Streets Tell Stories:

Stories from the Street David Nixon, 2016-04-01 Stories from the Street is a theological exploration of interviews with men and women who had experienced homelessness at some stage in their lives Framed within a theology of story and a theology of liberation Nixon suggests that story is not only a vehicle for creating human transformation but it is one of God s chosen means of effecting change Short biographies of twelve characters are examined under themes including crises in health and relationships self harm and suicide anger and pain God and the Bible Expanding the existing literature of contextual theology this book provides an alternative focus to a church shaped mission by advocating with and for a very marginal group suggesting that their experiences have much to teach the church Churches are perceived as being active in terms of pastoral work but reluctant to ask more profound questions about why homelessness exists at all A theology of homelessness suggests not just a God of the homeless but a homeless God who shares stories and provides hope Engaging with contemporary political and cultural debates about poverty housing and public spending Nixon presents a unique theological exploration of homeless people suffering hope and the human condition

Street Sex Workers' Discourse Jill McCracken, 2013-04-17 Incorporating the voices and insights of street sex workers through personal interviews this monograph argues that the material conditions of many street workers the physical environments they live in and their effects on the workers bodies identities and spirits are represented reproduced and entrenched in the language surrounding their work As an ethnographic case study of a local system that can be extrapolated to other subcultures and the construction of identities this book disrupts some of the more prevalent academic and lay understandings about street prostitution by providing a thorough analysis of the material conditions surrounding street work and their connection to discourse McCracken offers an explanation of how constructions can be made differently in order to achieve representations that are generated by the marginalized populations themselves while placing responsibility for this marginalization on the society in which these people live
