The Emerging Religion Of Science:

The New Sciences of Religion W. Grassie, 2010-11-22 Performing a critical analysis of new scientific research on religious and spiritual phenomena Grassie takes a two staged phenomenological approach working from the outside in and the bottom up without privileging at the outset any religious traditions or philosophical assumptions The New Encyclopedia of Unbelief Tom Flynn, 2007-04-30 Successor to the highly acclaimed Encyclopedia of Unbelief 1985 edited by the late Gordon Stein the New Encyclopedia of Unbelief is a comprehensive reference work on the history beliefs and thinking of America's fastest growing minority those who live without religion All new articles by the field's foremost scholars describe and explain every aspect of atheism agnosticism secular humanism secularism and religious skepticism Topics include morality without religion unbelief in the historicity of Jesus critiques of intelligent design theory unbelief and sexual values and summaries of the state of unbelief around the world In addition to covering developments since the publication of the original edition the New Encyclopedia of Unbelief includes a larger number of biographical entries and much expanded coverage of the linkages between unbelief and social reform movements of the 19th and 20th centuries including the labor movement woman suffrage anarchism sex radicalism and second wave feminism More than 130 respected scholars and activists worldwide served on the editorial board and over 100 authoritative contributors have written in excess of 500 entries The distinguished advisors and contributors philosophers scientists scholars and Nobel Prize laureates include Joe Barnhart David Berman Sir Hermann Bondi Vern L Bullough Daniel Dennett Taner Edis the late Paul Edwards Antony Flew Annie Laurie Gaylor Peter Hare Van Harvey R Joseph Hoffmann Susan Jacoby Paul Kurtz Gerd L demann Michael Martin Kai Nielsen Robert M Price Peter Singer Victor Stenger Ibn Warraq George A Wells David Tribe Sherwin Wine and many others With a foreword by evolutionary biologist and best selling author Richard Dawkins this unparalleled reference work provides comprehensive knowledge about unbelief in its many varieties and manifestations Emerging Voices in Science and Theology Bethany Sollereder, Alister McGrath, 2022-06-01 This volume engages with the relative absence and underrepresentation of female voices in the field of science and religion which tends to be dominated by male academics who are in the later stages of their careers It makes a valuable contribution to correcting this imbalance by showcasing the work of a talented set of rising female scholars which is not necessarily explicitly feminist in content or approach All the authors featured are at a relatively early stage in their careers with diverse backgrounds and interests Engaging with traditional and new questions they promise to contribute much to the future development of the field of science and religion The Emerging Religion of Science Richard C. Rothschild, 1989-01-10 The Emerging Religion of Science is a broad and erudite examination of the individual's place in the modern world What can we believe today that will not betray us tomorrow the author asks Religion is losing influence But the scientist who explores the laws of nature may be the modern guide to meaning The mathematical equations of science have become unifying elements of the world as we know it The author explores ways to face today's problems within the context of good and evil, freedom and restraint, probability and certainty, the real and the illusory, and the concept of self. He offers the view that though the paths we take may be different, we are all searching for the same thing: a thread on which the beads of experience and education can be strung. Cognitive Science and the New Testament István Czachesz, 2017. Over the last few decades, our knowledge of how the human mind and brain works has increased dramatically. The field of cognitive science enables us to understand religious traditions, rituals, and visionary experiences in novel ways. This has implications for the study of the New Testament and early Christianity. How people in the ancient Mediterranean world remembered sayings and stories, what they experienced when participating in rituals, how they thought about magic and miracle, and how they felt and reasoned about moral questions—all of that can be now better understood with the help of insights from cognitive science. István Czachesz argues that the field of New Testament Studies witnesses the beginning of a cognitive turn. He surveys relevant developments in the Cognitive Science of Religion and explores the field of cognitive and behavioral sciences in search of opportunities of gaining new insights about biblical materials. Czachesz presents some methodological tools and initial steps together with a large number of examples of applying the cognitive approach to the New Testament and related ancient literature. The New Invitation to Anthropology Luke Eric Lassiter, Eric I. Karchmer, Dana E. Powell, 2023-10-09. Born within and against the violence of European colonial conquest, anthropology has aspired to understand the diversity of human experience in ethical and transformative ways. The New Invitation to Anthropology is a fresh and accessible text that takes students to the heart of the discipline and reveals the ongoing relevance of anthropology today. The New Invitation to Anthropology, Fifth Edition, has an intimate touch that invites students in and helps them understand the historical roots of anthropology and its connection to recent social and political issues. Part I covers the history of the discipline, the emergence of the concept of culture, and ethnographic field methods in relation to European imperialism and discourses on race. Part II illustrates how the concept of culture shaped specific domains of anthropological study, including ecological adaptation, social class, gender, family, marriage, religion, and medicine. As a timely and engaging non-textbook, The New Invitation to Anthropology explores anthropological perspectives on real-world problems, helping students think like anthropologists and become better citizens of the world. New To This Edition: Significantly revised Chapter 1, The Origins of North American Anthropology, demonstrates how modern anthropology emerged out of 19th-century theories of race and social evolutionism and develops critical understandings of modern forms of racism. New sections on social class and globalization in Chapter 4 offer insights into the complexities of modern global problems like climate change. New elaborations of intersectionality in Chapter 5, Sex, Gender, and Inequality, reinforces discussions of gender-based inequality. Chapter 7, on religious experience, now incorporates healing and medicine to expand a framework of studying belief and experience. Christian Mind in the Emerging World Peter Tze Ming Ng, Wing Tai Leung, Vaughan King Tong Mak, 2018-10-31. In response to challenges from the emerging world, this book brings together essays that discuss and exemplify various related approaches to academic faith integration and explore how Christian faith should underpin scaffold and frame our understanding of academic disciplines leading to practical implications for work or action in modern society and culture Written by Christian scholars and practitioners from diverse backgrounds including the USA the UK Australia China Hong Kong South Korea and the Philippines the contributions here all contribute a global perspective while addressing some specific issue or case in the context of Asia They represent ingenious endeavors that illustrate the workings of a faith integrated approach in domains as wide as higher education business science psychology and counseling politics environment media social services leadership research and technology This volume will inform and inspire the reader into cross cultural and inter disciplinary studies particularly of religion education culture society and worldview
