Slow Food Carlo Petrini, Ben Watson, Slow Food Editore, 2001-10-01 Remember the days before the dot com explosion before Golden Arches rose from the Great Plains before the Age of Information when the only commodity that wasn't in short supply in America was time Time to relax and reflect time to cook well eat well and live the life of sustainable hedonism Today we pound down our Big Mac and fries as we check our e mail on our collective Palm Pilots at the expense of true nourishment for our bodies and souls Enough says Carlo Petrini the founder of Slow Food International a movement that encourages us to turn down the volume unplug the answering machine and enjoy life to its fullest Away with nutraceutical soft drinks and breakfast cereals made from refined sugar and shaped like clowns Bring back the pleasure of the palate and return the humanity to food More than 60 000 members worldwide now belong to the Slow Food movement which believes that the slow shall inherit the earth Slow Food Collected Thoughts on Taste Tradition and the Honest Pleasures of Food is an anthology for cooks gourmets and anyone who is passionate about food and its impact on our culture Drawn from five years of the quarterly journal Slow only recently available in America this book includes more than 100 articles covering eclectic topics from Falafel to Fat City From the market at Ulan Bator in Mongolia to Slow Food Down Under this book offers an armchair tour of the exotic and bizarre You'll pass through Vietnam's Snake Tavern enjoy the Post Industrial Pint of Beer and learn why the lascivious villain in Indian cinema always eats Tandoori Chicken The articles are contributed by some of the world's top food writers Slow Food is moving fast in North America with more than 5 000 members loosely organized into 55 Convivia from Montreal to San Francisco benefiting from enormous free publicity Slow Food offers a clear alternative to the fast food nation the title of Eric Schlosser's great book on the horrors of the fast food biz This is a perfect follow up to Joan Dye Gussow's This Organic Life and is proof positive that he or she who lives slow lives best Slow Food Carlo Petrini, Benjamin Watson, 2001 Remember the days before the dot com explosion before Golden Arches rose from the Great Plains before the Age of Information when the only commodity that wasn't in short supply in America was time Time to relax and reflect time to cook well eat well and live the life of sustainable hedonism Today we pound down our Big Mac and fries as we check our e mail on our collective Palm Pilots at the expense of true nourishment for our bodies and souls Enough says Carlo Petrini the founder of Slow Food International a movement that encourages us to turn down the volume unplug the answering machine and enjoy life to its fullest Away with nutraceutical soft drinks and breakfast cereals made from refined sugar and shaped like clowns Bring back the pleasure of the palate and return the humanity to food More than 60 000 members worldwide now belong to the Slow Food movement which believes that the slow shall inherit the earth Slow Food Collected Thoughts on Taste Tradition and the Honest Pleasures of Food is an anthology for cooks gourmets and anyone who is passionate about food and its impact on our culture Drawn from five years of the quarterly journal Slow only recently available in America this book includes more than 100 articles covering eclectic topics from Falafel to Fat City From the market at Ulan Bator in Mongolia to Slow Food Down Under this book offers an armchair tour of the exotic and bizarre You'll pass through Vietnam's Snake Tavern enjoy the Post Industrial Pint of Beer and learn why the lascivious villain in Indian cinema always eats Tandoori Chicken The articles are contributed by some of the world's top food writers Slow Food is moving fast in North America with more than 5 000 members loosely organized into 55 Convivia from Montreal to San Francisco benefiting from enormous free publicity Slow Food offers a clear alternative to the fast food nation the title of Eric Schlosser's great book on the horrors of the fast food biz This is a perfect follow up to Joan Dye Gussow's This Organic Life and is proof positive that he or she who lives slow lives best Qualities of food Mark Harvey, Andrew McMeekin, Alan Warde, 2018-07-30 In this book the complexity and the significance of the foods we eat are analysed from a variety of perspectives by sociologists economists geographers and anthropologists Chapters address a number of intriguing questions how do people make judgments about taste How do such judgments come to be shared by groups of people what social and organisational processes result in foods being certified as of decent or proper quality How has dissatisfaction with the food system been expressed What alternatives are thought to be possible The multi disciplinary analysis of this book explores many different answers to such questions The first part of the book focuses on theoretical and conceptual issues the second part considers processes of formal and informal regulation while the third part examines social and political responses to industrialised food production and mass consumption Qualities of food will be of interest to researchers and students in all the social science disciplines that are concerned with food whether marketing sociology cultural studies anthropology human nutrition or economics An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence

The Politics of Actually Existing Unsustainability John Barry, 2012-02-23 At the level of developing a progressive and critical theoretical understanding of unsustainability it argues for the importance of integrating vulnerability which has been largely neglected by both mainstream western political theory and analyses of the current global ecological crisis It suggests that valuable insights into the causes of and alternatives to unsustainability can be found in a critical embracing of human vulnerability and dependency as both constitutive and ineliminable aspects of what it means to be human Rather than seeing invulnerability as the appropriate response the book defends resilience and the ability to cope with rather than solve vulnerability as more productive Alice Waters and Chez Panisse Thomas McNamee, 2007-03-22 The first authorized biography of the mother of American cooking The New York Times This adventurous book charts the origins of the local market cooking culture that we all savor today When Francophile Alice Waters opened Chez Panisse in Berkeley in 1971 few Americans were familiar with goat cheese cappuccino or mesclun But it wasn't long before Waters and her motley coterie of dreamers inspired a new culinary standard incorporating ethics politics and the conviction that the best grown food is also the tastiest Based on unprecedented access to Waters and her inner circle this is a truly delicious rags to riches saga

Learning the Language of the Fields Daniel G. Deffenbaugh, 2006-12-25 Deffenbaugh calls us to live in a reciprocal relationship with our biotic communities the plants animals and other non human cultures that share our particular places in the world By rerooting our global lifestyles in the ecological knowledge of our homes we may truly begin to mend the health of our planet Deffenbaugh marries Christian theology and spiritual disciplines with Native American mythology and the practice of organic gardening to deepen our engagement with the places in which we live Food Lit Melissa Brackney Stoeger,2013-01-08 An essential tool for assisting leisure readers interested in topics surrounding food this unique book contains annotations and read alikes for hundreds of nonfiction titles about the joys of comestibles and cooking Food Lit A Reader s Guide to Epicurean Nonfiction provides a much needed resource for librarians assisting adult readers interested in the topic of food a group that is continuing to grow rapidly Containing annotations of hundreds of nonfiction titles about food that are arranged into genre and subject interest categories for easy reference the book addresses a diversity of reading experiences by covering everything from foodie memoirs and histories of food to extreme cuisine and food expos s Author Melissa Stoeger has organized and described hundreds of nonfiction titles centered on the themes of food and eating including life stories history science and investigative nonfiction The work emphasizes titles published in the past decade without overlooking significant benchmark and classic titles It also provides lists of suggested read alikes for those titles and includes several helpful appendices of fiction titles featuring food food magazines and food blogs The Political

Global Sustainable Practices in Gastronomic Tourism Rana, Varinder Singh,Raina, Ashish,Bathla, Gaurav,2024-12-02 Developing sustainable practices in gastronomic tourism is essential for creating a responsible and impactful travel experience As travelers become conscious of their environmental and social impact the culinary tourism sector prioritizes sustainability at every stage This includes promoting local ingredients supporting small scale producers and minimizing food waste while also celebrating cultural heritage through authentic culinary experiences Gastronomic tourism enhances the visitor experience while contributing to the preservation of local ecosystems and communities Further research into gastronomic tourism is necessary to promote multi stakeholder cooperation between local communities companies NGOs and governments for improved sustainability of culinary tourism Global Sustainable Practices in Gastronomic Tourism explores sustainability principles in relation to culinary tourism including its effects on the environment society and economy It examines how sustainable tourism practices incorporate gastronomic heritage emphasizing the value of maintaining regional food systems and culinary customs This book covers topics such as conservation and preservation social media and waste management and is a useful resource for hospitality and tourism professionals economists environmental scientists marketers business owners academicians and researchers Cultural Studies and Anti-Consumerism Sam Binkley,Jo Littler,2014-02-25 Anti consumerism has become a conspicuous part of contemporary activism and popular culture from culture jams and actions against Esso and Starbucks through the downshifting and voluntary simplicity movements the rise of ethical consumption and organic and the high profile of films and books like Supersize Me and No Logo A rising awareness of labor conditions in overseas plants the environmental impact of intensified consumer lifestyles and the effects of neo liberal privatization have all stimulated such popular cultural opposition However the subject of anti consumerism has received relatively little theoretical attention particularly from cultural studies which is surprising given the discipline's historical investments in extending radical politics and exploring the complexities of consumer desire This book considers how the expanding resources of contemporary cultural theory might be drawn upon to understand anti consumerist identifications and practices how railing against the social and cultural effects of consumerism has a complex past as well as present and it pays attention to the interplays between the different movements of anti consumerism and the particular modes of consumer culture in which they exist In addition as well as using cultural studies to analyse anti consumerism it also asks how such anti consumerist practices and discourse challenges some of the presumptions and positions currently held in cultural studies This book was previously published as a special issue of Cultural Studies

Creativity Under Duress in Education? Carol A. Mullen, 2018-11-09 Creativity Under Duress in Education introduces a new framework creativity under duress in education Leading creativity researchers and educational scholars discuss creative theory and practice from an educational lens that is provocative Across international contexts this book combines insights from creativity and educational research rich illustrations from classrooms schools and other professional settings and practical ideas and strategies for how anyone invested in education can support creative teaching and learning Readers will encounter diverse perspectives from an international cast of authors exploring cutting edge ideas for creativity and innovation as a foremost priority for economies in the new millennium At the same time they consider forces of authority control and constraint that impact creative education and innovation within educational systems extending to the professions Educators and those interested in the future of education are vitally important to this conversation around research based and practical analyses of creativity in and beyond the classroom Addressed are these major issues 1 creativity frameworks of theory and action in education 2 research investigations into creativity and education and 3 applications of creativity theory in real world practice Dynamic this book presents a bridge between draconian contexts of assessment and explosive creativity in diverse places A key contribution of the volume is its validation and promotion of creativity and innovation for students teachers professors leaders employers policymakers and others seeking ways to profoundly improve learning and transform education In tackling the seemingly irreconcilable issues of creativity and accountability in K 12 institutions higher education and policy circles worldwide this work offers a message that is both cautionary and inspiring Book editor Carol A Mullen PhD is Professor of Educational Leadership at Virginia Tech Virginia USA A twice awarded Fulbright Scholar to China 2015 and Canada 2017 she was honored with the 2016 Jay D Scribner Mentoring Award from the University Council for Educational Administration

She is author of Creativity and Education in China 2017 and co editor of Education policy perils 2016 The Face on Your Plate Jeffrey Moussaieff Masson, 2010-04-26 It s a challenge to create transformative moments with books but Masson does it Susan Salter Reynolds Los Angeles Times In this revelatory work Jeffrey Moussaieff Masson shows how food affects our moral selves our health and our planet Masson investigates how denial keeps us from recognizing the animal at the end of our fork and urges readers to consciously make decisions about food Tasting Tourism: Travelling for Food and Drink Priscilla Boniface, 2017-03-02 Along with basic practical reasons our practices concerning food and drink are driven by context and environment belief and convention aspiration and desire to display in short by culture Similarly culture guides how tourism is used and operates This book examines food and drink tourism as it is now and is likely to develop through a cultural lens It asks what is food and drink tourism and why have food and drink provisions and information points become tourist destinations in their own right rather than remaining among a number of tourism features and components While it offers a range of international examples the main focus is on food and drink tourism in the UK What with the current diversification of tourism in rural areas the increased popularity of this type of tourism in the UK the series of BSE vCJD and foot and mouth crises in British food production and the cultural and ethnic fusion in British towns and cities it makes a particularly rich place in which to explore this subject The author concludes that the future of food and drink tourism lies in diversity and distinctiveness In an era of globalisation there is a particular desire to enjoy varied rather than mono cultural ambiance and experience She also notes that there is an immediacy of gratification in food and drink consumption which has become a general requirement of contemporary society Around the Tuscan Table Carole M. Counihan, 2004-05-09 In this delicious book noted food scholar Carole M Counihan presents a compelling and artfully told narrative about family and food in late 20th century Florence Based on solid research Counihan examines how family and especially gender have changed in Florence since the end of World War II to the present giving us a portrait of the changing nature of modern life as exemplified through food and foodways The Routledge Companion to Alternative and Community Media Chris Atton, 2015-05-15 The Routledge Companion to Alternative and Community Media provides an authoritative and comprehensive examination of the diverse forms practices and philosophies of alternative and community media across the world The volume offers a multiplicity of perspectives to examine the reasons why alternative and community media arise how they develop in particular ways and in particular places and how they can enrich our understanding of the broader media landscape and its place in society The 50 chapters present a range of theoretical and methodological positions and arguments to demonstrate the dynamic challenging and innovative thinking around the subject locating media theory and practice within the broader concerns of democracy citizenship social exclusion race class and gender In addition to research from the UK the US Canada Europe and Australia the Companion also includes studies from Colombia Haiti India South Korea and Zimbabwe enabling international comparisons to be made and also allowing for the problematisation of traditional
