The Hab Theory:

The HAB Theory Allan W. Eckert, 1976 The HAB Theory Allan Wesley Eckert, 1977 The HAB Theory Allan W. Eckert, 1976 Ninety four year old Herbert Allen Boardman embarks on a desperate quixotic course of action to persuade the American government and the international scientific community of an imminent global catastrophe Ionic Soft Matter: Modern Trends in Theory and Applications Douglas Henderson, Myroslav Holovko, Andrij Trokhymchuk, 2006-06-30 Recently there have been profound developments in the understanding and interpretation of liquids and soft matter centered on constituents with short range interactions Ionic soft matter is a class of conventional condensed soft matter with prevailing contribution from electrostatics and therefore can be subject to possible long range correlations among the components of the material and in many cases crucially affecting its physical properties Among the most popular representatives of such a class of materials are natural and synthetic saline environments like aqueous and non aqueous electrolyte solutions and molten salts as well as variety of polyelectrolytes and colloidal suspensions Equally well known are biological systems of proteins All these systems are examples of soft matter strongly influenced if not dominated by long range forces For more than half of century the classical theories by Debye and Hückel as well as by Derjaguin Landau Verwey and Overbeek DLVO have been at the basis of theoretical physical chemistry and chemical engineering The substantial progress in material science during last few decades as well as the advent of new instrumentation and computational techniques made it apparent that in many cases the classical theories break down New types of interactions e.g. hydrodynamic entropic have been discovered and a number of questions have arisen from theoretical and experimental studies Many of these questions still do not have definite answers

The Chicago of Fiction James A. Kaser, 2011-02-01 The importance of Chicago in American culture has made the city's place in the American imagination a crucial topic for literary scholars and cultural historians While databases of bibliographical information on Chicago centered fiction are available they are of little use to scholars researching works written before the 1980s In The Chicago of Fiction A Resource Guide James A Kaser provides detailed synopses for more than 1 200 works of fiction significantly set in Chicago and published between 1852 and 1980 The synopses include plot summaries names of major characters and an indication of physical settings An appendix provides bibliographical information for works dating from 1981 well into the 21st century while a biographical section provides basic information about the authors some of whom are obscure and would be difficult to find in other sources Written to assist researchers in locating works of fiction for analysis the plot summaries highlight ways in which the works touch on major aspects of social history and cultural studies i.e. class ethnicity gender immigrant experience and race The book is also a useful reader advisory tool for librarians and readers who want to identify materials for leisure reading particularly since genre juvenile and young adult fiction as well as literary fiction are included Connective Real K-Theory of Finite Groups Robert Ray Bruner, John Patrick Campbell Greenlees, 2010 This book is about equivariant real and complex topological K theory for finite groups Its main focus is on the study of real connective K theory including ko BG as a ring and ko_BG as a module over it In the course of their study the authors define equivariant versions of connective KO theory and connective K theory with reality in the sense of Atiyah which give well behaved Noetherian uncompleted versions of the theory They prove local cohomology and completion theorems for these theories giving a means of calculation as well as establishing their formal credentials In passing from the complex to the real theories in the connective case the authors describe the known failure of descent and explain how the eta Bockstein spectral sequence provides an effective substitute This formal framework allows the authors to give a systematic calculation scheme to quantify the expectation that ko BG should be a mixture of representation theory and group cohomology It is characteristic that this starts with ku BG and then uses the local cohomology theorem and the Bockstein spectral sequence to calculate ku_BG ko BG and ko_BG To give the skeleton of the answer the authors provide a theory of ko characteristic classes for representations with the Pontrjagin classes of quaternionic representations being the most important Building on the general results and their previous calculations the authors spend the bulk of the book giving a large number of detailed calculations for specific groups cyclic quaternion dihedral A_4 and elementary abelian 2 groups The calculations illustrate the richness of the theory and suggest many further lines of investigation They have been applied in the verification of the Gromov Lawson Rosenberg conjecture for several new classes of finite groups This book is about equivariant real and complex topological K theory for finite groups Its main focus is on the study of real connective K theory including ko BG as a ring and ko_BG as a module over it In the course of their study the authors define equivariant versions of connective KO theory and connective K theory with reality in the sense of Atiyah which give well behaved Noetherian uncompleted versions of the theory They prove local cohomology and completion theorems for these theories giving a means of calculation as well as establishing their formal credentials In passing from the complex to the real theories in the connective case the authors describe the known failure of descent and explain how the eta Bockstein spectral sequence provides an effective substitute This formal framework allows the authors to give a systematic calculation scheme to quantify the expectation that ko BG should be a mixture of representation theory and group cohomology It is characteristic that this starts with ku BG and then uses the local cohomology theorem and the Bockstein spectral sequence to calculate ku_BG ko BG and ko_BG To give the skeleton of the answer the authors provide a theory of ko characteristic classes for representations with the Pontrjagin classes of quaternionic representations being the most important Building on the general results and their previous calculations the authors spend the bulk of the book giving a large number of detailed calculations for specific groups cyclic quaternion dihedral A_4 and elementary abelian 2 groups The calculations illustrate the richness of the theory and suggest many further lines of investigation They have been applied in the verification of the Gromov Lawson Rosenberg conjecture for several new classes of finite groups
