The Elusive Prince Of Denmark:

The Elusive Prince of Denmark Adebayo O. Olukoshi, 1998 Background context to the governance debate Taken For A Ride Matteo Rizzo, 2017-05-26 How does public transport work in an African city under neoliberalism Who owns what in it Who has the power to influence its shape and changes in it over time What does it mean to be a precarious and informal worker in the private minibuses that provide public transport in Dar es Salaam These are the main questions that inform this in depth case study of Dar es Salaam's public transport system over more than forty years The growth of cities and informal economies are two central manifestations of globalization in the developing world Taken for a Ride addresses both drawing on long term fieldwork in Dar es Salaam Tanzania and charting its public transport system's journey from public to private provision This new addition to the Critical Frontiers of Theory Research and Practice in International Development Studies series investigates this shift alongside the increasing deregulation of the sector and the resulting chaotic modality of public transport It reviews state attempts to regain control over public transport and documents how informal wage relations prevailed in the sector The changing political attitude of workers towards employers and the state is investigated from an initial incapacity to respond to exploitation to the political organisation and unionisation which won workers concessions on labour rights A longitudinal study of workers throws light on patterns of occupational mobility in the sector and the political and economic interests that shaped the introduction of Bus Rapid Transit in Dar es Salaam and local resistance to it are analysed Taken for a Ride reveals the political economy of public transport exposing the limitations of market fundamentalist and post colonial scholarship on economic informality the urban experience in developing countries and the failure to locate the agency of the urban poor within their economic and political structures It is both a contribution and a call for the contextualised study of actually existing neoliberalism Global Restructuring and Land Rights in Ghana Kojo Amanor, 1999 The report highlights the long history of commodification of land and labour in Ghana linked to speculative activities and more recently to the activities of international capital agribusiness international agricultural centres and agencies of the state It makes the case for a new land agrarian and natural resource regime that prioritises domestic economic needs to provide security of livelihood to the generality of the people Our Continent, Our Future P. Thandika Mkandawire, Charles Chukwuma Soludo, 1999 Our Continent Our Future African perspectives on structural adjustment The Impact of Structural Adjustment Programmes on the Public Health Sector: The Case of Zimbabwe Tsitsi Muvunzi, 2015-01-01 Structural Adjustment Programmes of the International Monetary Fund IMF and World Bank WB were implemented as part of aid conditionality in Africa and Latin America since the 1980s There is a wide range of literature critical of SAPs Several debates have focused on whether the failure of SAPs was a result of the inherent weaknesses of the IMF WB sponsored structural adjustment or whether it was caused by structural failures of policy implementation within the African continent The author uses the Zimbabwean case to analyze the impact of SAPs on social service sectors in particular the public health sector Cross-border Trade and the Parallel Currency Market Yahaya Hashim, Kate Meagher, 1999 The authors of this study challenge the assumptions of the World Bank that the expansion in informal cross border trade is a vindication of the market liberalizing thrust of structural adjustment and that adjustment policies have improved the effectiveness of an independent bourgeoisie that is emerging out of this trade as an agent of regional integration Instead they make the case for the adoption of what they call a development approach for tapping the benefits of the informal currency markets as an alternative to the market coercion of structural adjustment Land Tenure, Gender and Globalisation Dzodzi Tsikata, Pamela Golah, 2010 Drawing from field research in Cameroon Ghana Vietnam and the Amazon forests of Brazil Bolivia and Peru this book explores the relationship between gender and land revealing the workings of global capital and of people's responses to it A central theme is the people's resistance to global forces frequently through an insistence on the uniqueness of their livelihoods For instance in the Amazon the focus is on the social movements that have emerged in the context of struggles over land rights concerning the extraction of Brazil nuts and babacu kernels in an increasingly globalised market In Vietnam the process of de collectivising rights to land is examined with a view to understand how gender and other social differences are reworked in a market economy The book addresses a gap in the literature on land tenure and gender in developing countries It raises new questions about the process of globalisation particularly about who the actors are local people the state NGOs multinational companies and the shifting relations amongst them The book also challenges the very concepts of gender land and globalization Anti-Refugee Violence and African Politics Ato Kwamena Onoma, 2013-10-07 Using comparative cases from Guinea Uganda and the Democratic Republic of Congo this study explains why some refugee hosting communities launch large scale attacks on civilian refugees whereas others refrain from such attacks even when encouraged to do so by state officials Ato Kwamena Onoma argues that such outbreaks only happen when states instigate them because of links between a few refugees and opposition groups Locals embrace these attacks when refugees are settled in areas that privilege residence over indigeneity in the distribution of rights ensuring that they live autonomously of local elites The resulting opacity of their lives leads locals to buy into their demonization by the state Locals do not buy into state denunciation of refugees in areas that privilege indigeneity over residence in the distribution of rights because refugees in such areas are subjugated to locals who come to know them very well Onoma reorients the study of refugees back to a focus on the disempowered civilian refugees that constitute the majority of refugees even in cases of severe refugee militarization Voting with Their Feet Rudo B. Gaidzanwa, 1999 This research report examines the ways in which medical professionals have responded to the changing environment of work and livelihood in Zimbabwe since the adoption of a structural adjustment program Of particular interest are those doctors and nurses who took a decision to migrate from Zimbabwe to Botswana and South Africa in search of greener pastures Authoritarian Capitalism in the Age of Globalization Peter Bloom, 2023-02-14 Authoritarian capitalism is rapidly evolving intensifying and spreading across the globe This updated second edition book demonstrates that the recent resurgence of fascism and repressive democracies are connected to and symptomatic of the fundamental authoritarianism of capitalism
