Haunting Experiences Diane Goldstein, Sylvia Grider, Jeannie Banks Thomas, 2007-09-15 Ghosts and other supernatural phenomena are widely represented throughout modern culture. They can be found in any number of entertainment commercial and other contexts but popular media or commodified representations of ghosts can be quite different from the beliefs people hold about them based on tradition or direct experience. Personal belief and cultural tradition on the one hand and popular and commercial representation on the other nevertheless continually feed each other. They frequently share space in how people think about the supernatural. In Haunting Experiences three well known folklorists seek to broaden the discussion of ghost lore by examining it from a variety of angles in various modern contexts. Diane E Goldstein, Sylvia Ann Grider and Jeannie Banks Thomas take ghosts seriously as they draw on contemporary scholarship that emphasizes both the basis of belief in experience rather than mere fantasy and the usefulness of ghost stories. They look closely at the narrative role of such lore in matters such as socialization and gender. And they unravel the complex mix of mass media commodification and popular culture that today puts old spirits into new contexts.

Distant Skies Melissa A Priblo Chapman, 2020-11-15 Melissa Chapman was 23 years old and part of a happy loving family. She had a decent job, a boyfriend she cared about and friends she enjoyed. Yet she said goodbye to all of it. Carrying a puppy named Gypsy she climbed aboard a horse and rode away from everything heading west. With no cell phone, no GPS, no support team or truck following with supplies Chapman quickly learned that the reality of a cross country horseback journey was quite different from the fantasy. Her solo adventure would immediately test her mental, physical and emotional resources as she and her four legged companions were forced to adapt to the dangers and loneliness of a trek that would span over 2 600 miles beginning in New York State and reaching its end on the other side of the country in California. Enchanted by the freedom a nomadic life seemed to promise the young woman would soon find herself only more deeply connected to the animals that accompanied her to the varying and challenging landscapes through which she traveled and to the people she met on the farms and back roads that crisscross the United States. Her tale is part American road trip, part coming of age adventure and part uncommon love story, a remarkable memoir that explores the evolution of the human animal relationship along with the raw beauty of a life lived outdoors.

Between Scientists & Citizens Jean Goodwin, 2012 This volume brings together selected papers from an interdisciplinary conference focused on effective and appropriate communication of science in the often heated controversies characteristic of contemporary democracies. The forty essays represent cutting edge work from rhetorical and communication theorists studying the practices and norms of public discourse and science communication philosophers interested in the informal logic of everyday reasoning and in the theory of deliberative democracy and science studies scholars examining the intersections between the social worlds of scientists and citizens. Topics include the theory and practice of public participation exercises involving experts and lay publics, communication techniques for conveying uncertainty, complexity and scale, pseudocontroversy and manufactured doubt about science and the maintenance of trust.
