The Education of a WASP Lois M. Stalvey, 1989-02-01 Brimming with honesty and passion The Education of a WASP chronicles one white woman's discovery of racism in 1960s America First published in 1970 and highly acclaimed by reviewers Lois Stalvey's account is as timely now as it was then Nearly twenty years later with ugly racial incidents occurring on college campuses in neighborhoods and in workplaces everywhere her account of personal encounters with racism remains deeply disturbing Educators and general readers interested in the subtleties of racism will find the story poignant revealing and profoundly moving Delightful and horrible a singular book Choice An extraordinarily honest and revealing book that poses the issue loyalty to one's ethnic group or loyalty to conscience Publishers Weekly Mark Twain's Own Autobiography Mark Twain, 2010-02-25 Mark Twain's Own Autobiography stands as the last of Twain's great yarns Here he tells his story in his own way freely expressing his joys and sorrows his affections and hatreds his rages and reverence ending as always tongue in cheek Now then that is the tale Some of it is true More than the story of a literary career this memoir is anchored in the writer's relation to his family what they meant to him as a husband father and artist It also brims with many of Twain's best comic anecdotes about his rambunctious boyhood in Hannibal his misadventures in the Nevada territory his notorious Whittier birthday speech his travels abroad and more Twain published twenty five Chapters from My Autobiography in the North American Review in 1906 and 1907 I intend that this autobiography shall be read and admired a good many centuries because of its form and method form and method whereby the past and the present are constantly brought face to face resulting in contrasts which newly fire up the interest all along like contact of flint with steel For this second edition Michael Kiskis's introduction references a wealth of critical work done on Twain since 1990 He also adds a discussion of literary domesticity locating the autobiography within the history of Twain's literary work and within Twain's own understanding and experience of domestic concerns Native American Autobiography Arnold Krupat, 1994 Publisher description Native American Autobiography is the first collection to bring together the major autobiographical narratives by Native American people from the earliest documents that exist to the present _ The thirty narratives included here cover a range of tribes and cultural areas over a span of more than 200 years From the earliest known written memoir a 1768 narrative by the Reverend Samson Occom a Mohegan reproduced as a chapter here to recent reminiscences by such prominent writers as N Scott Momaday and Gerald Vizenor the book covers a broad range of Native American experience Editor Arnold Krupat provides a general introduction a historical introduction to each of the seven sections extensive headnotes for each selection and suggestions for further reading making this an ideal resource for courses in American literature history anthropology and Native American studies General readers too will find a wealth of fascinating material in the life stories of these Native American men and women The Autobiographical Documentary in America Jim Lane, 2002-04-29 Since the late 1960s American film and video makers of all genres have been fascinated with themes of self and identity Though the documentary form is most often used to capture the lives of others Jim Lane turns his lens on those media makers who document their own lives and identities He looks at the ways in which autobiographical documentaries including Roger and Me Sherman's March and Silverlake Life raise weighty questions about American cultural life What is the role of women in society What does it mean to die from AIDS How do race and class play out in our personal lives What does it mean to be a member of a family Examining the history diversity and theoretical underpinnings of this increasingly popular documentary form Lane tracks a fundamental transformation of notions of both autobiography and documentary

Decolonization Philip Holden, 2008 Philip Holden reveals deeply gendered connections between the writing of individual lives and of the narratives of nations emerging from colonialism Autobiography and Decolonization is the first book to give serious academic attention to autobiographies of nationalist leaders in the process of decolonization attending to them not simply as partial historical documents but as texts involved in remaking the world views of their readers Holden examines Mohandas K Gandhi s An Autobiography The Story of My Experiments with Truth Marcus Garvey s fragmentary

Autobiography Joseph Ephraim Casely Hayford's Ethiopia Unbound Lee Kuan Yew's The Singapore Story Nelson Mandela's Long Walk to Freedom Jawaharlal Nehru's An Autobiography and Kwame Nkrumah's Ghana The Autobiography of Kwame Nkrumah Holden argues that these examples of life writing have had significant influence on the formation of new and often profoundly gendered national identities These narratives constitute the nation less as an imagined community than as an imagined individual Moving from the past to the promise of the future they mediate relationships between public and private and between individual and collective stories Ultimately they show how the construction of modern selfhood is inextricably linked to the construction of a postcolonial polity

Authority and Alliance in the Letters of Henry Adams Joanne Jacobson, 1992 Argues that radical cultural change in the late 19th century US intensified a set of complex rhetorical imperatives which the letter was a genre ideally positioned to serve and draws supporting evidence from the letters of historian Henry Adams Concludes that faced with isolation and alienation from the quickly industrializing and urbanizing society he chose letters as a medium over which he retained rhetorical control and could therefore use to seek alliance and resistance

The Secret of M. Dulong

Colette Inez, 2005 Full of humor profundity and obsession these are tales of writers on peregrine paths Some set out in search of legends or artistic inspiration others seek spiritual epiphany or fulfillment of a promise Their journeys lead them variously to Dracula's castle Laura Ingalls Wilder's prairie the Grimms fairy tale road Mayan temples Nathaniel West's California the Camino de Santiago trail Scott's Antarctica the Marquis de Sade's haunted manor or the sacred city of Varanasi All of these pilgrimages are worthy journeys redemptive and serious But a time honored element of pilgrimage is a suspension of rules and there is absurdity and exuberance here as well
