History and Memory in the Dead Sea Scrolls Travis B. Williams, 2019-05-16 Charts a new methodological course in Dead Sea Scrolls scholarship by employing memory theory to inform historical research This is an instructive resource for scholars who are seeking an alternative to currently constructed approaches to the subject and will be of appeal to those interested in the Dead Sea Scrolls more generally The Postcolonial Epic Sneharika Roy, 2018-01-12 This book demonstrates the epic genre's enduring relevance to the Global South It identifies a contemporary avatar of classical epic the postcolonial epic ushered in by Herman Melville's Moby Dick a foundational text of North America and exemplified by Derek Walcott's Caribbean masterpiece Omeros and Amitav Ghosh's South Asian saga the Ibis trilogy The work focuses on the epic genre's rich potential to articulate postimperial concerns with nation and migration across the Global North South divide It foregrounds postcolonial developments in the genre including a shift from politics to political economy subaltern reconfigurations of capitalist and imperial temporalities and the poststructuralist preoccupation with language and representation In addition to bringing to light hitherto unexamined North South affiliations between Melville Walcott and Ghosh the book proposes a fresh approach to epic through the comparative concept of political epic where an avowed national politics promoting a culture's pure origins coexists uneasily with a disavowed poetics of intertextual borrowing from other cultures An important intervention in literary studies this volume will interest scholars and researchers of postcolonial studies especially South Asian and Caribbean literature Global South studies transnational studies and cultural studies

History in Management and Organization Studies Behlül Üsdiken, Matthias Kipping, 2020-10-25 There has in recent times been an increasing interest in history broadly defined among management scholars But what specifically a historical approach or perspective can contribute to research on organizational fields organizations strategy etc and how exactly such historical research should be carried out remain questions that have been answered only partially if at all Building on the authors prior and ongoing work History in Management and Organization Studies From Margins to Mainstream is unique in presenting a comprehensive and integrated view of how history has informed management research with a focus on organization theory and strategy More specifically the volume provides an overview of how the relationship between history and management scholarship has evolved from the 19th century until today focusing mainly on the post World War II period and systematically surveys the kind of research programs within organization theory and strategy that have used historical data and or history as a theoretical construct while also identifying the remaining blind spots As a whole it offers a kind of roadmap for management scholars and historians to situate their research and hopefully find new roads for others to travel The book is intended for anybody conducting or planning to conduct historical research within management and organization studies and aims in particular at becoming a standard feature of research methods courses in business schools and departments of management

Studies in Post Colonialism Lilack Biswas, 2015-07-25 This book is a collection of scholarly essays on various literature film as well as literary figures from a postcolonial point of view The deep meditation and keen observations from postcolonial point of view of W B Yeats or the Bollywood adaptation of Shakespeare as well as Rushdi Amitabha Ghosh or Jhumpa Lahiri by modern Indian scholars have given the book a fresh flavour The studies on Chinua Achebe Benjamin Zephaniah and Doris Lessing have added new dimensions to this On the other hand the chapters on color imperialism and racial arrogance have contributed to show different angles of postcolonialism

Plural Pasts Arthur Alfaix

Assis, 2023-12-14 What is history about This Element shows that answers centred on the keyword past events are incomplete even if they are not simply wrong Interweaving theoretical and historical perspectives it provides an abstract overview of the thematic plurality that characterizes contemporary academic historiography The reflection on different sorts of pasts that can be at focus in historical research and writing encompasses events as well as non events especially recursive social structures and cultural webs Some consequences of such plurality for discussions concerning historical methodology explanation exemplification and representation are also outlined The basic message reinforced throughout is that the great relevance of non event centred approaches should prompt us to talk more about histories in the plural and less about history in the singular

Authenticating Criteria in Jesus Research and Beyond Kevin B. Burr, 2023-10-16 Are the criteria of authenticity of Jesus research idiosyncratic to New Testament studies vehicles of subjectivity and fundamentally flawed vestiges of form criticism as some claim today If so why do opponents of the criteria approach still use them Or are the criteria the tools of general historiography as others assert If true none have adequately demonstrated where and how principles such as multiple attestation general and historical coherence dissimilarity and embarrassment feature in general historiographic method until now This study analyzes the methods of general historians and Jesus researchers who favor or oppose the criteria and demonstrates that regardless of sub discipline authenticating criteria are inherent to the practice of historiography

Founding Gods, Inventing Nations William F. McCants, 2012 From the dawn of writing in Sumer to the sunset of the Islamic empire Founding Gods Inventing Nations traces four thousand years of speculation on the origins of civilization Investigating a vast range of primary sources some of which are translated here for the first time and focusing on the dynamic influence of the Greek Roman and Arab conquests of the Near East William McCants looks at the ways the conquerors and those they conquered reshaped their myths of civilization s origins in response to the social and political consequences of empire The Greek and Roman conquests brought with them a learned culture that competed with that of native elites The conquering Arabs in contrast had no learned culture which led to three hundred years of Muslim competition over the cultural orientation of Islam a contest reflected in the culture myths of that time What we know today as Islamic culture is the product of this contest whose protagonists drew heavily on the lore of non Arab and pagan antiquity McCants argues that authors in all three periods did not write about civilization s origins solely out of pure antiquarian interest they also sought to address the social and political tensions of the day The strategies they employed and the postcolonial dilemmas they confronted provide invaluable context for understanding how authors today use myth and history to locate themselves in the confusing aftermath of empire

History, Biography, and the Genre of Luke-Acts Andrew W. Pitts, 2019-07-15 Unlike contemporary literary linguistic configurations of genre current methodologies for the study of the Gospel genre are designed only to target genre similarities not genre differences This basic oversight results in the convoluted discussion we witness in Lukan genre study today Each recent treatment of the genre of Luke Acts represents a distinct effort to draw parallels between Luke Acts and a specific or multiple literary tradition s These studies all underestimate the role of literary divergence in genre analysis leveraging much if not all of their case on literary proximity This monograph will show how attention to literary divergence from a number of angles may bring resolution to the increasingly complex discussions of the genre s of Luke Acts

Writing History in Late Modern English Isabel Moskowich, Begoña Crespo, Luis Puente-Castelo, Leida Maria Monaco, 2019-10-09 This volume focuses on the relationship and interaction of language and science between 1700 and 1900 It pays particular attention to English History writing in late Modern English as compiled in the Corpus of History English Texts CHET a newly released sub corpus of the Coru a Corpus of English Scientific Writing The chapters cover methodological issues the period and the status of the discipline itself as well as pilot studies for the description of scientific discourse using CHET They embrace topics in several linguistic fields discourse analysis syntax semantics morpho syntax The studies take into account extralinguistic parameters of texts such as year of publication sex of the author geographical provenance of authors and the communicative formats genres to which the text sample belongs In the particular case of CHET the collected samples can be grouped in eight different categories and such categories as well as the above mentioned metadata information can be used to search the corpus The book is of interest for scholars specialised in corpus linguistics and historical linguistics as well as linguists in general The metadata information used for analysis can also be of interest for historians and historians of science in particular The Corpus of History English Texts CHET accompanied by the Coru a Corpus Tool CCT purpose designed software by IrLab is accessible online at the Repositorio Universidade Coru a at <http://hdl.handle.net/2183/21849> Historicizing Myths in Contemporary India Swapna Gopinath,Rutuja Deshmukh,2023-02-03 This book examines cinematic practices in Bollywood as narratives that assist in shaping the imagination of the age especially in contemporary India It examines historical films released in India since the new millennium and analyses cinema as a reflection of the changing socio political and economic conditions at any given period The chapters in Historicizing Myths in Contemporary India Cinematic Representations and Nationalist Agendas in Hindi Cinemas also illuminate different perspectives on how cinematic historical representations follow political patterns and market compulsions giving precedence to a certain past over the other creating a narrative suited for the dominant narrative of the present From Mughal e Azam to Padmaavat and Bajirao Mastani to Raazi the chapters show how creating history out of myths validate hegemonic identities in a rapidly evolving Indian society The volume will be of interest to scholars of film and media studies literature and culture studies and South Asian studies Not

Ever Absent: Storytelling in Arts, Culture and Identity Formation ,2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2015 Storytelling has always played a central role in the formation of cultures and communities All cultures define themselves and their place in the world through their stories Similarly our identities are largely constructed as narratives and it is with the aid of storytelling that we manage to conceive of ourselves our selves as meaningful wholes Thus storytelling is not ever absent it is to be found in literature social life in the places we visit and the buildings we live in This volume presents storytelling in various appearances from ancient myths and oral history to transmedia narratives and digital stories Different forms of narrative are analysed as is the use of storytelling as a method for e g counselling education and research Throughout twenty five chapters a compelling overview of recent research on the topic is provided both stressing the omnipresence of storytelling and exploring what storytelling is and isn't Max Weber's Vision for

Bureaucracy Glynn Cochrane,2017-08-11 This volume examines Max Weber's pre World War I thinking about bureaucracy It suggests that Weber's vision shares common components with the highly efficient Prussian General Staff military bureaucracy developed by Clausewitz and Helmuth von Moltke Weber did not believe that Germany's other major institutions the Civil Service industry or the army could deliver world class performances since he believed that they pursued narrow selfish interests However following Weber s death in 1920 the model published by his wife Marianne contained none of the military material about which Weber had written approvingly in the early chapters of Economy and Society Glynn Cochrane concludes that Weber s model was unlikely to include military material after the Versailles peace negotiations in which Weber participated outlawed the Prussian General Staff in 1919
