Technological Decisions And Democracy European Experiments In Public Participation:

Public Participation in Science Simon Joss, John Durant, 1995 The call for increased public involvement in the formulation of science and technology policy has resulted in the consensus conference an initiative which involves lay people in the assessment of socially sensitive topics This book draws together the pioneering experiences of the Danish Dutch and British organisers of consensus conferences as well as offering a scheme developed at a multinational two day workshop in 1995 in London for producing comparable data for the evaluation of consensus conferences Technological decisions and democracy Dorothy Nelkin, 1977 Public Participation and Better Environmental Decisions Frans H. J. M.

Coenen, 2008-12-12 Public Participation and Better Environmental Decisions is about a specific promise that participation holds for environmental decision making Many of the arguments for public participation in inter national environmental policy documents are functional that is to say they see public participation as a means to an end Sound solutions to environmental problems require participation beyond experts and political elites Neglecting information from the public leads to legitimacy questions and potential conflicts There is a discourse in the literature and in policy practice as to whether decision making improves in quality as additional relevant information by the public is considered The promise that public participation holds has to be weighed against the limitations of public participation in terms of costs and interest conflicts The question that Public Participation and Better Environmental Decisions seeks to answer for academics planners and civil servants in all environmental relevant policy fields is What restricts and what enables information to hold the promise that public participation lead to better environmental decision making and better outcomes Technological Decisions and Democracy Dorothy Nelkin, 1977-10 Using data from European experiments permitting the public to help determine the usage of technological innovation Dorothy Nelkin provides information on a process involving difficult social choices She examines the question of whether the public should be entitled to a say in determining the impact of technological processes on their daily lives She details individual government efforts to promote broader public participation in decision making The book will be of value to all those concerned with the social and policy dimensions of science and technology Professor Nelkin's essay is written with the clarity and precision characteristic of her earlier writings Apart from its value as a summary of information not read Elgar Encyclopedia of Science and Technology Studies Ulrike Felt, Alan Irwin, 2024-10-03 This Encyclopedia provides a comprehensive overview of the expanding field of science and technology studies STS Covering key frameworks themes and topics Ulrike Felt and Alan Irwin bring together expert contributors to map the development of STS within its historical and intellectual context Parliaments and Technology Norman J. Vig, Herbert Paschen, 2000-01-01 The first comparative analysis of the development and practice of technology assessment in different national settings Risk In The Technological Society Chris Hohenemser, Jeanne X Kasperson, 2019-06-26 In this book representatives of government industry universities and public interest groups consider the emerging art of risk assessment and discuss the issues and problems involved They look at two failures in technological risk management Three Mile Island and Love Canal examine the dimensions of technological risk tackle the difficult question of how safe is safe enough and offer a set of research priorities Social Impact Assessment And Monitoring Michael J Carley,Eduardo Bustelo,2019-05-28 This systematic critical review of more than 600 recent publications in social impact assessment SIA and related fields is based on the authors belief that SIA is more than an analytical technique it is also a logical and timely response to our ever growing need for more and better information to facilitate decision making in an increasingly c Negotiated Rulemaking Sourcebook David M.
