The Quest for Fitness Mark Michaels, 2000-12 The Quest for Fitness A rational exploration into the new science of organizations follows the tradition of Frederick Taylor and W Edwards Deming by rationally applying scientific principles and processes to understanding the nature of organization The book recognizes that the environment has changed drastically since Taylor applied Newtonian principles to describe the industrial organization The synthesis forces the reader to change his her view from considering how an organization can be created to take control of its environment to how one can be created to survive over time in a changing environment The Quest for Fitness leaves the reader with a vision of organizations as complex adaptive organisms striving to stay fit on an ever changing landscape There is an ongoing search to optimize one s position in an uncharted wilderness Survival is not dependent upon the strongest but upon the ability to adapt as the landscape changes The leaders of such organizations are no longer commanders but explorers who create network infrastructures enabling information to be received integrated and shared throughout the organization so that individual parts can best respond to immediate conditions without the total system flying apart Complex Adaptive Leadership Nick Obolensky, 2024-11-01 Since its publication Complex Adaptive Leadership has become a Gower bestseller that has been taught in corporate leadership programmes business schools and universities around the world to high acclaim In this updated paperback edition Nick Obolensky argues that leadership should not be something only exercised by nominated leaders It is a complex dynamic process involving all those engaged in a particular enterprise The theoretical background to this lies in complexity science and chaos theory spoken and written about in the context of leadership for the last 20 years but still little understood We all seem intuitively to know leadership isn't what it used to be but we still cling to old assumptions which look anachronistic in changing and challenging times Nick Obolensky has practised researched and taught leadership in the public private and voluntary sectors In this exciting book he brings together his knowledge of theory his own experience and the results of 19 years of research involving 2 500 executives in 40 countries around the world The main conclusion from that research is that the more complex things become the less traditional directive leadership is needed Those operating in the real world nonetheless need ways of coping The book is focused on helping practitioners struggling to interpret and react to increasingly VUCA Volatile Uncertain Complex Ambiguous times The book will particularly appeal to practitioners wishing to improve their leadership effectiveness as well as for students and researchers in the field of leadership Fair and Effective Enforcement of the Antitrust Laws, S. 1874 United States.
