Sir Owen Williams, 1890-1969 David Cottam, Sir Owen Williams, Stephen Rosenberg, 1986 Owen Williams David Yeomans, David Cottam, 2001 Be honest first and if you are honest you will be beautiful but do not attempt to be beautiful and dishonest Sir Owen Williams Sir Owen Williams influence on architecture of the first half of the twentieth century stemmed from a demonstration of what a functionalist approach to architecture could achieve Blurring the roles of engineer and architect during the period between the wars Williams produced a series of innovative reinforced concrete buildings whose aesthetic treatment depended upon an expression of their structures Dr Williamson, Dr Pearse and the Pioneer Health Centre Justin De Syllas, 2025-07-28 The unique story of the Peckham Experiment a local social welfare project in London with huge ambition The Other Modern Movement Kenneth Frampton, 2022-01-25 A revealing new look at modernist architecture emphasizing its diversity complexity and broad inventiveness Usually associated with Mies and Le Corbusier the Modern Movement was instrumental in advancing new technologies of construction in architecture including the use of glass steel and reinforced concrete Renowned historian Kenneth Frampton offers a bold look at this crucial period focusing on architects less commonly associated with the movement in order to reveal the breadth and complexity of architectural modernism The Other Modern Movement profiles nineteen architects each of whom consciously contributed to the evolution of a new architectural typology through a key work realized between 1922 and 1962 Frampton's account offers new insights into iconic buildings like Eileen Gray's E 1027 House in France and Richard Neutra's Kaufmann House in Palm Springs California as well as lesser known works such as Antonin Raymond's Tokyo Golf Club and Alejandro de la Sota's Maravillas School Gymnasium in Madrid Foregrounding the ways that these diverse projects employed progressive models advanced new methods in construction techniques and displayed a new sociocultural awareness Frampton shines a light on the rich legacy of the Modern Movement and the enduring potential of the unfinished modernist project Driving Spaces Peter Merriman, 2011-07-22 Peter Merriman traces the social and cultural histories and geographies of driving spaces through an examination of the design construction and use of England's M1 motorway in the 1950s and 1960s A first of its kind academic study examining the production and consumption of the landscapes and spaces of a British motorway An interdisciplinary approach engaging with theoretical and empirical work from sociology history cultural studies anthropology and geography Contains 38 high quality illustrations Based on extensive original archive work Pioneering Health in London, 1935-2000 David Kuchenbuch, 2018-10-25 The Peckham Experiment conducted between 1935 and 1950 in the London Pioneer Health Centre was one of the most talked about social experiments of the 20th century Families from the South London neighbourhood of Peckham were invited to use the facilities of a radiantly modern building They were encouraged to freely choose and organize their leisure activities taking advantage of a swimming pool a gymnasium and a self service cafeteria In doing so both their health status and interaction with other members of the nascent centre community were closely observed by a team of physicians The first research monograph on the history of the experiment building on archival sources this book combines a micro historical perspective with methods from the history of science It shows how bio medical holism and evolutionary theories typical of the interwar years informed research on social life in the centre But it also reveals that the guinea pigs too were trying to make sense of the research they were taking part in The outcome was an ambiguous social laboratory that generated new insights into the power of social groups to self organize which were soon discussed all over the world and continue to haunt British political debates today

Stephen,2013-09-19 This much needed study of the British Empire Exhibition reveals durable persistent connections between empire and domestic society in Britain during the interwar years It demonstrates that the Exhibition was a marker of how by 1924 imperial relations were increasingly likely to be shaped by forces located on the colonial periphery Heathrow Ian Anderson,2014-03-15 From 1946 until the present day Heathrow has been a building site as the airport has grown to cope with the demands of being London s main airport Ian Anderson takes us on a history of the airport showing us the development of one of the world s busiest airports The Architectures of Childhood Roy Kozlovsky,2016-03-16 Between 1935 and 1959 the architecture of childhood was at the centre of architectural discourse in a way that is unique in architectural history Some of the seminal projects of the period such as the Secondary Modern School at Hunstanton by Peter and Alison Smithson Le Corbusier s Unit d Habitation at Marseilles or Aldo van Eyck s playgrounds and orphanage were designed for children At CIAM architects utilized photographs of children to present their visions for reconstruction The unprecedented visibility of the child to architectural discourse during the period of reconstruction is the starting point for this interdisciplinary study of modern architecture under welfare state patronage Focusing mainly on England this book examines a series of innovative buildings and environments developed for children such as the adventure playground the Hertfordshire school the reformed children hospital Brutalist housing estates and New Towns It studies the methods employed by architects child experts and policy makers to survey assess and administer the physiological emotional and developmental needs of the user the child It identifies the new aesthetic and spatial order permeating the environments of childhood based on endowing children with the agency and autonomy to create a self regulating social order out of their own free will while rendering their interiority and sociability observable and governable By inserting the architectural object within a broader social and political context The Architectures of Childhood situates post war architecture within the welfare state s project of governing the self which most intensively targeted the citizen in the making the children Yet the emphasis on the utilization of architecture as an instrument of power does not reduce it into a mere document of social policy as the author uncovers the surplus of meaning and richness of experience invested in these environments at the historical mom postcolonial cities in Africa Colonial Architecture and Urbanism explores the intersection between architecture and urbanism as discursive cultural projects in Africa Like other colonial institutions such as the courts police prisons and schools that were crucial in establishing and maintaining political domination colonial architecture and urbanism played a pivotal role in shaping the spatial and social structures of African cities during the 19th and 20th centuries Indeed it is the cultural destination of colonial architecture and urbanism and the connection between them and colonialism that the volume seeks to critically address The contributions drawn from different interdisciplinary fields map the historical processes of colonial architecture and urbanism and bring into sharp focus the dynamic conditions in which colonial states officials architects planners medical doctors and missionaries mutually constructed a hierarchical and exclusionary built environment that served the wider colonial project in Africa
