

A MYSTERIOUS GENTLEMAN

Bloody hell! Lord Lucien Seabrook swore. As an agent for His Majesty's Government, he was close to capturing smugglers operating on the English coast — until the adventurous bluestocking Miss Elinore Denning and her brother moved into the "haunted" mansion he used as a lookout point! He had little regard for bookish females, but he would keep a very close watch on the charmingly persistent Miss Denning — and see her well out of harm's way. However, Lord Seabrook didn't realize that he was the one in danger — of losing his heart . . .

A LOGICAL LADY

Elinore Denning had no use for ghosts — and had even less respect for her infuriating new neighbor, Lord Seabrook. The charming old mansion was the home she'd always wanted, and no uncanny occurrences — or a mockingly attractive peer — would frighten her away. All she needed was logic and reason to find the solution to the mystery. But Elly wasn't at all prepared for the whims of her suddenly less-than-sensible heart — or for a most haunting love!

The Rise of Literary Journalism in the Eighteenth Century Iona Italia, 2005-02-22 Recent years have witnessed a heightened interest in eighteenth century literary journalism and popular culture This book provides an account of the early periodical as a literary genre and traces the development of journalism from the 1690s to the 1760s covering a range of publications by both well known and obscure writers The book's central theme is the struggle of eighteenth century journalists to attain literary respectability and the strategies by which editors sought to improve the literary and social status of their publications

Bluestockings E. Eger, 2010-01-20 This study argues that female networks of conversation correspondence and patronage formed the foundation for women's work in the higher realms of Shakespeare criticism and poetry Eger traces the transition between Enlightenment and Romantic culture arguing for the relevance of rational argument in the history of women's writing
