Better World was the main theme for WCCE 2009. The conference highlights and explores different perspectives of this theme covering all levels of formal education as well as informal learning and societal aspects of education. The conference was open to everyone involved in education and training. Additionally, players from technological, societal, business, and political fields outside education were invited to make relevant contributions within the theme Education and Technology for a Better World. For several years, the WCCE World Conference on Computers in Education has brought benefits to the fields of computer science and computers and education as well as to their communities. The contributions at WCCE include research projects and good practice presented in different formats from full papers to posters, demonstrations, panels, workshops, and symposiums. The focus is not only on presentations of accepted contributions but also on discussions and input from all participants. The main goal of these conferences is to provide a forum for the discussion of ideas in all areas of computer science and human learning. They create a unique environment in which researchers and practitioners in the fields of computer science and human learning can interact, exchanging theories, experiments, techniques, applications, and evaluations of initiatives supporting new developments that are potentially relevant for the development of these fields. They intend to serve as reference guidelines for the research community.

VET Boost: Towards a Theory of Professional Competencies, 2009-01-01

The themes of the different papers in this book are related to five major areas of research. First, the book presents the work on a large scale assessment in vocational and occupational education and training. Reason was the work of Frank Achtenhagen and his colleagues on the preparation of a VET PISA which started in 2004 which has now become more and more a concrete program. The contributions to this part of the book contain a project description and profound presentations and discussions of measurement and evaluation problems. It reflects also the work of Achtenhagen with respect to item response theory, measurement, and testing. The second part of this book presents a unique endeavour of promoting VET research. The Swiss Federal Office for Professional Education and Technology OPET initiated a program of Leading Houses of VET which are dedicated to different important research topics. This program might serve as example for comparable approaches in other countries. The third part highlights central issues of research on learning processes, curriculum theory, and the use of technology. Here the work of Achtenhagen on competence profile modelling, competence measurement, and instructional and curriculum designing is touched. The fourth part stresses social and emotional learning as important aspects of VET learning. The fifth part considers the political and institutional dimensions of VET research which have to be taken into account when an international large scale assessment of VET shall be getting started. Achtenhagen's work on learning at work, leaning in economics, and learning under the conditions of institutional modelling are discussed. The whole book is a collection of central issues around a field that is not yet taken enough into consideration in educational research but pushed and supported by Frank Achtenhagen. VET research. He belongs to the founding fathers of it and this is why precisely the book reflects new trends and new concepts with respect to the question: What can we educational psychologists and educational researchers learn from a rich and central research field Writing First with Readings Laurie G. Kirsznar, Stephen R. Mandell, 2005-09-28 Writing First teaches the basics of writing and grammar in the context of students own writing Along with a comprehensive treatment of the process of writing paragraphs and essays it helps students develop the fundamental writing skills they need to succeed in college and beyond By providing students with more help in the areas they most need it grammar ESL and high stakes test taking the third edition of Writing First better addresses the realities of the developmental writing course Resources for Teaching Middle School Science
