Straw In The South Wind:

Straw in the South Wind Donald Joseph, 2013-10 This is a new release of the original 1946 edition The Wisconsin Farmer, and Northwestern Cultivator, 1865 The Haberdasher, 1927 The Road to the Spring James Perrin Warren, 2014-07-08 The Road to the Spring is the first book publication of Mary Austin's 1868-1934 poems. Best known for her prose book The Land of Little Rain 1903 Austin was in fact a poet from the beginning of her career to the end even though she never published a volume dedicated to her own original poetry. Instead Austin's work came to light in collections of poetry and in prestigious journals such as Poetry, the Nation, the Forum, Harper's and Saturday Review of Literature among many others. The Road to the Spring contains more than 200 poems most of which can only be found in out of print books, magazines and periodicals and her unpublished manuscripts archived at the Huntington Library. This singular publication includes her original work poems she claimed to have written with her grammar school pupils at the end of the nineteenth century and her translations and re-expressions of Native American songs which often diverge greatly from any other known sources. Warren includes an introduction laying out Austin's place in American literature and situating her writings in feminist, environmentalist, regionalist and Native American contexts. He also includes notes for those new to Austin's work glossing Native terms, geographical names and the ethnological sources of the Native songs she re-creates. From the Inside Out Royden Loewen, 1999-10-12 Historian Royden Loewen has brought together selections from diaries kept by 21 Mennonites in Canada between 1863 and 1929, some translated from German for the first time. By skillfully comparing and contrasting a wide cross-section of lives, Loewen shows how these diaries often turn the hidden contours of household and community inside out. The writers featured were ordinary rural people: young women and grandmothers, rural preachers and landless householders. They include a teenaged boy who immigrated from Russia to Manitoba in 1875 as well as a successful merchant, a traveling evangelist and a devout conservative church elder. An elderly grandfather recounted the daily circuit of his children's homes while 19-year-old Marie Schoeder wrote of her literary aspirations, her secret hope that some day she would write things that have a real worth, things that are worth printing and things that other folks would love to read and pay for. From the Inside Out also contrasts diaries from two distinct Mennonite communities in Canada. The Swiss American Mennonites in Waterloo County, Ontario, faced rapid urbanization while the Dutch-Russian Mennonites in southern Manitoba maintained their more rural environment. The diaries mirror their writers' preoccupations with work and weather but they also reveal a community's social structure and round of activities such as weddings, funerals and worship services. In the process of diary-keeping the writers sought to make sense of a dynamic and often unpredictable world. Reading what they chose to record is to learn much about their culture. Their writings provide glimpses of their lives, their collective mindset and their history as a people. The Cosmopolitan, 1902 Primary Education, 1905 Sun and Moon, Ice and Snow Jessica Day George, 2013-12-10 An exciting new repackaging of Jessica Day George's fairy tale adaptation The Canadian
