Blazing the Path Chima Anyadike, Kehinde A. Ayoola, 2012 Blazing the Path Fifty Years of Things Fall Apart is a collection of new perspectives on Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart a novel that was first published in 1958 and which has since become a classic of world literature Aside from opening up the novel to new interpretive strategies of well established literary critics and clarifying some past ones this collection of essays repositions Things Fall Apart as a literary piece with interdisciplinary and multidimensional appeal The volume fulfills the objective of using the novel to interrogate the colonial and pre colonial African past with Nigeria's post modern present and projects the country into a future that looks to literature for a deeper understanding of where Nigeria is as a citizen of an emerging global village

What Is a Classic? Ankhi Mukherjee, 2013-11-13 What Is a Classic revisits the famous question posed by critics from Sainte Beuve and T S Eliot to J M Coetzee to ask how classics emanate from postcolonial histories and societies Exploring definitive trends in twentieth and twenty first century English and Anglophone literature Ankhi Mukherjee demonstrates the relevance of the question of the classic for the global politics of identifying and perpetuating so called core texts Emergent canons are scrutinized in the context of the wider cultural phenomena of book prizes the translation and distribution of world literatures and multimedia adaptations of world classics Throughout Mukherjee attunes traditional literary critical concerns to the value contestations mobilizing postcolonial and world literature The breadth of debates and topics she addresses as well as the book's ambitious historical schema which includes South Asia Africa the Middle East the West Indies Australia New Zealand Europe and North America set this study apart from related titles on the bookshelf today

The Frame and the Mirror Thomas P. Brockelman, 2001 If the postmodern is a collage as some critics have suggested or if collage is itself a kernel of the postmodern what does this mean for our way of understanding the world The Frame and the Mirror uses this question to probe the distinctive character of the postmodern situation and the philosophical problem of representation Brockelman's work is itself a collage of sorts using juxtapositions of critics and art historical figures to conduct a debate between such figures as Karsten Harries Gianni Vattimo Rosalind Krauss Immanuel Kant Jean Francois Lyotard Slavoj Žižek and Le Corbusier about issues such as truth in art perspectivism theatricality the sublime psychoanalytic theory politics and urbanism More than an introduction to the postmodern The Frame and the Mirror advances our understanding of the contemporary world by relating its features to the peculiar characteristics of collage Ultimately Brockelman shows how collage demands that we reinterpret modernity conceiving of it as suspended between a loss of certainty and a new kind of knowledge about the human condition In doing so his work challenges many of the claims made in the name of postmodernism and offers in their place a new and ironic view of the cultural space in which contemporary and historical events occur set is to bring together in a convenient format information about the world's more significant theater companies. Articles are grouped by continent or region and are arranged alphabetically by country within these area groups. The People's Republic of China is not covered. Area editors and contributors identified in volume 2 were selected for their specialized knowledge of theater in the area about which they write. Articles include information concerning a company's history, philosophy, performing style, location, facilities, and future plans. For some areas, e.g., India and Japan, rather extensive background on theatrical traditions is also provided. For information in English about outstanding theater companies in most countries, this is likely to be a standard. Theodore O. Wohlsen Jr., Connecticut State Lib., Hartford Library Journal. The Literary Digest, 1916.

Theatre Companies of the World Colby H. Kullman, William C. Young, 1986 The purpose of this

The Pocket magazine of classic and polite literature. [Continued as] The Pocket magazine, 1824 Digest; Review of Reviews Incorporating Literary Digest, 1916. Dictionary of World Literary Terms, Joseph T. Shipley, 2024-05-01. First published in 1970. Dictionary of World Literary Terms brings together in one volume authoritative definitions of literary terms, forms, and techniques, figures of speech, and detailed notes on the history and development of the literatures and literary movements of the world. Arranged in alphabetical order for easy use, the entries range from anti-hero to zeugma, from classicism to the New Criticism, and from esoteric or archaic terms to contemporary theatre and poetry. This book will be indispensable for writers, students, scholars, researchers, librarians, and everyone who has a literary curiosity.

The School World, 1906. The Sorrows of Satan (Horror Classic), Marie Corelli, 2018-12-21. This eBook edition of The Sorrows of Satan, Horror Classic, has been formatted to the highest digital standards and adjusted for readability on all devices. Geoffrey Tempest, a penniless starving author so poor that he is behind on his rent and can barely afford light in his room. One day he receives three letters. The first is from a friend in Australia who has made his fortune and offers to introduce him to a good friend who might be able to lift him from poverty. The second is a note from a solicitor detailing that he has inherited a fortune from a deceased relative. The third is a letter of introduction from a foreign aristocrat called Lucio who befriends him and proceeds to be his guide in how best to use his newfound wealth. Tempest remains blissfully unaware despite warnings from people he meets that Lucio is the earthly incarnation of the Devil.
