Berger, 2025-03-25 A deeply moving exploration of the relationship between thinking and drawing from the author of the groundbreaking Ways of Seeing The seventeenth century philosopher Baruch Spinoza aka Bento spent the most intense years of his short life writing He also carried with him a sketchbook After his sudden death his friends rescued letters manuscripts notes but no drawings For years without knowing what its pages might hold John Berger has imagined finding Bento's sketchbook wanting to see the drawings alongside his surviving words When one day a friend gave him a beautiful virgin sketchbook Berger said This is Bento's and he began to draw taking inspiration from the philosopher's vision In this beautifully illustrated book Berger uses the imaginative space opened up in this experiment to explore politics storytelling Spinoza's life and times and the process of drawing itself The Souls' Painter Manuel Tristante // Patricia

Gómez, 2018-10-28 He had lived the same situation several times with many other people and although it seemed to be the same he did not get used to it The first tear of the soul was already on the canvas It was only a matter of days Since ever Jeremiah's vocation had been to translate the reality helping himself of the painting and the drawing However his parents had never supported him in this facet Suddenly one day his life changed when a man nicknamed as The Mad Musician appeared in a market to make him see his talent as an artist that he had inside With his gifts Jeremiah presented himself to be the painter of the King's Court in a multitudinous contest. Despite the greatness of the prize the young painter realized that his talent was not enough for the monarch to be satisfied. This led him to invoke someone older than the world, a dark entity with whom he had never wanted to dream, putting in danger not only his own existence but also that of his loved ones. His wailings would be useless since evil was capable of using anyone in order to achieve its goal. Of agile reading where the past and the present are magically intertwined, the historical and the fictitious, the real and the invented. Bel n Mart n Reader

Sketchbook Timothy O'Donnell, 2011-09. This book explores influential designers' sketchbooks as a truer reflection of a designer's thought processes, preoccupations, and problem-solving strategies than can be had by simply viewing finished projects. Highly personal and idiosyncratic sketchbooks offer an arena for unstructured exploration, a space free from all budgetary and client constraints. Visually arresting objects in their own right, this book aims to elevate sketches from mere ephemera to important documents where the reader can glean valuable insight into the creative process and apply it to their own practices. Featured designers include Ralph Caplan, Nigel Holmes, Chris Bigg, Eva Jiricna, Jason Munn, Gary Baseman, Marian Bantjes, and many others.

The Sketchbook War Richard Knott, 2013-06-01. During the Second World War, British artists produced over 6,000 works of war art, the result of a government scheme partly designed to prevent the artists being killed. This book tells the story of nine courageous war artists who ventured closer to the front line than any others in their profession: Edward Ardizzone, Edward Bawden, Barnett Freedman, Anthony Gross, Thomas Hennell, Eric Ravilious, Albert Richards, Richard Seddon, and John Worsley. All travelled abroad into the dangers of war to chronicle events by painting them. They formed a close bond, yet two were torpedoed, two were taken prisoner, and three died. Two in 1945 when peacetime was at hand. Men who had previously made a comfortable living painting in studios were transformed by military uniforms and experiences that were to shape the rest of their lives, and their work significantly influenced the way in which we view war today. Portraying how war and art came together in a moving and dramatic way and incorporating vivid examples of their paintings, this is the true story behind the war artists who fought, lived, and died for their art on the front line of the Second World War.
