Brown,2025-07-01 Originally published posthumously in 1980 this book centres on 5 British poets Geoffrey Hill Philip Larkin Jon Silkin Thom Gunn and Charles Tomlinson and on the emergence in postwar British poetry of double lyrics poems which have according to the author become two persons two ways of expressing and attending critically in dramatic divisive conflict The nature and significance of the double lyric is first demonstrated by close readings of Silkin's Defence Tomlinson's Prometheus and Hill's In Piam Memoriam Further chapters focus on the impressive poems which have arisen out of the stress between ideological commitment and imaginative realization in Silkin's work the conflict between intuition and perception in the poetry of Tomlinson and the split between the texture of Gunn's language and the non verbal experience evoked in his poems Finally Merle Brown presents the last phase of F R Leavis collaborative literary and cultural criticism as strikingly close to the poetic achievements of Hill Silkin Tomlinson and Gunn William Wye Smith Scott A. Anthologies of British Poetry, 2021-11-22 From Tottel's Miscellany 1557 to the last twentieth century Oxford Book of English Verse 1999 anthologies have been a prime institution for the preservation and mediation of poetry The importance of anthologies for creating and re-creating the canon of English poetry for introducing new programmes of poetry as a record of changing poetic fashions audience tastes and reading practices or as a profitable literary commodity has often been asserted Despite its impact however the poetry anthology in itself has attracted surprisingly little critical interest in Britain or elsewhere in the English speaking world This volume is the first publication to explore the largely unmapped field of poetry anthologies in Britain Essays written from a wide range of perspectives in literary and cultural studies and the point of view of poets editors publishers and cultural institutions aim to do justice to the typological functional and historical variety with which this form of publication has manifested itself from early modern print culture to the postmodern age of the world wide web

Religion and Poetry in Medieval China Gil Raz, Anna Shields, 2025-10-01 This volume of interdisciplinary essays examines the intersection of religion and literature in medieval China focusing on the impact of Buddhism and Daoism on a wide range of elite and popular literary texts and religious practices in the 3rd-11th centuries CE. Drawing on the work of the interdisciplinary scholar Stephen Bokenkamp, the essays weave together the many cross-currents of religious, intellectual, and literary traditions in medieval China to provide vivid pictures of medieval Chinese religion and culture as it was lived and practiced. The contributors to the volume are all highly regarded experts in the fields of Chinese poetry, Daoism, Buddhism, popular religion, and literature. Their research papers cut across imagined disciplinary boundaries to show that the culture of medieval China can only be understood by close reading of texts from multiple genres, traditions, and approaches.
