Strategic Survey 1993-1994:

Strategic Survey 1993-1994 International Institute for Strategic Studies, 1994 Provides the Institute's annual analytical review and assessment of security related events around the world Strategic Survey International Institute for Strategic Studies, 1994 Intelligence Analysis and Assessment David Charters, Stuart Farson, Glenn P. Hastedt, 2013-11-05 These essays cover assessment systems now in place in Britain the USA Germany and Australia the bureaucratic dynamics of analysis and assessment the changing ground in intelligence and the impact of new technologies and modes of communication on intelligence gathering and analysis The West's Road to 9/11 D. Carlton, 2005-09-08 The West's Road to 9/11 offers a detailed explanation of the handling of the challenge of terrorism by the USA the UK and the West over the last thirty years David Carlton contends that anti terrorist rhetoric by the Governments of the West frequently masked indifference to the activities of many practitioners of non state violence and that in the case of the United States it did not hesitate even to sponsor those terrorist movements if deemed supportive of its wider geopolitical objectives Common Security and Strategic Reform Andrew Butfoy, 2016-07-27 This is the first study of the strategic dimensions of common security which is set in a post Cold War context The book explores both common security and more recent additions to the debate such as the related idea of cooperative security Separate chapters deal with conceptual issues and pivotal aspects of the contemporary security agenda the amelioration of the security dilemma cooperative defence planning arms control and peace enforcement The book will interest anyone concerned with the reshaping of the international landscape

Monitoring Surveys of the New Haven Capping Project, 1993-1994 John T. Morris, 1996 The Reluctant Superpower W. Bert, 1997-07-07 This book examines the nature of the war in the former Yugoslavia US interests there and US perceptions of the conflict The policies of the Bush and Clinton administrations toward the war and the factors discouraging US intervention are examined and evaluated in the context of a post Cold War international system Finally the lessons for future decisions on international intervention in a post Cold War where old policy guidelines are obsolete are discussed and critiqued The Muslim-Croat Civil War in Central Bosnia Charles R. Shrader, 2003-06-12 In The Muslim-Croat Civil War in Central Bosnia 1992-1994 Charles R. Shrader offers the first full scale military history of a crucial conflict in Bosnia between two former allies When the Bosnian Serbs and their Serbian allies attacked Bosnia Herzegovina in March 1992 the Bosnian Croats and Muslims collaborated to defend themselves As Serbian pressure increased and it became clear that the West would not intervene the two allies began to stake out their own claims Drawing on testimony and exhibits from cases presented before the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia Shrader describes the organization and tactical doctrine of the Croatian Defense Forces and the Muslim led Army of Bosnia Herzegovina He analyzes the strengths and weaknesses of the two sides in such fields as communications training and logistics He assesses not only the problems of command and control in the newly formed armies but also the impact of criminal activity the mujahedeen and the intervention of peacekeeping forces What looked to many like aggression by the Bosnian Croats Shrader views as the adoption of an active defense a doctrine embraced by U S forces against a predatory Muslim force He believes UN and European observers rushed to judgment regarding the aggressive intent of the Croatian command Far from being the attackers Shrader concludes the Bosnian Croats in Central Bosnia were clearly outnumbered outgunned and on the defensive Surrounded by superior Muslim forces they barely held out in their enclaves in the Lasva Valley until a cease fire was achieved in February 1994 Although Shrader s work is a detailed meticulous analysis by a neutral expert not everyone will find his conclusions comfortable But every serious student of the conflict in Bosnia will have to take his history into account Enhanced by maps useful appendices and a glossary this should become the standard work on military operations in Central Bosnia and a useful case study of internal warfare and ethnic conflict Toward Responsibility in the New World

Disorder John T. Fishel,Max G. Manwaring,2013-10-11 This volume commends itself to the reader to provoke thought about what governments and international organizations ought to do when faced with the responsibilities of a given peace operation Equally important it suggests what we as citizens in the world community ought to demand of our governments and that community in the current world disorder The intent is to help decision makers policy makers opinion makers and students understand the nature of the problem that is likely to provide the greatest challenge to international security management into the next century Verification 1996 J. B. Poole,2019-09-18 This sixth issue of Verification on the aspects of international arms control and disarmament agreements documents the developments in the field during 1995 It discusses the anniversaries of the Second World War the atomic bombing on Hiroshima and Nagasaki and the United Nations
