Multimedia and Hypertext Jakob Nielsen, 1995-02-27 Reflecting the changes in the hypertext multimedia market this book includes illustrated examples of a variety of new hypermedia systems particularly those related to the Internet plus many examples of the use of Mosaic and the HTML

Text, ConText, and HyperText Edward Barrett, 1988-01-01 This first synthesis of diverse but related research provides a unique conceptualization of the field of computer writing and documentation

The New Writing Environment Mike Sharples, Thea van der Geest, 2012-12-06 Information technology is changing the way we write Special features such as outliners spelling checkers and graphic facilities have transformed word processors into document processors document processors have in turn integrated with other electronic resources such as e mail and the Internet to provide a complete writing environment The New Writing Environment examines the knowledge that is needed in order to develop use and evaluate computer based writing environments The emphasis is firmly on practical issues tasks performed by writers at work problems they encounter and documents they actually produce Writing is defined within a wide social and organisational context in order to give an accurate assessment of how the new technology affects the social and cooperative aspects of authorship The result is a wide ranging and comprehensive assessment of the relationship between writing and computers

Effective Documentation Stephen Doheny-Farina, 1988 Best Collection of Essays NCTE Awards for Excellence in Technical and Scientific Communication Effective Documentation is a major sourcebook that offers technical writers editors teachers and students of technical communication a wide variety of practical guidelines based on often hard to find research in the usability of printed and electronic media The book's eighteen chapters provide a wealth of material on such topics of current interest as the writing of design manuals research in cognitive psychology as applied to the design of user manuals and the organizing of manuals for hierarchical software systems Included are chapters by such well known scholars in the field as Philip Rubens Robert Krull Judith Ramey and John Carroll Effective Documentation reviews the advice offered by other how to produce usable documentation books describing the different types of usability research and explaining the inherent biases of each type It goes beyond the actual design of textual and or electronic media to look at these designs in context giving advice on effective management good management is a requisite of good writing on the relationship between document design and product design and on how to find out who one's readers really are Advances in the presentation of textual information are explained with suggestions on how to improve the usability of individual sentences and the design of entire books The concluding chapters discuss advances in the design and use of online information and offer valuable insights into the use of graphic information and the development and design of information communicated via electronic media Stephen Doheny Farina is Assistant Professor of Technical Communication at Clarkson University Effective Documentation is included in the Information Systems series edited by Michael Lesk

Expert Systems and Related Topics Marlene A. Palmer, 1990-01-01 This comprehensive reference to all areas of expert systems and applications plus advanced related topics lets you spend your time reading expert systems literature rather than searching for it It gives you a source of historical perspectives and outlooks on the future of the field Whether you are a manager a developer or an end user or researcher Expert Systems and Related Topics Selected Bibliography Guide to Information Sources puts all the sources of expert systems literature at your fingertips Research-based Web Design & Usability Guidelines ,2006 The guidelines were originally designed to help NCI staff improve the presentation of cancer related information to cancer researchers and the public though they are applicable to anyone who designs and manages information web sites Information Seeking in Electronic Environments Gary Marchionini,1995 Significant amounts of our time and energy are devoted to creating managing and avoiding information Computers and telecommunications technology have extended our regard for information and are driving changes in how we learn work and play One result of these developments is that skills and strategies for storing and retrieving information have become more essential and more pervasive in our culture This book considers how electronic technologies have changed these skills and strategies and augmented the fundamental human activity of information seeking The author makes a case for creating new interface designs that allow the information seeker to choose what strategy to apply according to their immediate needs Such systems may be designed by providing information seekers with alternative interface mechanisms for displaying and manipulating multiple levels of representation for information objects Information Seeking in Electronic Environments is essential reading for researchers and graduate students in information science human computer interaction and education as well as for designers of information retrieval systems and interfaces for digital libraries and archives Information Technology and the Law ,1996 Quality of technical documentation ,2021-11-22 User manuals reference guides project documentation equipment specifications and other technical documents are increasingly subjected to high quality standards However it is not clear whether research efforts are keeping pace with this increasing importance of documentation quality This volume includes studies from researchers as well as practitioners exemplifying three approaches towards document quality Product orientation with an eye for usability in various manifestations such as tutorials concept definitions tools for users of documentation to find information methods of eliciting user feedback and cultural differences Process orientation in which the quality of technical documentation is regarded as an outgrowth of a process involving sub steps such as storyboarding pre testing and use of automation tools in writing and producing documents Professional orientation in which attention is focused on those who create technical documentation The volume will be of interest to a broad audience of writers managers and trainers with technical and non technical backgrounds such as quality managers communication managers technical communicators trainers in computer usage teachers researchers and students of technical communication Systems Engineering in Public Administration H.E.G. Bonin,2014-05-23 The complexity of large systems in public administration progresses in terms of both quality and quantity year after year Mastering complex systems is therefore assuming an increasing dominance in this area Learning to master evolving systems needs at least a foundation in science and engineering know how The relationship between the professionals such as system engineers viewing from the outside and the beneficiaries such as public administration officials using the computer systems on the inside is therefore of prime importance if the many problems are to be solved This book does not attempt to provide definitive answers but rather aims to give shape to our visions and ideas and to stimulate further discussion and research
