Women, Beauty and Power in Early Modern England Edith Snook, 2011-03-08 Divided into three sections on cosmetics clothes and hairstyling this book explores how early modern women regarded beauty culture and in what ways skin clothes and hair could be used to represent racial class and gender identities and to convey political religious and philosophical ideals

Pageants, Parlors, and Pretty Women Blain Roberts, 2014-03-17 From the South's pageant queens to the importance of beauty parlors to African American communities it is easy to see the ways beauty is enmeshed in southern culture But as Blain Roberts shows in this incisive work the pursuit of beauty in the South was linked to the tumultuous racial divides of the region where the Jim Crow era cosmetics industry came of age selling the idea of makeup that emphasized whiteness and where in the 1950s and 1960s black owned beauty shops served as crucial sites of resistance for civil rights activists In these times of strained relations in the South beauty became a signifier of power and affluence while it reinforced racial strife Roberts examines a range of beauty products practices and rituals cosmetics hairdressing clothing and beauty contests in settings that range from tobacco farms of the Great Depression to 1950s and 1960s college campuses In so doing she uncovers the role of female beauty in the economic and cultural modernization of the South By showing how battles over beauty came to a head during the civil rights movement Roberts sheds new light on the tactics southerners used to resist and achieve desegregation

Nonfiction Out in July a crucial telling of U S history centering the Black women whose magic gave rise to the rich tapestry of American culture we see today from Vicks VapoRub and Aunt Jemima s pancake mix to the magic of Disney s The Little Mermaid 2023 and the all American blue jean Emerging first on plantations in the American South enslaved conjure women used their magic to treat illnesses These women combined their ancestral spiritual beliefs from West Africa with local herbal rituals and therapeutic remedies to create conjure forging a secret well of health and power hidden to their oppressors and many of the modern day staples we still enjoy In The Conjuring of America Black feminist philosopher Lindsey Stewart exposes this vital contour of American history In the face of slavery Negro Mammies fashioned a legacy of magic that begat herbal experts fearsome water bearers and powerful mojos roles and traditions that for centuries have been passed down to respond to Black struggles in real time And when Jim Crow was born Granny Midwives and textile weavers leveled their techniques to protect our civil and reproductive rights while Candy Ladies fed a generation of freedom crusaders Sourcing firsthand accounts the of enslaved dispatches from the lore of Oshun and the wisdom of beloved Black women writers Stewart proves indisputably that conjure informs our lives in ways remarkable and ordinary Above all The Conjuring of America is a love letter to the magic Black women used to sow messages of rebellion freedom and hope From Bourgeois to Boogie Vershawn Ashanti Young, Bridget Harris Tsemo, 2011 Vershawn Ashanti Young and Bridget Harris Tsemo collect a diverse assortment of pieces that examine the generational shift in the perception of the black middle class from the serious moniker of bourgeois to the more playful sardonic boogie Including such senior cultural workers as Amiri Baraka and Houston Baker as well as younger scholars like Damion Waymer and Candice Jenkins this significant collection contains essays poems visual art and short stories that examine the complex web of representations that define the contemporary black middle class

In and Out of Our Right Minds Diane Brown, Verna Keith, 2003-10-01 African American women have commonly been portrayed as pillars of their communities resilient mothers sisters wives and grandmothers who remain steadfast in the face of all adversities While these portrayals imply that African American women have few psychological problems the scientific literature and demographic data present a different picture They reveal that African American women are at increased risk for psychological distress because of factors that disproportionately affect them including lower incomes greater poverty and unemployment unmarried motherhood racism and poor physical health Yet at the same time rates of mental illness are low This invaluable book is the first comprehensive examination of the contradictions between the strengths and vulnerabilities of this population Using the contexts of race gender and social class In and Out of Our Right Minds challenges the traditional notions of mental health and mental illness as they apply to African American women Toni Morrison and the Natural World Anissa Janine Wardi, 2021-06-28 Winner of the Toni Morrison Society Book Prize for Best Single Authored Book 2019 2022 Critics have routinely excluded African American literature from ecocritical inquiry despite the fact that the literary tradition has from its inception proved to be steeped in environmental concerns that address elements of the natural world and relate nature to the transatlantic slave trade plantation labor and nationhood Toni Morrison's work is no exception Toni Morrison and the Natural World An Ecology of Color is the first full length ecocritical investigation of the Nobel Laureate's novels and brings to the fore an unequaled engagement between race and nature Morrison's ecological consciousness holds that human geographies are enmeshed with nonhuman nature It follows then that ecology the branch of biology that studies how people relate to each other and their environment is an apt framework for this book The interrelationships and interactions between individuals and community and between organisms and the biosphere are central to this analysis They highlight that the human and nonhuman are part of a larger ecosystem of interfacing and transformations Toni Morrison and the Natural World is organized by color examining soil brown in The Bluest Eye and Paradise plant life green in Song of Solomon Beloved and Home bodies of water blue in Tar Baby and Love and fire orange in Sula and God Help the Child By providing a racially inflected reading of nature Toni Morrison and the Natural World makes an important contribution to the field of environmental studies and provides a landmark for Morrison scholarship

Fashioning Postfeminism Simidele Dosekun, 2020-06-22 Women in Lagos Nigeria practice a spectacularly feminine form of black beauty From cascading hair extensions to immaculate makeup to high heels their style permeates both day to day life and media representations of women not only in a swatch of Africa but across an increasingly globalized world Simidele Dosekun's interviews and critical analysis consider the female subjectivities these women are performing and desiring She finds that the women embody the postfeminist idea that their unapologetically immaculate beauty signals but also constitutes feminine power As empowered global consumers and media citizens the women deny any need to critique their culture or to take part in feminism's collective political struggle Throughout Dosekun unearths evocative details around the practical challenges to attaining their style examines the gap between how others view these women and how they view themselves and engages with ideas about postfeminist self fashioning and subjectivity across cultures and class Intellectually provocative and rich with theory Fashioning Postfeminism reveals why women choose to live embody and even suffer for a fascinating performative culture

Investing in the Educational Success of Black Women and Girls Lori D. Patton, Venus Evans-Winters, Charlotte Jacobs, 2023-07-03 In the powerful essays that make up Investing in the Educational Success of Black Women and Girls Black women and girls are listened to appreciated and valued in recognition of the unrelenting challenges to our existence in a world that continues to be committed to stifling our voices What these authors know intimately is that such stifling is not because what Black women and girls are saying isn't important It is precisely because it is This book names the challenges Black women and girls continue to experience as we pursue our education and offers implications and recommendations for practitioners teachers administrators and policymakers It needs to be read widely and deeply studied as much for its formations and beautiful representations of Black women and girls as its recommendations It is the truth telling we need today and a groundbreaking resource we need today and beyond Cynthia B Dillard Nana Mansa II of Mpeasem Ghana Athens

Georgia and Cape Coast Central Region Ghana While figures on Black women and girls degree attainment suggest that as a group they are achieving in society the reality is that their experiences are far from monolithic that the educational system from early on and through college imposes barriers and inequities pushing many out of school criminalizing their behavior and leading to a high rate of incarceration The purpose of this book is to illuminate scholarship on Black women and girls throughout the educational pipeline The contributors all Black women educators scholars and advocates name the challenges Black women and girls face while pursuing their education as well as offer implications and recommendations for practitioners policymakers teachers and administrators to consider in ensuring the success of Black women and girls This book is divided into four sections each identifying the barriers Black girls and women encounter at the stages of their education and offering strategies to promote their success and agency within and beyond educational contexts In Part One the contributors explore the importance of mattering for Black girls in terms of redefining success and joy centering Black girl literacy pedagogies that encourage them to thrive examining how to make STEM more accessible to them and recounting how Black girls emotions and emotional literacy can either disempower them or promote their sense of agency to navigate educational contexts Part Two uncovers the violence directed toward and the criminalization of Black women and girls and how they are situated in educational and justice systems that collude to fail them The contributors address incarceration and the process of rehabilitation and reentry the outcomes of disciplinary action in schools on women who pursue college and describe how the erasure and disregard of Black women and girls leaves them absent from the educational policies that deeply affect their lives and wellbeing Part Three focuses on how Black women are left to navigate without resources that could make their collegiate pathways smoother covers how hair politics impact their acceptance in college leadership roles particularly at HBCUs illuminates the importance of social emotional and mental health for Black undergraduate women and the lack of adequate resources and explores how women with disabilities navigate higher education The final part of this book describes transformative approaches to supporting the educational needs of Black women and girls including the use of a politicized ethic of care intergenerational love and dialogue and constructing communities including digital environments to ensure they thrive through their education and beyond

Beauty Shop Politics Tiffany M. Gill, 2010-01-29 Looking through the lens of black business history Beauty Shop Politics shows how black beauticians in the Jim Crow era parlayed their economic independence and access to a public community space into platforms for activism Tiffany M Gill argues that the beauty industry played a crucial role in the creation of the modern black female identity and that the seemingly frivolous space of a beauty salon actually has stimulated social political and economic change From the founding of the National Negro Business League in 1900 and onward African Americans have embraced the entrepreneurial spirit by starting their own businesses but black women s forays into the business world were overshadowed by those of black men With a broad scope that encompasses the role of gossip in salons ethnic beauty products and the social meanings of African American hair textures Gill shows how African American beauty entrepreneurs built and sustained a vibrant culture of activism in beauty salons and schools Enhanced by lucid portrayals of black beauticians and drawing on archival research and oral histories Beauty Shop Politics conveys the everyday operations and rich culture of black beauty salons as well as their role in building community

Black Girls Experiencing Their Intersectional Identities in School Crystal L. Edwards, 2019-10-17 Black Girls Experiencing Their Intersectional Identities in School explores the subjective experience of Black girls within the educational context Based on interviews diary entries and focus groups the author argues that as a result of their intersectional identities Black girls experience unique challenges and obstacles in the educational setting Addressing topics ranging from interpersonal relationships social media beauty sexuality hypervisibility invisibility and microaggressions this book highlights the voices and experiences of Black girls between the ages of 11 and 15 The Girls provide a narrative account of the challenges they face daily in the educational context describing in detail the factors that maintain and perpetuate volatile conditions Additionally this book explores the coping strategies that this group of Black girls developed to resist and respond to the daily obstacles Ultimately this book not only identifies the unique struggles faced by Black girls in schools as a result of their intersectional identities but most importantly this work explores pragmatic strategies that can be implemented to create safe and beneficial spaces for Black Girls The author argues that through the implementation of Black Feminist Pedagogy an Ethic of Caring and partnerships with Black Girl Empowerment organizations educational practitioners can mediate the negative experiences and create spaces for growth

Scandalize My Name Terrion L. Williamson, 2016-10-03 From sapphire mammy and jezebel to the angry black woman baby mama and nappy headed ho black female iconography has had a long and tortured history in public culture The telling of this history has long occupied the work of black female theorists much of which has been foundational in situating black women within the matrix of sociopolitical thought and practice in the United States Scandalize My Name builds upon the rich tradition of this work while approaching the study of black female representation as an opening onto a critical contemplation of the vagaries of black social life It makes a case for a radical black subject position that structures and is structured by an intramural social order that revels in the underside of the stereotype and ultimately destabilizes the very notion of civil society At turns memoir sociological inquiry literary analysis and cultural critique Scandalize My Name explores topics as varied as serial murder reality television Christian evangelism teenage pregnancy and the work of Toni Morrison to advance black feminist practice as a mode through which black sociality is both theorized and made material Beyond Vanity

Elizabeth L. Block, 2024-09-10 From the award winning author of Dressing Up a riveting and diverse history of women's hair that reestablishes the cultural power of hairdressing in nineteenth century America In the nineteenth century the complex cultural meaning of hair was not only significant but it could also impact one's place in society After the Civil War hairdressing was also a growing profession and the hair industry a mainstay of local national and international commerce In Beyond Vanity Elizabeth Block expands the nascent field of hair studies by restoring women's hair as a cultural site of meaning in the early United States With a special focus on the places and spaces in which the hair industry operated Block argues that the importance of hair has been overlooked due to its ephemerality as well as its misguided association with frivolity and triviality As Block clarifies hairdressing was anything but frivolous Using methods of visual and material culture studies informed by concepts of cultural geography Block identifies multiple substantive categories of place and space within which hair acted These include the preparatory places of the bedroom hair salon and enslaved peoples quarters as well as the presentation places of parties fairs stages and workplaces Here are also the untold stories of business owners many of whom were women of color and the creators of trendsetting styles like the pompadour and Gibson Girl bouffant Block's ground breaking study examines how race and racism affected who participated in the presentation and business of hair and according to which standards The result of looking closely at the places and spaces of hair is a reconfiguration that allows a new understanding of the cultural power of hair in the period
