Southern Railway, Lord Nelson Class 4-6-0s Tim Hillier-Graves, 2020-09-19 The Lord Nelson Class has come to be viewed as an also ran amongst express locomotives and is largely overlooked for that reason It had the misfortune to be sandwiched on Southern metals between the classic and much revered King Arthurs and Schools and by Bullied s controversial Pacifics In such company any design might suffer by comparison And yet when first appearing they attracted plaudits from railway professionals including the footplate crew and the public alike But with only 16 being built their impact was muted and any faults in their design were magnified beyond their actual impact In truth they deserved far better than this and were in fact sturdy reliable performers that served the company well on the heavy boat trains for which they were designed and across their other passenger services for 30 years and more in peace and war Much has been written about these locomotives but no story is ever complete with new information and photographs emerging to deepen our understanding of them This book provides an in depth view that re examines these impressive engines using new material eye witness accounts contemporary assessments and more than 200 photographs and drawings GWR Locomotives: The

Great Western, Grange Class Locomotives David Maidment, 2019-03-30 The renowned British railroad historian delivers a well illustrated account of the rationale behind Collett's construction of this 80 strong class West Somerset Railway Association English railway engineer George Jackson Churchward proposed a 5ft 8in wheeled 4 6 0 for mixed traffic duties in 1901 and it was seriously considered in 1905 but it took until 1936 before his successor Charles Collett realized the plan by persuading the GWR Board to replace many of the 43XX moguls with modern standard mixed traffic engines that bore a remarkable likeness to the Churchward proposal David Maidment has written another in his series of Locomotive Portfolios for Pen enthusiasts for whom these capable machines are favorites will definitely want this volume on the bookshelf Railway Modeller

200 Years of Locomotive Development Richard Marks, 2026-04-28 Since Richard Trevithick's first forays into the development of the steam locomotive Britain's engineers have been at the forefront of railway technology Often innovative and sometimes unfairly maligned the country's locomotive engineers continually broke new barriers in traction technology although not everything was successful From the earliest simple steam locomotives to the latest diesel and electric engines Britain had led the way in railway locomotion although competition from European Japanese and American manufacturers sometimes exceeded what British engineers had achieved In this new book industrial and railway historian Dr Richard Marks provides fresh insights into Britain's role in railway locomotive design and technology and examines the highlights of British developments from Trevithick's Coalbrookdale locomotive to the Brush Class 60 diesel locomotive Based upon new research this useful primer aims to start the reader on a journey of discovery unravelling some of the myths which have arisen around Britain's railway history and explaining in an easy to follow narrative why some potentially advantageous developments failed to live up to expectations In this new survey of 200 years of British locomotive history to accompany the Railway 200 celebrations the reader is presented with a compelling and easy to read introduction to a complex but intriguing subject
