case studies dealing with personas living through fundamental societal transitions and four case studies focusing on the discursive dimensions of biographical subjects including religion cosmology and ideology Countries or regions discussed include South Africa Zambia Gold Coast Cameroon Tanganyika Congo Kinshasa and the Central African Republic in colonial times Contributors are Lindie Koorts Elena Moore Iva Pe a Paul Glen Grant Jacqueline de Vries Duncan Money Morgan Robinson Eve Wong Klaas van Walraven Erik Kennes
